Republicans Exceed Combined Opponents' Strength in Fifty-three Counties.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 22.—Fifty-three counties have reported registration of voters to Secretary of State Jordan for the month of January, and the totals compiled show that the Republican aggregate is larger than that of all other parties combined and only 36,000 behind that of them who did not state party affiliation, including those counties which did not allow party registration.

The total registration is 304,893, and of the number 102,758 are Republicans, 48,864 Democrats, 13,577 "Progressives," 8642 Socialists and 8004 Prohibitionists. The number of those giving no party affiliation amounts to 122,848.

The ratio of Republicans to "Progressives" is about eight to one or nine to one throughout the entire state. In no county do the "Progressives" challenge either of the two old parties for numerical supremacy, and in only thirteen comparatively unimportant counties do the

NO HEADLIGHTS ON LOCOMOTIVES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DENVER, Feb. 22.—Official recognition has been given the San Luis Central Railroad Company as the one railroad in Colorado which may have headlightless locomotives and switches without lights. Recognition of this right was given in an order issued today by the State Public Utilities Commission. The company operates trains only between sun-up and sun-down. If it complied with the switch light law, its train crew, outbound from Monte Vista to Center, Colo., in the morning, would have to stop the train at every switch to extinguish the lights, while on their way back to Monte Vista in the evening they would have to light the switch lamps for no purpose at all, because there could be no accidents at night when there are no trains moving. The headlight law applies to railroads sixteen miles or more in length. The mileage of the San Luis Central Railroad is only fifteen miles.

GERMAN RAIDERS IN SOUTHERN SEAS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—Officers of the French line steamer La Fayette, which arrived here today from Bordeaux, reported that wireless warning was reported February 14 when she was two days out telling of German commerce raiders on southern sea lanes. Warning was first received from some unknown ship telling that she was being chased by a raider.

A news cable received here two days ago said the French liner Chicago reported on her arrival at Bordeaux having been chased by a German commerce raider.

COMMENT ON THE SITUATION.

The Russians are still pressing the Turks hard in Armenia. Constantinople, in its first official statement concerning the reverse to the Turkish arms at Erzerum, says the retirement to positions west of the fortress took place after the Turks had destroyed positions to the east of Erzerum and also fifty old cannon which they could not take with them. Denial is made that the Russians captured 1000 cannon and 80,000 prisoners. A semi-official report from Berlin says the Senussi tribesmen from Western Egypt have captured several towns and are approaching the Nile River Valley. Again the Bulgarians and French have come in contact on the Graeco-Serb frontier. The Bulgarians were forced to retire after a lively engagement, leaving a half dozen prisoners in the hands of the French. Lord Robert Cecil, British Undersecretary for Foreign Affairs, is considered as likely to be given the portfolio of Blockade Minister, the government having decided to create this new portfolio in the Cabinet, and place full responsibility for the blockade of Germany and matters connected with the British orders in council in the hands of a single individual.

Gen. Obregon is to be married today. Meanwhile, the United States government is sending J. Linn Rodgers of Columbus, O., American Consul at Havana, to Mexico to act as special agent of the United States to the de facto Mexican government pending confirmation of Henry Prather Fletcher as Ambassador to Mexico.

WHITLOCK MAY LAND

His Opposition to Prussian Militarism Said to be a Recommendation.

Moreover, Washington Would not be Surprised if the Tip Were Correct.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, Feb. 22.—From a reliable source it has been learned that Brand Whitlock, American Minister to Belgium, is under consideration for Secretary of War of the United States and that President Wilson, after consultation with his advisers at home and abroad, is likely to offer the succession to Lindley M. Garrison in that office to the Minister.

Such a selection, it is believed here, would cause a sensation from the point of view of international politics. Mr. Whitlock's name in certain ways has come to be identified with the spirit of opposition to Prussian militarism, despite the fact that the "correctness" of his diplomatic conduct has been beyond criticism.

A well-informed American here said today that while possibly there might be some disposition in Germany to look upon Mr. Whitlock's nomination to a Cabinet post as an indication of a pro-ally sentiment, which a section of the German press alleges to actuate President Wilson, the German government could not possibly advance any tenable justification of such a view.

WHITLOCK IN FAVOR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 22.—London dispatches reaching Washington tonight that Brand Whitlock, Minister to Belgium, was under consideration by President Wilson for Secretary of War, caused little surprise.

It was stated at the White House tonight that if the President has Mr. Whitlock in mind for this position he has given no intimations of the fact. It would not be unlikely, however, for the President to make the selection. Mr. Whitlock, it is known, is held in high esteem by the President and his advisers. His handling of the difficult Belgium situation won for Mr. Whitlock praise at home and abroad. His visit here last December for a rest developed his popularity in this country, it is said.

Mr. Whitlock at that time was mentioned prominently as a candidate with President Wilson on the next Democratic national ticket. Since then it seems to be assured that Vice-President Marshall will be again the running mate with President Wilson. President Wilson may wish to add to his Cabinet the strength Mr. Whitlock would give it, the State of Ohio not being represented at the present time in the Cabinet or in any of the highest administrative and executive offices.

FLOOD RENDERS PEOPLE DESTITUTE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW ORLEANS (La.) Feb. 22.—Six hundred residents of Oak Grove, La., near the Arkansas line, sent a petition to Gov. Hall tonight declaring the people of that section had been rendered "entirely destitute" by the Mississippi flood and asking immediate assistance.

A desperate fight is being made to keep the water out of the business section of Rayville, in Richland parish. A break in the protecting levee there was reported to have inundated the residence section.

Reports from flooded sections in Louisiana said that rapid strides were being made in relieving the distress of the victims.

FARMERS OPPOSE PREPAREDNESS PLAN.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Feb. 22.—The Farmers' Association of America, a temporary organization which opened a three days' meeting here yesterday with the idea of combining all farmers' organizations, is against the preparedness of the extreme militarists. Instead, the association is preparing a resolution to the President and Congress, demanding the preparedness of better highways, improved rivers and better distribution of food products so that in case of war the government would be equipped to feed the army.

DECLARES THE WEST FAVORS PREPAREDNESS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PRINCETON (N. J.) Feb. 22.—President Hibben of Princeton University addressed a large number of graduates at their luncheon today in honor of the alumni day celebration.

He stated that he found that the West was fully as enthusiastic for military preparedness as the East is, although he noted the lack of war news in western newspapers.

Mr. Hibben praised the strength of the State college in education in the West.

His Confirmation Seems Assured.

Louis D. Brandeis,

Named as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court by President Wilson, who will probably take his seat shortly, as the opposition to his appointment seems to have died away. It is predicted sixty-two Senators will vote for the Hub lawyer to take a place in the highest judicial tribunal in the world.

Radical.

WILSON NOT WORRYING AT FATE OF APPOINTEE.

Witnesses Who Were Relied upon to Give Testimony Regarding Unfitness of Brandeis for Associate Justice of Supreme Court Have Failed to Appear and the Outlook for Confirmation now Seems More Hopeful.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 22.—With the hearings by the Senate committee into the fitness of Louis D. Brandeis to occupy a seat on the Supreme Court of the United States scheduled to be resumed Thursday indications tonight are that the investigation is near an end and that with its close the confirmation of Mr. Brandeis by the Senate will have been assured. Some of the witnesses expected to testify against him have failed to appear.

UNCERTAINTY FELT.

There is some uncertainty as to how the subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee, now taking testimony, will report on the nomination. Even the full committee may be divided on the advisability of permitting Mr. Brandeis to be confirmed. Despite the attitude of the committee, it is asserted, even by Brandeis's opponents in the Senate, that once the nomination comes to a vote he will win and with votes to spare.

A recent poll taken is said to have assured Mr. Brandeis of the support of sixty-two Senators, which is more than enough to win confirmation.

Persons in close touch with the White House say the President is not worrying over the fate of his appointee. It is said Mr. Wilson feels confident that a vote will demonstrate that a big majority of the Senate is with him in the appointment. Even the most rabid opponent of Mr. Brandeis does not hope to prevent confirmation. The most that can be expected, if such a thing is possible, is an indefinite postponement of the case, and this is considered hardly probable.

HEARING IS ADJOURNED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Attorneys for Boston protestants against confirmation of Louis D. Brandeis as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court failed to appear today when the Senate subcommittee met to continue its investigation of the nomination and the hearing was adjourned.

Austen G. Fox, representing the protestants, told the committee last Friday that he would provide today a summary of the charges he expected to prove and a list of witnesses he wanted examined.

The committee today summoned several witnesses to testify Thursday and Friday. At the suggestion of Fox, made last week, Mark Sullivan and Ellmore C. Patterson of Collier's Weekly and Waddill Catchings of J. P. Morgan & Co., were expected to appear Thursday. On the same day William S. Youngman and Charles F. Choate, Jr., of Boston, attorney, mentioned in previous testimony will be examined, and on Friday, William J. Kelly of Brooklyn, also an attorney, will testify.

Sullivan and Patterson were summoned because of suggestions that their publication paid Mr. Brandeis for appearing as attorney for Louis R. Glavis in the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation. Youngman was an attorney in the Warren will case, and Choate and Kelly were employed in the New England Railroad litigation.

TO CONTROL LAKE SHIPPING.

Organization of Great Company is Effected in New York.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—Organization of the Great Lakes Transit Company to control 85 per cent. of the passenger packet freight and grain steamships navigating the Great Lakes was announced here tonight by Levy Mayer of Chicago, general counsel of the company, on behalf of W. J. Connors of Buffalo, who was elected chairman of the board of directors. The company's fleet will comprise thirty-five vessels, with a freight capacity of 150,000 tons. These are steamers that six railroad companies were compelled to relinquish under the section of the Panama Canal Act forbidding rail lines to own competing water routes.

The capitalization of the company, it was announced, will be $20,000,000. Tariffs for through rail and water east and west-bround traffic will be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission by April 1. The new rates, it was stated, will not differ from those which prevailed before lake navigation closed last December.

ARGENTINE ACCEPTS WARSHIPS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, Feb. 22.—The Argentine republic today notified the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation of its acceptance of the superdreadnaughts Rivadavia and Moreno, which were built in this country. It was stated that both warships had fulfilled satisfactorily the year of active service required by the contract.

WILSON'S U-BOAT POLICY SPLITS THE DEMOCRATS

Congress May Pass a Law to Keep Americans Off Belligerent Ships.

Mystery of the President's Conference with Party Leaders at the White House Explained—Executive Uses Personal Influence to Prevent Discussion of Foreign Affairs on the Floor of the Senate.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 22.—President Wilson is facing a revolt on the part of certain Democratic Senators in connection with his policy toward Germany. This was revealed today by Senators who discussed the foreign situation of the United States with the participants in the White House conference last night.

It developed that Mr. Wilson had gone thoroughly into the situation with Senator Stone, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee; Senator Kern, leader of the majority in the Senate, and Representative Flood of Virginia, chairman of the House Foreign Relations Committee.

The conference was sought by Senator Stone, who learned that combination had been formed under the leadership of Senators Hoke Smith of Georgia and Gore of Oklahoma, to pass the Gore bills prohibiting Americans from traveling on belligerent merchantmen and denying clearances to vessels carrying such passengers.

Mr. Wilson believed that in view of the importance of the matter it was advisable to consult Senator Kern and Mr. Flood. The discussion which took place covered the entire subject of the relations of the United States with Germany and other belligerents, the dangerous situation which would arise out of the enforcement of the new submarine decree of the central powers and the necessity of defending the administration's foreign policies before the American people.

WILSON'S PROBABLE COURSE.

From all that can be learned, it was made clear to the Senators that:

1. President Wilson is considering and probably will send a note to the central powers protesting against the decrees they have issued and serving notice that if any Americans are drowned as a result of the unwarned sinking of an unresisting merchantman, whether armed or unarmed, drastic action will be taken by the United States.

2. President Wilson will continue to insist upon the right of Americans to travel on belligerent merchantmen, whether unarmed or armed for defensive purposes.

3. Congress shall not pass a resolution directing the President to treat armed merchantmen as auxiliary cruisers.

4. Congress shall not pass a resolution forbidding Americans to travel on belligerent merchant ships.

5. Democratic leaders in Congress shall make speeches in answer to those of Col. Roosevelt and ex-Senator Root.

President Wilson's attitude with reference to Americans traveling on belligerent armed merchantmen is by no means satisfactory to Senators Stone and Kern and Congressman Flood; but they have perforce acquiesced in it "for the present," as one of them remarked. It was their view, and so they advised the President, that in order to prevent trouble with Germany it was desirable to follow the example of Sweden and cause American citizens to refrain from voyaging on vessels which under the decrees of the central powers effective March 1 will be subject to destruction without warning.

RESOLUTIONS IN SENATE.

They pointed out there are pending in the Senate two resolutions which were introduced by Senator Gore, prohibiting the issuance of passports to Americans to travel on belligerent ships, punishing such Americans and the master of the vessel if this prohibition should be violated and depriving all Americans guilty of the violation, of the protection of their government. President Wilson made it clear if the Gore bills were passed he would veto them. Moreover he does not concede any necessity for Congressional action in view of the power he possesses to regard armed merchantmen as auxiliary cruisers and to treat them as such. The President related the history of the negotiations with the allies for the disarming of merchantmen and the anticipation of the result by the central powers in the decrees which they issued. He also referred to his decision not to permit an agreement in the Lusitania case, on the ground that it would form a precedent to which the Berlin government might appeal on the next occasion when a liner with Americans on board was destroyed.

Because the President is informed of every phase of the complex situation which exists through reports from Col. House and the American diplomats in Europe and because inter-

AIR RAID OVER LOMBARDY REPORTED BY AUSTRIANS.

Aerodrome and Docks of Desenzano are Struck by Shells Dropped by Aeroplanes—French Gunners Bring Down a Zeppelin at Rovigny and the Entire Crew of Twenty-two Men is Found Burned to Death.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Feb. 22 (via Sayville, N. Y.)—Air raids over Lombardy, with damage reported at points attacked by the aviators, are announced by Austro-Hungarian army headquarters in today's official statement, received here today.

The statement says:

"There have been lively artillery combats on the Isonzo front, especially near Plava.

"An Austro-Hungarian air squadron attacked factories in Lombardy. Two aeroplanes advanced as far as Milan for reconnoitering purposes. Another aid squadron attacked the aerodrome and docks of Desenzano on Lake Garda. In some instances hits scored on objects of attack were observed in both enterprises. All the aeroplanes returned safely in spite of heavy artillery fire."

ZEPPELIN BROUGHT DOWN.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Feb. 22.—The entire crew of the Zeppelin airship brought down by French guns near Brabant le Roi yesterday, twenty-two in number, perished, according to a Havas dispatch from Bar le Duc.

The Zeppelin was brought to earth by the first shot from an automobile-mounted cannon at Rovigny, the dispatch adds.

The Zeppelin was one of the latest model, according to the advices, being of the marine type and numbered L-Z 77. Another Zeppelin was following it fifteen kilometers behind when the French gunners began to fire.

The crew of the second Zeppelin, witnessing the destruction of the L-Z 77, turned their airship sharply and proceeded in another direction.

The presence of the Zeppelin was announced between 8:30 and 8:45. It fought against the wind and advanced slowly. As soon as it was within range the cannonade began. Two shells burst in the rear of the dirigible, while an incendiary projectile seemed to tear across the Zeppelin, igniting the right side of the craft.

The fire was soon sweeping along the entire length of the airship. It burned steadily, no report from an explosion being heard. Little by little it came down, lighted up by flaming pieces of the envelope which became detached.

In touching the earth the bombs which the Zeppelin carried exploded.

An enormous crowd of persons who had hastened across the country from all directions gathered, while the roads were filled with automobiles on their way to the scene. Those who arrived on the ground found nothing but the debris of the air craft, among which lay from twenty to thirty bodies.

RISING FLOODS CHECKED BY COLD IN NEBRASKA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OMAHA (Neb.) Feb. 22.—Temperatures throughout Nebraska, ranging from eight to ten degrees lower tonight, acted as a check to rising rivers and temporarily, at least, no further damage from ice and flood is expected. Late reports indicated the Platte and Elkhorn rivers presented the most serious menace. On the Elkhorn, near Gretna, Neb., 700 acres of farm lands have been flooded, several farmers forced to abandon their homes and live stock is endangered.

Liberal use of dynamite has saved railroad bridges but the ice floes have swept scores of county wagon bridges away and a number of farm houses have been destroyed. Forces of men are kept continually at work dynamiting the ice gorges near railroad bridges. A quick thaw, it is said, will endanger, if not destroy, some of the bridges.

Railroad traffic was impeded today by the weakening of the Rock Island roadbed at South Bend and the destruction of a few feet of the Burlington track there, but no further damage has been reported.

Y. for the free booklet on "Diseases of the Nervous System" and get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from the nearest drug store. Begin the treatment at once. You can tell when the tonic action of the pills is helping you because your appetite will pick up and what you eat will not distress you. As the rich, red blood reaches every part of the body the feeling of weakness and depression disappears and you know that you are taking the right treatment.

Some people can hardly avoid neurasthenia. They are born with a tendency to it. But, by building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills this tendency may be overcome and the condition corrected. Pin your faith to this treatment and stop worrying. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be sent by mail, postpaid, at 50 cents per box; six boxes $2.50.

NO STOMACH PAIN, GAS, INDIGESTION IN FIVE MINUTES

"Really does" put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that—just that — makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing — almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin will give you a hundred dollars' worth of satisfaction or your druggist hands you your money back.

It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach regulator in the world.

MAHLON D. THATCHER.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PUEBLO (Colo.) Feb. 22.—Mahlon D. Thatcher, Pueblo millionaire banker, died this morning. He was 76 years old. Death was due to a general breakdown.

Thatcher was born near Gettysburg, Pa., December 6, 1839. With his brother, John A., who died in 1913, he conducted a general store when Pueblo was little more than a trading post. In 1871, with a few hundred dollars' capital, the Thatcher brothers organized the First National Bank, which developed into one of the largest banking houses in the West.

Besides being president of the First National, Thatcher was interested in many Colorado banks and in the National Bank of Commerce of Kansas City. He was connected with the development of the sugar-beet industry and the water-power development in Nevada and California. His estate is estimated by close friends at from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000.

A widow, one son, Mahlon D., Jr., and three daughters, Mrs. Lydia Wheeler and Mrs. Lucia Waller of Chicago, and Mrs. Ada Huntzinger of New York, survive.

HENRY WALLACE DEAD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DES MOINES (Iowa) Feb. 22.—Henry Wallace, 80 years old, publisher of a farm journal here and a member of the Roosevelt Country Life Commission, dropped dead in the First Methodist Church here tonight while attending a meeting of the Iowa Laymen's Missionary Movement. Death is believed to have resulted from heart disease.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

If peevish, feverish and sick, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.

NINE KILLED ON NEW HAVEN.

Disregard of a Cautionary Signal Responsible.

Many Yale Graduates Caught Beneath the Wreckage.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MILFORD, (Ct.) Feb. 22.—Disregard of a cautionary signal probably was responsible for a rear-end collision on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad near here today, in which eight persons lost their lives and fully fifty were injured, according to Charles C. Elwell of the Connecticut Public Utilities Commission. The State's investigation already is under way, but inasmuch as four railroad employees, the most important witnesses, were killed, it will be difficult to fix responsibility, Mr. Elwell said.

Two passengers, a man and a woman, were killed instantly when a local train running at forty miles an hour crashed into the rear of the Greenfield express which had been stalled because of a broken air hose. Two other passengers died in hospitals to which they were taken.

The dead:

W. R. CURTIS, engineer.

GEORGE L. TOURTELETTE, flagman, Merrick, Mass.

MISS SUSAN B. HYLAND, New Haven.

EDWARD M'GINNIS, fireman.

Man, passenger believed to be Maduros der Hovhanssian.

One employee, as yet unidentified.

JOSEPH J. FRYE, Springfield, Mass., porter, died in hospital tonight.

Identification of one body as that of Maduros der Havhanssian was not certain tonight. There is a student at Yale of that family name. In the clothing was a letter from Albert Arman, No. 1022 North Utah street, Baltimore, in regard to a shipment of pearls. A graduate of the Yale School of Religion last year of the same name is said to be pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian Church, Syracuse, N. Y.

Word came tonight from Bridgeport that Gen. E. S. Greely of New Haven, one of the few surviving brigade commanders of Connecticut troops in the Civil War, is believed to be dying from his injuries.

OFFICIAL THEORY.

The official theory of the accident is that the engineer of the local disregarded or failed to see the cautionary signal, and could not make his brakes hold when he came in sight of the danger signal.

One of the heroes of the wreck was George L. Tourtellette, flagman, sent back from the stalled train, who stood in the path of the approaching local, frantically waving his red flag, until escape was impossible and he was killed under the engine wheels.

Both trains were well filled with passengers. Among the injured were many Yale graduates returning to New York after attending alumni day at New Haven. Several of them have been prominent as athletes. On the local were several members of the Sons of the American Revolution, who were on their way to Bridgeport to attend a dinner.

NEW COMPLICATION.

A freight train passing on another track as the express and local collided, complicated the wreck. Shattered coaches hurled against the box cars derailed them and the cars of all three trains were piled up. Passengers were buried underneath heaps of splintered wood and twisted iron. The boiler of the local's locomotive exploded. The bodies of the enginemen were found underneath the wreckage.

LANE AS ARBITER OF OUR DESTINY.

SECRETARY MAY DICTATE ALL FUTURE LEGISLATION.

Idaho Representative Makes Serious Suggestion that California Member of Cabinet Give One Day Each Week to Consider Bills Which Affect Pacific Slope.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 22.—To make the best of the matter of the present domination over all legislation by Cabinet officers, it was seriously proposed at a meeting of the California Society tonight to recognize Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior, practically dictator of all western legislation.

The suggestion came from Representative Addison Smith of Idaho. He said that most of the legislation now in Congress has to do with western matters. For various political reasons the eastern Congressmen refuse to act in these matters. They pass all the bills up to the Secretary of the Interior and do whatever he says to do. So much of this legislation is now before the Secretary of the Interior that he does not pretend to pass on it personally. The result is that legislation meaning almost life or death to the West is decided by clerks in the department.

SMITH'S VIEW.

Congressman Smith said it was no use to deplore the condition. To make the best of it is the only way open. He suggested that Secretary Lane be requested to set aside one day in the week when he will receive western Congressmen in a body and personally listen to the bills that they wish to have passed by Congress. It will be a sort of king's audience. The suggestion seemed so good that it will be adopted. In order to further it a new western society will be formed.

Inasmuch as the whole representation of all the Western States combined is only two-thirds that of the State of Pennsylvania alone, it is no use to try to force anything past Lane since the eastern Democrats have decided to make him dictator.

ANCIENT LITIGATION BROUGHT TO CLOSE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EAST LAS VEGAS (N. M.) Feb. 22.—Litigation extending over forty years and involving the late Senator Stephen B. Elkins, Benjamin Butler and others, was terminated, it was announced today, by the sale of the Mora land grant, comprising 24,000 acres in New Mexico, for $47,000. The purchasers are the State Investment Company of Las Vegas and F. B. Wheeler, representing the Butler estate.

FORBIDDEN DRUG FOUND ON DOCTOR.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Feb. 22.—Dr. F. B. Jones, proprietor of a sanatorium at Sanatorium, Cal., was arrested today at the gang plank of a steamer just arrived from Vancouver and lodged in the City Jail. In his pockets were found 114 phials of a drug whose importation is forbidden and which Dr. Jones said he purchased in British Columbia for use in his sanatorium.

CHURCH OWNS SANATORIUM.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

ST. HELENA, Feb. 22.—Dr. F. B. Jones, reported under arrest at Seattle, is the assistant superintendent of St. Helena Sanatorium, near here, maintained by the Church of the Seventh Day Adventists. Dr. Jones left here a week ago, but the purpose of his trip was not known here.

St. Helena Sanatorium is a large institution which cares for about 200 patients. It is patterned after the parent institution at Battle Creek, Mich.

PLACES AN EMBARGO ON PERISHABLE GOODS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—An embargo against freight shipments of all but perishable goods to Galveston for water transportation from there was said today by Southern Pacific Company officials to be effective on that road and on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway. Shortage of bottoms was given as the reason.

FIRE DAMAGES POWDER PLANT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN LORENZO (Cal.) Feb. 22.—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed one of the five drying units of the Trojan Powder Works here today and caused probable fatal burns to Byron Byard. The property damage was placed at $1200.

This was the third similar fire in eight months, officials said. Prior to July, 1915, there were no fires at the plant for four years.

The plant manufactures blasting powder exclusively and company officials said there was no reason why agents of any of the belligerents should seek to destroy the plant.

LUMBER PLANT BURNS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

TACOMA (Wash.) Feb. 22.—Fire, thought to have been incendiary, destroyed the plant of the Johnson Creek Lumber Company, seven miles from Rainier, with a loss of from $50,000 to $70,000, Saturday night. The mill, which had not been operated for more than a year, is in an isolated district.

OLD MAN KNOCK BURIED AT SEA.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—"General gloom" encased in a casket labeled "noc-no-more" in the form of a gigantic hammer, was buried at sea today from the steamer Bear by optimists. The spirit of pessimism was received here by a funeral cortege organized by the Rotary Club after having undergone many burial ceremonies in other cities since the coffin was started for the Pacific by the Rotary Club of Syracuse, N. Y.

EARTHQUAKE ROCKS THE NORTHERN COAST.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

BELLINGHAM (Wash.) Feb. 22.—An earthquake that appears to have been confined to Northwestern Washington and Southwestern British Columbia was felt here at 3:40 o'clock this morning. Houses were rocked, bric-a-brac was rattled and in one instance in this city the foundation of a house was cracked. The shock lasted only a few seconds, but was unusually violent.

NEW MORMON TEMPLE.

President Smith on Way to Hawaii to Lay Cornerstone of Edifice.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OAKLAND, Feb 22.—President Joseph F. Smith and Presiding Bishop Charles W. Nibley of the Church of Jesus Christ Latter Day Saints arrived here from Salt Lake today on their way to the Hawaiian Islands, where they will lay the cornerstone of a $100,000 Mormon temple.

They will sail tomorrow from San Francisco on the liner Matsonia. The site of the new temple, said President Smith, is at Laie, thirty miles from Honolulu. The Mormon church, he said, had 9000 members in the Island Territory.

TONG VICTIM DIES.

Wong Ching Expires as Result of Wounds Inflicted in Gun Fight.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Feb. 22.—Wong Ching, member of the Bing Kung tong, who was riddled by bullets fired, it is alleged, by Hop Sing tongmen yesterday, died at a hospital here early today. A delegation of Bing Kung tong men from San Francisco arrived early today and took quarters at an uptown hotel. They are on the ground to look after the interests of their faction, and it is presumed that peace negotiations will be inaugurated.

KILLS WIFE AND SELF.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—Mrs. Laura Chauncey was shot through the heart and killed today as she stood before her mirror dressing for a holiday excursion, and her husband, Charles, a teamster, out of employment, shot himself in the head and died soon afterward. He was 64 and she was 44. The shooting followed a quarrel, according to their daughter, Mrs. Lorenzo Hansen, who called on them today with their little grandchild.

NEWLANDS RIVER BILL INDORSED.

Sacramento Flood Control Project is Favored.

Five Millions Available for Our Coast Waterways.

Acreage Along the Colorado to be Made Productive.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—The Newlands-Broussard river improvement bill was indorsed here today at the closing session of the special rivers congress of the Inland Waterways association of California. The congress also indorsed the Sacramento flood control project as planned by State engineers, and stamped with approval the plan for the control of floods in Southern California by the diversion of the San Gabriel river into Alamitos Bay.

M'CLATCHY OPPOSES IT.

V. S. McClatchy of Sacramento, member of the State Reclamation Board, opposed the Newlands bill in its present form because of its effect on California water projects.

George H. Maxwell of Los Angeles said the bill offered the only feasible plan for control of floods in the Colorado basin. The bill, as now drawn, provides for annual appropriations of $60,000,000 for ten years, $5,000,000 to be spent annually on the Colorado problem and $5,000,000 on Pacific Coast waterways.

He suggested the construction of low dams or weirs along the course of the Colorado so that in flood times the rising waters would be diverted through these weirs at certain intervals and let through canals to the main channel.

MR. MAXWELL'S VIEW.

"Five million acres of the most fertile lands bordering the Colorado River," Mr. Maxwell said, "could be made highly productive if the vegetable silt which now clogs the headgates of the Imperial Valley irrigation system could be spread over them.

"The Colorado River could be controlled at Yuma and Laguna Dam under the plan of the Newlands-Broussard bill, as if it were drawn from a faucet. No levee system would be made safe. To carry out the plan outlined in the bill as amended would not cost nearly that much.

"As for the Gila River, it could be controlled before it reaches the Colorado.

"If we are going to have conservation and flood control we will have to rid ourselves of our narrow, sectional community viewpoints. This has been the curse of the West. Broad measures are necessary. They are weak politically and what we must do is rise above pork-barrelism. The various agencies must co-ordinate instead of cutting each other's throats in Congress.

"We must overcome the present system of army engineers' and pork-barrel methods of Congress in framing our conservation and flood control problems."

NEUTRAL ON LOCATION.

NEWLANDS RIVER BILL INDORSED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TACOMA (Wash.) Feb. 22.—Approximately $100,000 loss was caused today by a fire starting in some rubbish in the big department store of the Northwestern Improvement Company at Roslyn, a coal mining town, according to advices received here tonight. It was necessary for the firefighters to use dynamite to get at the blaze, which was a difficult one to subdue because of burning oil and dense smoke. C. W. Swab, manager of the store, was overcome by smoke when he discovered the blaze and attempted to put it out.

In the building were the real and personal tax rolls of Kittitas county, which had been brought in the day before by Miss Maud Gilmont, County Treasurer of Kittitas, who was on the ground to collect taxes. These rolls and those of the company were rescued. Many fuse caps and much oil were stored in the building, but an explosion was averted.

NAMES RODGERS SPECIAL AGENT.

Consul at Havana to Act at Carranza's Capital.

Will Serve Until Ambassador Fletcher is Confirmed.

Ohio Man is Said to be Fitted for the Work.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—James Hamilton Rodgers, Consul-General at Havana, has been selected to act as special agent of the State Department representing the United States for the Carranza de facto government pending confirmation by the Senate of Henry Prather Fletcher, as Ambassador to Mexico. Mr. Rodgers will leave Havana immediately for Washington to confer with President Wilson and Secretary Lansing before taking over his new task.

It is understood that Consul John K. Silliman, who has been serving as special agent and traveling with Gen. Carranza, most of the time, since the overthrow of Huerta, will be transferred to the consulate at Guadalajara, one of the important consular posts in Mexico.

The decision to send the Consul-General to take charge of the diplomatic interests of the United States was reached when it became apparent that there would be considerable delay in establishing an Ambassador at the seat of Carranza's government. Mr. Fletcher, whose nomination has been held up in the Senate since December 11, still is at his post as Minister to Chile and it probably will be several months before he can assume the new office, even though confirmation is voted without much further delay.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee meets tomorrow to consider the Fletcher nomination and there is every indication that the Republican members, while still dissatisfied with President Wilson's explanation of the recognition of Carranza, will not continue opposing confirmation.

Mr. Rodgers is regarded by State Department officials as particularly well qualified to handle the trouble-some questions which are constantly arising in the government's relations with Mexico. He is a native of Columbus, O., and has been in the consular service since 1905, when he was appointed Consul-General at Shanghai. He was sent to Havana in 1907.

BISHOP BREWSTER ACCEPTS MAINE JOB.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Me.) Feb. 22.—The Rev. Benjamin Brewster, missionary bishop of Western Colorado, in a letter received today, accepted his election as bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Maine.

Atlanta Newspaper Woman Ends Her Life in New York.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—Mrs. Estelle Gober Baker, 36 years old, an Atlanta (Ga.) newspaperwoman, killed herself tonight by leaping from the ninth story of a studio building in which her sister, Mrs. Garrett Boyd, has an apartment. She had been suffering for some time from nervous trouble.

Mrs. Boyd was at dinner with her two children when she was informed of the suicide. She told the police she had left her sister playing the piano in the living-room, the windows of which she had taken the precaution to lock.

FARMERS IN GLAD RAGS.

Secretary of Interior State will Also Hold "Dress-up" Week.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SALINA (Kan.) Feb. 22.—"Dress-up" week for Kansas was set for the week beginning March 27, by the Kansas Retail Clothiers' Association which opened its annual meeting here today. The organization plans to make the week an annual event. The association adopted resolutions urging Congress to pass the pending bill for a high tariff on foreign dyes, in an effort to encourage the manufacture of dyestuffs in the United States, and thanks the American clothing industry for its independent of foreign producers.

LARGE LUMBER YARD BURNS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BAY CITY (Mich.) Feb. 22.—The International Mill and Lumber Company's plant was destroyed tonight by fire of undetermined origin. The loss is placed at $250,000.

Henry P. Fletcher,

Recently appointed as American Ambassador to Mexico, and whose confirmation is expected today in the Senate.

GEN. OBREGON IS TO BE MARRIED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

GALVESTON (Tex.) Feb. 22.—Gen. Alvaro Obregon, who has been one of Carranza's favorite fighters, left Manzanillo today for Hermosillo, where he is to be married, according to information reaching the Mexican Consulate here today.

The surrender of Gen. Novoa, a Zapata leader with 200 men, is reported. It is also said that Francisco Lagos Chazaro has offered to surrender with his forces.

VILLA FOLLOWERS CUT OFF GARRISON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Feb. 22.—Cut off and menaced by a strong force of Villa followers, the de facto government garrison at Guerrero, Western Chihuahua, has sent an urgent appeal to the Carranza commander at Madera for assistance.

"We are far from other help, but intend to resist to the last," was the message sent to Gen. Bertani at Madera yesterday afternoon and which was relayed to Juarez last night.

Eighty meters of the telephone line between Guerrero and Minaca is down and there is little chance of the beleaguered garrison receiving assistance from that quarter.

ILLINOIS MAN ESCAPES BANDITS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Feb. 22.—Friends of George E. Huskey, former proprietor of a restaurant here, received a message from him saying he had escaped from Mexican bandits and had arrived in El Paso, Tex. According to a letter received here recently, Huskey was taken prisoner by bandits in Sonora and held for ransom.

PLATT RIVER FLOOD TAKES OUT BRIDGE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

LINCOLN (Neb.) Feb. 22.—Nearly 250 feet of the new wagon bridge across the Platt River at Louisville, Neb., was swept out early today by the ice and high water. The river is rising rapidly a short distance above Louisville, where an ice gorge has formed and is threatening damage to surrounding farm lands and property.

At South Bend, five miles west of Louisville, the water and ice have swept out a few feet of the Burlington tracks and the Rock Island roadbed has been weakened. Trains of the Rock Island between Omaha and Lincoln have been routed over the Burlington line.

Reports received here today indicate that the water is rising rapidly at all up-river points along the Platte. At Ashland the river is reported to be nearly a mile wide, flooding the bottoms.

BLEASE TO RUN AGAIN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

COLUMBIA (S. C.) Feb. 22.—Cole L. Blease today announced he would be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor in the next primary. He will oppose Richard I. Manning, present Governor. Blease served as Governor from 1911 until last year.

MANY YOUNG ARTISTS IN MUTT AND JEFF CONTEST.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA seems to be full of budding Bud Fishers. They have developed in the past two days by entering The Times Mutt and Jeff contest, which is open to any boy and girl in Los Angeles or vicinity who is under 15 years old. In return for the interest the embryo artists are taking The Times is going to give seventy-five of them two tickets to "Mutt and Jeff in College," the latest Mutt and Jeff hit, which is coming to the Mason Operahouse next week.

In addition to the 150 tickets The Times also will give a capital prize—a box of six tickets—to the boy or girl who submits the best original cartoon of Mutt and Jeff. The box must be used Monday night, the first performance. The other tickets will be divided equally between Monday and Tuesday nights.

The contributions of the first two days of the contest show some amazing ability for original work by boys and girls within the age limit set by the Mutt and Jeff editor. Some of the pictures submitted exhibit surprising artistic ability on the part of the youngsters and demonstrate that the Southland will never want for funny pictures in the newspapers. When the present-day artists are gone the young generation will take their places and unquestionably fill them well.

About the only requirement other than that the contestant must be under 15 is that the cartoon must bear the name, age and address of the artist. One of the best cartoons received yesterday was from Long Beach. In one corner appeared the name and address of the girl who drew it, but her age was not there. It is perhaps not the most gallant thing in the world to demand that one of the fair sex give her age, but in this contest there can be no distinction. Anyhow, a girl under 15 need not be timid about giving her age.

It is not necessary to draw a series of Mutt and Jeff pictures such as Bud Fisher draws for The Times. A single picture is enough to tell a story. In the batch that came yesterday was a series by a 12-year-old boy that told a story in Bud Fisher style. This is all right, of course, but it is not necessary. You are as likely to win the first prize with one picture as several.

All of the cartoons must be in The Times office by next Friday night, and the names of the successful contestants will be published Sunday morning. Send your pictures to the Mutt and Jeff editor in care of The Times.

"Mutt and Jeff at College" is one of the funniest plays of the season and no doubt will draw capacity houses. Everyone who has enjoyed Bud Fisher's famous characters in pictures will enjoy them more in real life.

Now, when you sit down to draw a picture for this contest, just remember it is necessary to use Mutt and Jeff as your characters and make them subjects of some original idea.

RURAL SCHOOLS TERMED MENACE.

EDUCATORS DECLARE THEY ARE A DETRIMENT TO HEALTH.

Other Speakers Before National Association Contend Country Graduates Make Better Showing than do Scholars in the Cities—Child Welfare is also Discussed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DETROIT (Mich.) Feb. 22.—Rural school and child welfare methods—chief topics of discussion today—were alternately assailed and praised by speakers who delivered addresses before organizations, allied with the National Education Association, which are holding conferences here this week.

Several speakers termed the ordinary rural school a menace to the health of scholars. Other educators produced statistics in an effort to prove that graduates of country grade schools have made a better showing in more advanced educational institutions than have students from the city.

Whether a child receives its first real mental training from its parents or from its teachers, was another question which, seemingly, had many sides.

The meetings of the National Council of Education were considered the most important on the programme today. Seven other organizations met and discussed a wide range of topics.

Adelaide S. Baylor of Indianapolis, State Supervisor of Home Economics, speaking on race preservation, told the national council that one out of every 140 inhabitants of Indiana is an inmate of a charitable or corrective institution. She said there are 524 such institutions in Indiana and that they care for an average total of 20,000 inmates.

WEIGHTY PROBLEMS.

"Recently the Governor of Indiana advised the people that these institutions were filled and declared that instead of appropriating more money for new buildings steps should be taken to lessen the increasing number of those who were daily becoming a burden to the State," she said. "The physical, mental and moral stability of every citizen is the essence of race preservation. The weightiest problem for public school officials and teachers to solve is that of discovering some method for enlightening the people in the practical application of rational principles, for the betterment of the present and future generations."

Of 20,000,000 school children in the United States 60.7 per cent. live in the country or in towns of 2500 or less, said Sherman C. Kingsley of Chicago, discussing "National Welfare and Rural Schools." He urged that a powerful campaign for more sanitary rural schools be started, and in common with other speakers declared "the popular notion" that country scholars are healthier than those in the city has been overturned. He urged medical inspection in schools, dental clinics, and "agencies for relieving other defects."

"Compulsory education laws require the children to sit from six to ten years in the presence of the school teacher," said Mr. Kingsley. "Medical inspection has shown that about 60 per cent. of all school children have physical defects which need correction."

PENNSYLVANIA HAS TRIALS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

ROCKLAND (Me.) Feb. 22.—The superdreadnaught Pennsylvania arrived here today from Newport News to begin her official standardization trials over the government course. The vessel was given a number of preliminary runs during the afternoon.

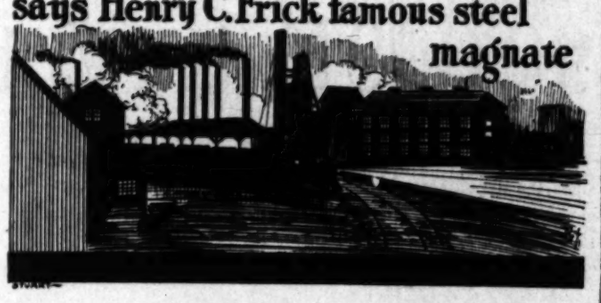
"Owner of $100 bonds becomes better citizen" says Henry C. Frick famous steel magnate



Henry C. Frick, the well-known steel magnate, believes that if a man in modest circumstances owns a $100 First Mortgage Bond he will be a thinker, a better citizen, and an intelligent voter. For many years the workers of Europe have placed their money in first mortgage bonds, instead of keeping it on deposit at a low rate of interest.
The ideal modern method of saving money out of a salary is by our Systematic Saving Plan for obtaining 6% First Mortgage Bonds—small savings applied weekly or monthly—as little as $5 or $10. Six per cent. and safety is better than a mere promise of 20% and the possible loss of your savings. Statistics prove that 98% of "big profit" schemes fail. First mortgage investments are safe investments.
$100 First 6% Mortgage BONDS
Mr. Frick is right. The thrifty saver who becomes a bond owner will be a better citizen—and he will gradually become independent. We have $500 and $1000 bonds for those who have surplus funds awaiting investment, and those who are able to save $50 to $100 or more monthly. Our little booklet "C" "How Money Grows" has helped hundreds and will do the same for you. Call personally or clip and mail coupon.

Discount: A discount of 25 per cent is made to the rate of 6 consecutive insertions for classified advertisements ordered for 26 consecutive insertions. A discount of 50 per cent is made to the rate of 6 consecutive insertions for classified advertisements ordered for 52 consecutive insertions. No discount is allowed for less than one insertion, 14 words.

Rates: The rates and discounts are charged for on the basis of words as counted strictly by the word. All figures and figured or lined-up matter set in caps, counted at the rate of 6 average words to a line. Not to exceed five (5) average words to a line. Not to exceed eight (8) average words to each agate line of reading matter. Space measured by agate lines of words not solid is counted, and the number of words for each unsolid line is counted, and charged for at the rate of 6 words to a line. The Times reserves the right to classify all advertising under appropriate headings.

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume liability for errors in any kind occurring in classified advertisements.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

Errors not the fault of the advertiser, which lessen the value of an advertisement, will be rectified only by republication, without extra charge, upon presentation of receipt within five days after the first insertion; no allowance will be made where the error does not materially affect the value of the advertisement.

No adjustment will be made for advertising Rooms or Board by an agent or errors which may occur in other items in the same advertisement, unless a request to retain a receipt is given by the advertiser at the time of payment for "liners," as no mistake can be rectified without them.

The Times will not accept phone or verbal orders to discontinue or change "till forbid" advertisements. Such orders to discontinue advertising in the Times are complied with in the order of their receipt, and in such instance the number of the last issue is given to the advertiser, who should make a memorandum of it in case of dispute or misunderstanding. It is easy to discontinue or change "till forbid" ads by telephone, but unless the "Help Wanted" number is presented to The Times by the advertiser

Real estate advertisements, to be classified properly, must be in The Times office before 12 o'clock noon Saturday night. Other classified "Wants," "For Sale," etc., ads, received after 9 o'clock p.m. Saturday, Sunday Ads received after 12 o'clock noon for each division will be inserted under heading "Too Late to Classify." Rate 1½ cents per word.

On Sunday circulation of The Times exceeds 100,000 copies, and more "liners" are regularly printed in its columns than in the five other Los Angeles newspapers combined.

Telephone your want advertisements. Ring up The Times, Main 8200, Home 10891, any time of day or night, and secure prompt and careful service.

WE SEEK TO KICK IF THINGS SEEM WRONG, BUT KICK TO US AND WE'LL MAKE IT STRONG."

PROMPT SERVICE FOR TIMES PATRONS.

For the convenience of persons who may desire to place Want Ads, subscribe for or pay bills for The Times, and communications to this newspaper and other advertisements inserted, time and money have been placed in various parts of the city, and arrangements for receiving Want Ads and other advertisements inserted, and for the collection of subscriptions and bills will be made from these points every day.

In the case of advertisers' copy must contain the name and address of the advertiser, number of agate lines and heading under which it is desired to be published.

FOR SALE—
8½-ACRE VALENCIA GROVE.
HIGH AND DRY.
An attractive home place, 20 minutes from city of 6000. Near Los Angeles. Packing-houses close by. $500 an acre—only $450 cash and 5 years' time on the balance. This price should pay for itself in three years. Don't write. Come and see us for more information about this choice property. Now is the time to investigate. Glad to take you out. See us at S. E. REYNOLDS, 615 S. Hill st. Home 10503 or Broadway 2464.

FOR SALE—WHY NOT COME TO VENTURA county where the returns on your money are such that it is a reality to find acreage for sale, not alone for the high-priced lemon belt of Santa Paula or Oxnard that is producing from $500 to $1000 per acre in lima beans and sugar beets without irrigation, but 1-5 to 1½ hrs less than said for other lands in southern California. We are exacting with this city because you buy direct from the owners. We do not have any real estate company's commission to pay. Buy now and get this land cheap, and they will go a long way towards paying for the land. We also have land suitable for alfalfa, and hog raising at very low prices. Write for full particulars, maps, booklets, etc. THE PATTERSON RANCH COMPANY, SALES DEPARTMENT, OXNARD, CAL.

FOR SALE—BUY ORANGE AND LEMON GROVES direct from the owners and save the middleman's profit. We have land at Santa Susana, California, only nine miles from the present city limits of Los Angeles. Valencias, Navels, lemons, apricots and walnuts; fine southern exposure, never a killing frost; ideal climate; no fogs; water piped right by modern system owned outright by Mutual Water Company distributed in underground concrete pipes. Price much less than is any other proven district. Liberal terms. Call, telephone and write for full particulars. THE PATTERSON RANCH COMPANY, Sales Department, Oxnard, Cal.

FOR SALE—BY THE OWNERS, STOCK RANGE or 6300 acres, 2 hours' drive on boulevard, from business center of Los Angeles, and 1 hour from railroad. Well watered, plenty of feed and shade trees. This would also make an ideal dairying property, as there is a fine supply of timber, hands of quail. For full particulars write THE PATTERSON RANCH COMPANY, Sales Department Oxnard, Cal.

FOR SALE—AUCTION; REAL ESTATE, SATURDAY, February 26, 2 P.M., on premises, 10-acre ranch, 1½ miles S. of Glendora, and 1 mile north of Pacific Electric Covina line crossing of San Gabriel blvd., sold to settle estate of Lorena Ferris, Sara J. PLANT JUICE NOW GETS ALL CREDIT

Popular Pittsburgh Lady Claims She Is Cured of Stomach Trouble of Long Standing.

The health of a man or woman is so absolutely dependent upon the condition of the stomach that great care should be taken to see that it performs its proper functions. As age advances the stomach muscles become weak and inactive and the liver does not store up the juices that are necessary to prompt digestion. Some people are helped by eating pre-digested foods, and in taking plenty of exercise, but this in time becomes irksome. Plant Juice, the new system tonic, puts the stomach in shape to digest the food properly, tones up and invigorates the entire system. Daily testimonials are being received to this effect. One of the most recent is that of Mrs. G. Kramer, who resides at No. 162 Virginia Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., and who has lived in Pittsburgh for the past 55 years. She said:

"It is due to my husband that I began to take Plant Juice. He insisted that I try it and although skeptical of its helping me, I began to use it. Indigestion which I had suffered from for a great many years and the gas on my stomach, which caused me to be very weak, disappeared almost the first week. My appetite, which had been very poor, began to improve and I continued its use until now I feel like a new woman. I can eat anything I want and all kinds of food agree with me. I am indeed grateful to Plant Juice, as it has cured me, and I only hope that this testimonial will be the means of influencing some one who suffers from stomach trouble to try it."

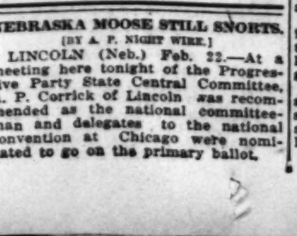
CAN'T BEAT "TIZ" WHEN FEET HURT

"Tiz" for sore, tired, puffed-up, aching, calloused feet or corns.



You can be happy-footed in a moment. Use "Tiz" and never suffer with tender, raw, burning, blistered, swollen, tired, aching feet. "Tiz" and only "Tiz" takes the pain and soreness out of corns, callouses and bunions.

As soon as you put your feet in a "Tiz" bath, you just feel the happiness soaking in. How good your poor, old feet feel. They want to dance for joy. "Tiz" is grand. "Tiz" instantly draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause sore, inflamed, aching, sweaty feet.

Get a 25-cent box of "Tiz" at any drug store or department store. Get instant foot relief. Laugh at foot sufferers who complain. Because your feet are never, never going to bother or make you limp any more.

To Overcome Winter Complexion Troubles

If the chill air causes your skin to dry and scale or become unduly red or spotted, before you go to bed spread a thin layer of ordinary mercolized wax over your entire face. Remove next morning, with warm water. This is the ideal complexion treatment for the winter girl. The wax gently absorbs the dead particles of surface skin, so gradually there's no discomfort. This gives the underlying skin a chance to breathe and to show itself. In a week or so the new and younger skin is wholly in evidence and you have a really matchless complexion. Naturally all its defects disappear with the discarded cuticle—as chaps, roughness, blotches, pimples, freckles, blackheads. Usually an ounce of mercolized wax, procurable at any drugstore, is enough to renovate even the worst complexion.

Wrinkles need bother you no more if you'll use this simple face wash: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, ½-pt. Just one application will affect even the deepest lines.

NEBRASKA MOOSE STILL SNORTS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LINCOLN (Neb.) Feb. 22.—At a meeting here tonight of the Progressive Party State Central Committee, A. P. Corrick of Lincoln was recommended as the national committeeman and delegates to the national convention at Chicago were nominated to go on the primary ballot.

WOMEN'S WORK. WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Dist.-Atty. Woolwine occupied the platform of the Woman's City Club Monday afternoon, when, before an interested audience, he told of "The Duties, Powers and Limitations of the District Attorney's Office."

Dealing with his subject from the very foundation—or various causes of crime—the speaker traced the apprehending or conviction of a suspect or criminal through the phases of legal technicalities until the administration of justice is accomplished. "And it is better to let ninety-nine go free than convict one innocent man," said Mr. Woolwine.

"Excessive drinking about heads the list in the instigation of crime," said the attorney. "Poverty is also a powerful incentive to crime, as is the spirit of adventure, especially in the youth."

The grand jury system found a champion in Mr. Woolwine, who made the fine point of distinction that the mere investigation and course of apprehending does not amount to conviction, but places the accused or suspect in a position wherein he may defend himself. He also supported, in his speech, the death penalty as a means of saving other lives through fear, if in no other way.

In the forum which always closes the programme, many queries were asked. As to the advisability of women serving on juries, Mr. Woolwine answered such service is impractical.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. E. R. Brainerd, who is in San Francisco for a few days, Mrs. Works, the first vice-president, introduced the speaker.

Friday Morning Club.

J. Nilsen Laurvik, who was Commissioner of Fine Arts for Norway at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, is to furnish the first programme in March (the 3rd.,) at the Friday Morning Club, according to the calendar just issued for the coming month. On the 10th, Bertha Kunts Baker, who formerly lectured on the drama at Columbia University, will address the club on "Creative Power of the World." The following week, on the 17th., H. A. Payne, research account of the city efficiency department, will tell how Los Angeles spends its money. Members of the Finance Committee of the City Council are asked to be present and take part in the discussion.

Two phases of the delinquency problem are to form the basis of discussion the morning of March 24, when J. Harold Williams, director of the department of research at the Whittier State School, and Dr. Ernest B. Hoag, physician to the Juvenile Court and lecturer on child problems for the University of California, will talk respectively on "The Scientific Study of Delinquency" and "Delinquency in Relation to the Juvenile Court."

For the last Friday morning programme of the month, March 31, Paul Jordan Smith of the English department of the University of Southern California will have for his topic, "The Message of the Radical Woman."

In the sections or departmental work the following outline is scheduled:

Tuesday, March 7, 12 m.—Book Committee luncheon, "New Movements in Modern Poetry," general discussion.

Tuesday, March 7, 2:30.—Public Affairs Committee, "Our Present Form of City Government," William D. Spalding.

Tuesday, March 14, 10:30.—Music conference, "The Pianoforte," study of its history with music of its precursors.

Tuesday evening, March 14, 8.—The art conference will be at home, in honor of the California Art Club; guest of honor, Thomas Moran.

Tuesday, March 21, 2:30.—Drama conference, "The Trail of the Torch" (Paul Hervieu,) read by Sarah Truax.

Twentieth Century Club.

The 24th inst., at 8 o'clock p.m., the Women's Twentieth Century Club of Eagle Rock will celebrate Founder's Day with a reception at the clubhouse on Colorado boulevard. The guests are to be only club members and their escorts.

Lecturer from the North.

Mrs. May Andrew Wiggin of San Francisco has arrived here to give a series of lectures on "The Philosophy of Happiness" and "The Life of Satisfaction" in the ballroom of the Hotel Clark, the dates to be announced later. Mrs. Wiggin is a prominent woman of the bay city.

Nation-wide Baby Week.

A meeting of the executive board of the nation-wide baby week will be held at the headquarters, No. 222 Higgins Building, at 10 o'clock this morning. Dr. Maude Wilde, chairman, will preside. Members of the board are Drs. Maude Wilde, Margaret Clark, Lulu Peters and Catherine G. Lynch; Mmes. C. H. Ritchie, Mattison B. Jones, H. A. Cable, J. D. Taylor, William Baurhyte, Summer P. Hunt, M. E. Jenkins, C. C. Noble, C. L. Bradford, Cora D. Lewis, G. L. Breed and Margaret Sirch and Miss Bess Munn. Baby week will be observed in Los Angeles, March 4 to 11 at No. 239 South Broadway. This is a community celebration and free to every citizen.

Woman's Improvement Association.

The Woman's Improvement Association of South Pasadena will hold its regular meeting today, when the programme will be in charge of Mrs. F. A. Stephens and Mrs. W. L. Jacobs, and the Rev. Daniel P. Fox of Pasadena will deliver an address.

Luncheon will precede the programme.

On Thursday, March 2, Miss Zona Gale will give readings from her own works before the club.

Cosmos Club.

An Indian programme will be presented at Cosmos Club this afternoon. Capt. Montgomery will talk on the Indian sign language and give an interesting history of the different tribes of Indians. He will also have an Indian with him to illustrate some of the customs and sign languages. Capt. Montgomery is well known in the literary world as well as among the scientists.

He rendered distinguished services to the country in various ways, having been sent to Egypt on government affairs, was an Indian scout, a regular medicine man among the Indians, made the longest ride in the shortest number of hours, thereby holding the world's record, this being done to save the lives of the whites from an attack by the Indians.

Capt. Montgomery's picture hangs in the National Gallery at Washington, where a history of his deeds is kept. He was at one time an honored guest of Queen Victoria.

Mme. Clara de Knapishevska will add to this interesting programme by singing a collection of Russian songs, and Constantino will be the guest of honor.

The Shakespeare section will meet at the home of Mrs. H. L. Musser, No. 1435 Millard avenue, Friday afternoon and the study of "The Tempest" will be taken up.

The music section will meet at the Aragon apartments Thursday afternoon, when "Great Violinists" will be the subject for study. Miss Bessie Fuhrer will play.

The current events section is being largely attended. The subjects are well selected, interesting and speakers are secured frequently who lead and explain the topic for discussion.

A card party will be given at the home of Mrs. H. E. Lanzit the 29th inst. for the benefit of the Building Association. The members of the board will be hostesses.

D.A.R. Ball.

The brilliant ball given by the Escholcholtzia Chapter of the D.A.R. the 12th inst., at the Alexandria, in honor of the newly-elected State officers, was a memorable event. Mrs. James Hyde Forbes, the regent, was attired in a flowered silk colonial gown, and was hostess at the chapter's table.

The guests of honor were Mrs. John F. Swift, Mrs. Maynard Force Thayer, Mrs. John C. Lynch and Mrs. C. C. Cottle, the four supreme State officers.

The ballroom was gorgeously decorated for the event and the minuet danced by Mmes. W. I. Hollingsworth, Mathew Robertson, Erasmus Wilson, J. F. Fitzgerald, E. H. Barnon, Olivia C. Bryant, Edgar L. Swaine and C. Q. Stanton was quite enchanting.

The chapter will entertain members and out-of-town guests at a tea and reception at the home of Mrs. Frederick Fisher, No. 341 Andrews boulevard, on Washington's Birthday, from 3 to 5 p.m.

The U.D.C. Ball.

The Robert E. Lee Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, also entertained with a brilliant ball at the Alexandria on February 11, which was a social and financial success. They, too, boasted a large and richly-gowned company, and had exhibition dances by Miss Hazel Dumas and W. J. Graves.

The California Chapter of the U.D.C. entertained one of the national officers, Mrs. Frederick McCausland Braddock of Stockton, at the Alexandria last Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Braddock is an authority on the mountain schools which the U.D.C. has done so much to develop and assist.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Wilbur E. Lehr, No. 541 North Hobart boulevard, next Friday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, when all local and visiting daughters are invited.

The Wade Hampton Chapter of U.D.C. is planning a party at The Times Assembly Rooms for next Friday at 2 p.m., when Mrs. John W. Burton, Mrs. Lena C. Blood and Mrs. Laura Klyce will be in charge.

Growing in Membership.

The Gen. Fremont Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Ferret Fragner, No. 948 Beaudry avenue, last Wednesday.

Reports were given by Miss Amelia P. Butler, delegate, and Mrs. W. S. Martin, alternate, to the eighth annual conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution of California, held in Pasadena recently. Mrs. John K. Skelly, vice-regent, read a paper on the life of Gen. Fremont. In a most delightful manner she portrayed the character of this worthy soldier, statesman and scout, speaking of the hardships and privations which he and his men endured when they surveyed the unknown regions lying between the Rocky Mountains and the Pacific Ocean, in 1842. In 1856 Gen. Fremont stood for the Presidency of the United States; in 1861 he was made major-general. Mrs. Skelly further said that the chapter should be proud to bear the name of this illustrious man.

Miss Florence Fragner, violinist, with Mrs. Jessie M. Whittmann, accompanist on the piano, rendered two selections, the "Serenade" by Drigo, and "Souvenir," by Drila. Following the programme, refreshments were served by Mrs. Fragner, assisted by her two daughters, Miss Florence and Miss Ruth.

Seven new names were presented to the chapter for admission, and six are awaiting a reply from Washington.

Music School Settlement.

The association has secured a house at No. 254 Avenue Eighteen, and Mrs. Edward McDowell, wife of the composer, gave a benefit recital yesterday. The officers of the association are Mrs. W. W. Stilson, Mrs. William R. Goodwin, Miss Margaret Greta, W. D. Longyear of the Security Savings Bank (treasurer,) Miss Ruth Hitchcock, Miss Grace E. Morgan and Miss Marjory Wedberry.

P.T.A.

There will be a president's council and round-table discussion of the California Congress of Mothers and the Parent-teachers' Association on March 4, in The Times Assembly Rooms, beginning at 10 a.m. Military training in the schools will be discussed in the afternoon. It is hoped that every P.T.A. branch will be represented, bringing a box lunch and prepared to stay throughout the session. Coffee will be served.

The P.T.A. of the Thirtieth-street intermediate school had an interesting session last Thursday when Prof. Kelso addressed them on "Citizenship in the Public Schools." Mrs. H. S. Darling is the president of this center.

Patriotism was the keynote of the Cambria-street school P.T.A., held last Thursday, when the pupils gave numerous stirring recitations connected with history, and "America" was sung in unison and the West Point flag salute given.

Mrs. Elizabeth McManus, president of the P.T.A. clinic, gave an address called "Living for One's Country" and told her hearers that patriotism meant being honest, fair and loving to all mankind. Mrs. Rose Cowan, principal of the school, was responsible for the rousing programme.

To Help Ill Members.

This evening the Young Ladies' Sodality, Cathedral Parish, will give a card party in the Knights of Columbus council chamber, No. 612 South Flower street. The Cathedral Sodality is unique in that it supports a fund to provide financial aid for sick members.

City Auditor Myers will speak before the Slauson Mothers' Club at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the Slauson playground hall, corner of Slauson avenue and Fortuna street.

On Fire Prevention.

W. R. Roberts, manager of the Fire Underwriters' Inspection Bureau, will address the class in fire prevention engineering at Polytechnic High School, at 7:30 o'clock tonight on "Fire Prevention."

Kansas Association.

Rev. Dr. F. W. Otto will speak on the history of the Sunflower State at the meeting of the Kansas Association of Los Angeles this evening in The Times Assembly Rooms. There will also be a musical programme, including a piano solo by Prof. Anton Dahl and vocal solos by Mrs. Mabel Capell.

Lecture on Tolstoy.

Dr. Clarence Reed of Palo Alto will lecture on "Tolstoy, Prophet of Russia," tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, in the First Unitarian Church, No. 926 South Flower street, the third of his series of lectures on Russian novelists. The lecture will be free to the public.

Dramatic Reading.

Mrs. Bertha King Baker, a dramatic reader from New York, will give a reading of Barrie's "What Every Woman Knows," in the auditorium of the Polytechnic High School the morning of March 3 at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Baker has spoken at the leading colleges, high schools and woman's clubs of the East.

Boys to Entertain.

A programme in which only the male talent of the school will be represented will be given at the first meeting of the Ionian Society of the Polytechnic High School Friday, March 3, in the school auditorium. The entertainment will include selections by the Glee Club, a piano solo by Morris Baker, a gymnastic exhibition by the gym club and several readings.

Big Surprise Promised.

A surprise in the form of a big subscription will be announced today by President Baer of Occidental College at the luncheon of the campaign executive committee. It was also announced yesterday that David Horsley of the big motion-picture concern will stage special attractions Saturday and will donate the receipts to the $1,000,000 fund. Ten thousand tickets for the shows have been printed. They will be sold to Occidental students who are not on the college teams.

Patriotic Celebration.

Three hundred men and women gathered at the patriotic headquarters in the Hall of Records last evening at a joint open meeting of the Robley D. Evans Post, G.A.R., and the Women's Relief Corps, for a George Washington Birthday celebration. Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock, and was followed by patriotic exercises, singing, speeches and recitations. The speaker of the evening was Attorney Andrew Parks. Miss Frances Lawson in fancy dancing and her sister, Miss Charlotte Lawson, in song, pleased the audience. Miss Mildred Bennett, aged 16, and the possessor of a rich soprano voice, rendered several selections.

JOINS DETECTIVE BUREAU.

Well-known Operator Becomes Member of McLaren Staff.

Because the rapid growth of his business necessitates enlargement of the staff, and in accordance with his policy of getting the best men possible for his work, Malcolm McLaren, chief of the Malcolm McLaren Investigating Bureau, yesterday announced the appointment of Fred U. Hickok, former assistant superintendent of the Denver division of the Pinkertons, and known all over the country as an expert investigator, as assistant superintendent of the local bureau.

Mr. Hickok does not come to the bureau unknown. He has been an independent operator in Los Angeles for a number of years. Probably he is best known in connection with his capture of "Bill" Mathews, chief of the train robber gang that terrorized the Middle West some years ago. Mr. Hickok caught his man in South Omaha. Mathews is now serving a life sentence in the prison at Leavenworth, Kan.

The new assistant superintendent is a member of the Al Malaikah Temple of the Mystic Shrine, and is socially prominent here. He has followed his profession for fifteen years, and has held important positions in many of the most prominent investigating bureaus of the country.

His Cigar Doesn't Taste Right

And Yet It Is the Same He Was Smoking With So Much Relish After Dinner, Last Night. Out of the Very Same Box, Too.

Every smoker has experienced this peculiar condition of the stomach and liver, the result usually of imperfect digestion of food. And the blame is usually not put where it belongs.

What's the Trouble

Such men are usually high livers, hard workers mentally, living under high pressure and high draught, and it doesn't take a great deal to disorder the stomach or render the liver torpid.

They should make it a practice to use the tried and reliable Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, that will aid Nature and take care of the sudden attacks of indigestion. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest food where the stomach can't.

PUBLIC SCHOOL MUSIC.

City and County Association to Meet at Long Beach.

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Los Angeles County and City Public School Music Teachers' Association will be held at Long Beach High School, Saturday, March 4. The morning session will begin at 11 o'clock, and will be devoted to the discussion of grade school music problems. Class demonstrations will be given by Miss Alice Rogers, supervisor of music in the Long Beach city schools, and members of her staff, Miss Ethel Ardiss, Miss Edith Rhetts, and Miss Mae Knight.

Luncheon will be served in the roof garden of the Hotel Schuyler at 1 o'clock, and will be followed by a programme of short talks on live public school music topics.

The meeting will be open to all public school music teachers.

CONGESTED SHIPMENTS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

DUARTE, Feb. 22.—Owing to the heavy shipments of oranges which have gone forward this month the Monrovia-Duarte Citrus Association has slackened shipments and has not received any fruit for a week.

Heavy arrivals and bad weather in the East accounts for this measure. It is estimated that 40 per cent of the navel crop has been shipped and if proper distribution of the remainder of the crop is made the local exchange hopes to wind up with the most satisfactory season of recent years.

Resinol Soap

a friend to tender skins

Any soap will clean your skin—a bar of laundry soap will do if you do not care what becomes of your complexion. But you know that laundry soap contains harsh, drying alkali that would ruin your skin and hair, so you never think of using it for your toilet.

Many ill-made toilet soaps contain this same injurious alkali. Resinol Soap contains absolutely no free alkali, and to it is added the soothing, healing Resinol medication, which doctors have used for over 20 years in treating skin troubles. Thus it comforts tender skins, and helps nature clear the complexion and keep the hair rich, lustrous and free from dandruff. Sold by all druggists.

Resinol Shaving Stick also contains the Resinol medication, making it most soothing to easily-irritated faces.

Enthusiastic Republicans Organize at Glendale.

A meeting of the Republicans of the Sixty-first Assembly District was held Monday night at the home of John Robert White, First and Orange streets, Glendale, and another link was formed in the chain of Republican clubs that is extending throughout Los Angeles county.

Charles H. Toll was selected as president; John Robert White, vice-president; Charles L. Chandler, secretary-treasurer, and fifteen vice-presidents were appointed, to represent the various towns in this district, which includes practically the entire northwesterly end of the county.

An executive committee of eleven members was selected to make plans for the club's work and meetings. There were short but enthusiastic talks by numerous Republicans, and all were inspired with the determination to make the club an active factor in the coming campaign.

The Biggest Picnic.

Special street car service brought other thousands, and at noon the park was filled. Everybody had been warned to bring their own lunch, but even with this warning, the popcorn and ice cream stands did a land office business.

Shortly after 1 o'clock ex-Judge Taft, president of the local Hawkeye organization, mounted the speakers' stand and opened the programme with a short address. Little groups detached themselves from the various county poles, and walked towards the speakers' stand. Within a short time 10,000 persons were packed in front of the boathouse, and yet no diminishing of the number in other sections of the park was apparent.

The speakers introduced by Judge Taft gave the audience an opportunity to hear a varied programme. Frank Gotch, heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, took his turn on the platform with Gardner Cowles, publisher of the Des Moines Register and Evening Tribune, and Mrs. Isaac Lear Hillis, president of the Mothers' Congress of Iowa. C. H. Parsons, secretary of the Federated State Societies, read a telegram from Senator Cummins, in which the latter expressed regret at being unable to attend. Another message from Gov. Clark of Iowa, was also read, sending his greetings to his former people. The Iowa Society of San Francisco wired their best wishes.

Other speakers of prominence in many walks of life told how glad they were to be present. Because of the great number of picnickers, and also because they considered the day too fine to waste on games, no regular programme of entertainment had been arranged. The picnickers were permitted to do as they pleased, and this evidently pleased them more than anything else.

GATHERING OF MONTANA

Annual Winter Picnic of the Copper State Brings Large Turnout of Former Residents of North Who Have Good Time and Name Officers.

Under the able leadership of J. Ross Clark, who, in addition to being vice-president of the Citizens National Bank, second vice-president of the Salt Lake Route and president of the Las Vegas and Tonopah Railroad, is also president of his State society, more than 1000 former residents of Montana gathered in Sycamore Grove yesterday afternoon at their annual winter picnic. Preferring to renew old acquaintances rather than spend the day by taking part or observing an elaborate programme of entertainment, very little speaking was indulged in.

Mr. Clark introduced Maj. Martin Maginnis, ex-Gov. J. E. Rickards of Montana and Rev. Jacob Mills of Helena. Following short addresses, Mr. Clark called for the annual election of officers. He was unanimously re-elected president. Peter Koch, W. W. Wylie, Wilbra H. Sweet, Dr. W. A. Tudor and Thomas McGirl were elected vice-presidents, and J. D. Radford elected secretary.

In another part of the grove the Whiteside County (Ill.) Association of Southern California held a picnic, while near by a number of former residents of Concordia, Kan., renewed old friendships about a basket luncheon.

A number of former residents of Fulton county, Illinois, held their reunion yesterday afternoon in Westlake Park.

NICHOLLS-LOOMIS PICNIC.

Eighty-five Officers and Employees of Concern Have Outing at Verdugo.

Eighty-five officers and employees of the Nicholls-Loomis Company attended the annual picnic of that concern held yesterday in Verdugo Park. Several unique features were included in the day's programme of enjoyment. A baseball game between the sales and office forces on one side and the drivers and yard men on the other, resulted in a victory for the latter.

The salesmen present also contested in a hay-selling contest, each salesman trying to sell a bale of hay to the company's buyer. The dinner was provided by the company. Following the repast, E. R. Long, northern representative of the company, delivered an appropriate Washington's birthday address. The outing served to draw closer the officers of the company and their men, and further cemented the present efficient system of that company.

INJURIES PROVE FATAL.

Woman Dies from Results of Motorcycle Accident Last December.

Mrs. May A. Bell, 73 years of age, widow of A. P. Bell, Sr., of No. 701½ West Thirty-sixth street, died early Monday night at her home from injuries received on December 12, last, when she was run down near Fifth and Spring streets by a motorcycle operated by Nick Kallas, living near Vernon and Boyle avenues, Vernon.

Following the accident Mrs. Bell was rushed to the Receiving Hospital in one of the police machines, but refused to be examined by Police Surgeon Hiller and was removed to her home. The accident was investigated by the police and no arrests made.

Although treated at her home by a private surgeon, Mrs. Bell failed to improve. The body was taken to the morgue of Garrett & Co. The funeral will be held today at 2 o'clock p.m., interment at the Evergreen Cemetery.

Mrs. Bell leaves one son, A. P. Bell, Jr.

The Story of a Quarter-Century of Civic Progress Told in Glowing Words.

Banquet.

"The time has come to cease play and get down to work," Mr. Trefz said. "Our faith must be developed by actual work, and we must work out our own salvation.

"Five years ago a Chamber of Commerce was a sort of a booster organization. Today it is a business institution, whose principal function is to make its city a good place to live and do business in. These organizations are taking part in governmental affairs, and are developing and building communities, by definite plans.

"Not one city in the United States can compare with Los Angeles in the establishment and development of industries within its bounderies. But Los Angeles, as a city of 550,000, has reached its limitation of depending upon its agricultural facilities. The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce should guard well the development of industries here, or some other city will go ahead of it.

"Nature has favored you. Your city is growing. The story of Los Angeles is not yet written. You should endeavor to join the emotionalism of Jerusalem, the intellect of Athens, and the power and ability to get trade of Rome. A successful community should have all these three things. Cities all over the country are developing chambers of commerce, and it is certainly a fact that the growth and development of these cities is proportionate to the efficiency of their organizations.

"For over a quarter of a century you have led the United States with the most efficient Chamber of Commerce. Today no Chamber of Commerce is so well known as that of Los Angeles. And yet no city of 25,000 more supports its organization with niggardly or parsimonious a hand. You are highest in efficiency and lowest in degree of support. And yet you have achieved great things. Your public schools are known all over the world. But you must watch well the future."

MR. VANDERLIP'S ADDRESS.

Following Mr. Trefz, Mr. Vanderlip, the principal speaker of the evening, was introduced by Mr. Jess. In addition to his remarks on business previously noted, he said:

"I am to speak on trade relations since the war. In the East our minds have been tremendously engrossed in the great tragedy of Europe. Here we had scarcely a mention of it. We want to call yourselves the playground of the world, and it's right that you should, but it seems to me you should keep your face to the sun like a Pittsburgh, too.

"What about the nature of this prosperity that is sweeping the country? Is it solid?

"I believe it is solid. In August, there was great unemployment; the land was full of complaint. The Underwood tariff law was admitting good in a way that was hampering business. Then came the declarations of war. And as our condition was before, we soared for a time to be very much inflated.

"Then came the orders for grain and other articles, and the activities are leading into what I believe is the fullest employment of labor at the highest rate probably ever paid in the world.

"Then came the passage of the Federal Reserve Act, giving the country the asset of reserve. Gold flowed in from Europe, and we found the largest reserve in America the world has ever known. New York banks today have $1,000,000,000 more cash than they had a year ago. We have easy money through the use of gold and the Federal Reserve Act. We are likely to see continued expansion in our domestic affairs.

"As to foreign trade, we are facing the difficulty in lack of ships. The outlook is not happy. The increase in workingmen have received wage advances, but are asking for more.

WHAT OF FUTURE?

"What of the future? There never was a time when it was so difficult to look into the future. We have seen Europe spend $30,000,000,000 since the outbreak of the war, and if it continues other billions will be spent, as it is costing more each year. No one can tell when it will end. It seems not improbable that it will continue all year. The war figures are such that they are out of the comprehension of men who deal in large figures.

"How the problems of the world's trade will be worked out is going to be one of the interesting problems of the year. There is criticism of the bankers making these foreign loans. The structure of credit is about to assume the basis of credit. The trade that is going to come, when peace is declared, will run our gold reserve will run right down. Now it is of the highest importance that as a country to this gold the purchase of foreign securities is a wise movement. Never before had the occasion arisen never before had the occasion to be so deeply interested in the development of foreign trade as it is now. The common belief is that the European nations will be our severe competitors after the war.

"But taking of 25,000,000 men into the battle fields and killing them off and maiming them is cutting down Europe's available workmen; the war debt will be a terrible burden, preventing the great rebound in industrial affairs there, and their markets will be disorganized.

"Yet in Europe after the war it will be a harder world in which to live, but it will be a much more efficient world, with its people co-ordinating in their labors. Both the allies and the central powers have programmes for tariff unions that are based on scientific investigations, and that we will have to meet after the war. Our tariffs have been made by demagogues and by guess."

Speaking of the restrictive legislation that curtails investment of capital, Mr. Vanderlip said:

"It may be that railroads, through their actions in the past, warrant all the stringent legislation that has been passed; you can regulate a railroad, but you cannot regulate an uninvested dollar. That is why we have seen during the past year the smallest amount of new railroad mileage in the United States of any year since the Civil War."

REVIEWS THE FIELD.

The address of retiring President Bulla laid special emphasis on the accomplishments of the chamber during the past year, and the need of more extensive financial support during the ensuing twelve months, in order that greater scope may be given the important work in hand.

The splendid work done by the industrial bureau, the department for trade expansion, and the Entertainment Committee, was given high commendation. The efforts of these sections are so farreaching as to be immeasurable at this time, said the speaker, and like bread cast upon the waters, are sure to return in benefits increased manyfold.

The part the chamber played in securing financial and general support for the continuation of the exposition at San Diego was referred to with gratification. The general work of the local chamber was reviewed and commended and the speaker also paid a high tribute to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, which he declared is "one of the most remarkable and influential organizations in the world."

Mr. Bulla urged the importance of "home products week" and that it be made an annual affair. He dwelt at some length on the importance of trade expansion, and stated that this subject is one that must receive greater attention than it is possible for a committee alone to bestow upon it.

"I am more convinced than ever," said the speaker, "that if Los Angeles is to receive the full benefit of its opportunities to expand its trade relations, not only with foreign countries, but with the adjoining States of Arizona, New Mexico, Utah, Nevada and Colorado, the Chamber of Commerce must give stronger support to its co-operative branches of the United States Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce."

A system of "trade scouts" to be placed in all the territory tributary to Los Angeles was urged as imperative—men who can speak the language of the people to whom they go and who are familiar with their commercial needs and details of their trade.

The work of the Harbor Committee and the trade brought to this port through the opening of the Panama Canal was reviewed and it was stated that during the first six months the canal was open 31.1 per cent. of all shipments coming to this coast through the canal from the Atlantic coast docked at the port of Los Angeles.

The extension of the work of the Chamber of Commerce, said Mr. Bulla, depends upon the financial support accorded it. He declared his belief that the present dues are ridiculously inadequate and that there should be created a sustaining fund which would enable the institution to carry out its work on much enlarged lines. Mr. Bulla believes that there should be provided a sustaining fund of at least $100,000, in addition to the $35,000 received from the present membership.

Mr. Bulla closed his address with a strong tribute to the incoming president, and handed the gavel to Mr. Mitchell amid loud applause.

MR. MITCHELL'S ADDRESS.

Strong and aggressive was the policy outlined by John S. Mitchell, the new president of the Chamber of Commerce. "In the fullness of past triumphs we must advance to still greater achievements," he said. He advanced a programme for encouragement of industries and expansion of trade that touched a responsive chord in all his hearers.

Mr. Mitchell said in part:

The Chamber of Commerce has played so important a part in the wonderful growth, in the artistic and commercial development of our city, that we are justified in our own conviction, not only that Los Angeles is and will always be one of the great cities of the United States, but that the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is and always will be one of the really great and intelligent commercial organizations of the United States. [Applause.]

In the fullness of our past achievements we must not be unmindful of our obligations, to those men who helped to accomplish our success, nor to those of the younger generation, who look to us for greater triumphs and inspiring examples, nor to those who will be attracted to our sunshine land from all parts of the world in the years to come.

Increased efficiency and force in trade expansion, both local and foreign, is underlined on our programme, and I suggest that this important work should be handled under the corrected title of the trade expansion committee, so neither foreign nor local trade may be overlooked.

"The chairman of this important committee has demonstrated that great attractive avenues of trade are open for Los Angeles in Mexico, Central and South America, Australia, New Zealand, Hawaii and in the Orient, and Chairman L. D. Sale will guide our merchants into those profitable fields of commerce.

"The chamber will devote studious attention to the plan of making Los Angeles Harbor a free port, patterned largely after that of the city of Hamburg. Such a change would undoubtedly make our harbor the principal shipping point on the Pacific Coast and would do more to promote manufacturing than any of the plans now being considered. [Applause.]

SOME SHORTCOMINGS.

"It is more important that we should have forcibly brought to our attention our shortcomings as a manufacturing city. For instance, Japan and Central America ship cargoes of hardwood, rattan and varnish through Los Angeles Harbor to eastern firms for the manufacture of furniture, only to have the manufactured product shipped back to Los Angeles for our use. In the name of common sense why not manufacture our furniture at home?

"Thousands of cattle are slaughtered in Southern California. The hides are sent to eastern tanners. Why not have more tanneries and greater pay rolls in Los Angeles? [Applause.]

"The people of Peru buy $3,500,000 worth of shoes every year. Why not have Los Angeles control the boot and shoe trade of all Western South America?

"Los Angeles Harbor is the greatest import lumber harbor in the world, yet we fail to manufacture a single pound of nails or spikes. Why?

"The ranges of Arizona, Nevada and New Mexico, our next door neighbors, are covered with sheep. Why not have greater woolen mills and still greater pay rolls in Los Angeles?

"The reliability of Imperial and Palo Verde valleys as cotton producers has been established. Fourteen thousand additional acres of cotton will be planted in those valleys this year—and there is not one cotton mill in Southern California. A special committee will be appointed to secure cotton mills this year and that committee will not disappoint us.

"Our industrial department is handicapped only by lack of capital to assist such industries. Its triumphs are many. Its enthusiasm most helpful and its management excellent, but the department is helpless otherwise than to advertise Los Angeles opportunities.

"There must and will be established in Los Angeles a capital foundation of from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000 to assist worthy industries which can conclusively prove their claim for support. Small plants will be welcome, greater enterprises likewise. Both will be treated alike, and the rapid expansion of manufacturing and trade export may reasonably be looked for during 1916.

"Los Angeles Harbor, with its great breakwater, its safe anchorage, its docks and warehouses, offers attractive inducements to domestic and foreign shipping. Congress has provided for further assistance to protect the harbor from silt and now plans to open the Long Beach channel. Los Angeles harbor is beyond doubt the logical, industrial center of Southwest America, and offers unequaled opportunities for manufacturing. We will have on its shores extensive shipbuilding plants, ship repair and machine shops, also great dry docks, and our combined efforts may induce the government in the near future to establish a navy yard for us in this vicinity.

"Large buildings fitted with valuable machinery are about ready for the production of chloride of potassium, borax and other valuable potash by-products. The great beds of kelp, floating along the Southern California shores between Santa Barbara and San Diego have been found by the United States Department of Commerce to represent an annual crop of $90,000,000 in potash values. Many prominent companies are preparing to utilize this product on a large scale, to replace the potash supply formerly secured from Germany.

"Our local chemists have solved problems brought about by the European war. They have contracts and are now shipping to eastern markets many carloads of refined chemicals, the raw materials of which have been mined in our own and adjoining counties and in Southern Nevada.

"Arizona is our next door neighbor, of whom we may well be proud. Her gold mines of OaOtman and vicinity are proving rich beyond calculation, and I believe they have just begun to unfold their mineral wealth. Prosperity is also returning to the Nevada mining districts. We rejoice in the good fortune of our neighbors.

"The Chamber of Commerce gladly points to the marvelous wealth and prosperity of all the counties of Southern California and to the success producing values of the counties of Kern, King, Fresno and Tulare—all trade districts for Los Angeles. Their welfare interests us. We are glad to tell the world of their thrift and good fortune and to exploit their resources in our literature and to our tourists. [Applause.]

"What the manufacturing of automobiles has done for Detroit, what the steel industries has done for Pittsburgh, the film manufacturing companies are doing for Los Angeles, for they employ 12,000 people here every day. They have an investment of $35,000,000 represented by about twenty producing companies, and jointly they put in circulation in Los Angeles $1,000,000 a month.

"The film industry is the fifth largest in the United States and 50,000,000 people visit the moving-picture shows of the earth every twenty-four hours. More than 80 per cent. of all the films are made in Southern California, and most of them show the courteous announcement "Made in Los Angeles." Moving pictures have come to stay and it is most likely that in the very near future they will be appreciated as the most valuable method of imparting information and education. Thoughtful consideration and substantial encouragement for film manufacturing investors will be an agreeable part of the Chamber's work this year.

"Our county roads have undoubtedly proven to be the best advertisement we have ever had. Unquestionably the Chamber of Commerce should at once establish and finance a propaganda to advertise our good roads, also our transcontinental highways throughout the United States. Just as we advertised our agricultural and horticultural opportunities. Let us emmulate the Romans and make all roads lead to Los Angeles.

"The civic affairs of a great city should most decidedly concern its Chamber of Commerce. You have reason to expect fairness, discretion, loyalty and courage from your officers and directors. To shirk our responsibility would be to fail in our duty.

"Therefore, when the Chamber of Commerce invites capital and enterprise to assist in developing our resources we are justly expected to give assurance of generous assistance and positive protection against unreasonable restriction or legislation. To this end the Chamber of Commerce may well be required to co-operate with, assist and sustain our county and city officials.

"Our high regard and appreciation for the investments of our manufacturers, corporations and merchants should command the Chamber's most substantial support.

"Just treatment and well deserved consideration of great investments made in good faith and confidence in civic integrity, by the street railway companies and other public service corporations should not be overlooked. Likewise the merchant who helps the property owner, by paying generous rent—carries reliable merchandise, pays taxes and employs intelligent help, is entitled to protection from the objectionable, obnoxious peddler and street solicitor, whose best stock in trade is his assumed right to annoy others and to make a nuisance of himself.

"I wish to testify that the most dependable support the Chamber of Commerce has always had has been from the Los Angeles newspapers. They are our friends, and the new officers will appreciate the continued good will of all our publishers. They are boosters—real boosters.

"In conclusion, don't fail to patronize home industry. Buy your insurance from local agencies. Give your eastern orders to local representatives. Buy your goods produced elsewhere from those who are interested in California. Advertise in home papers. Deposit your finds in local banks. Remember money kept in safe deposit boxes means starvation to industry.

Show our neighboring towns you are interested in their welfare. At the same time show your visitors that each town has surprisingly valuable resources in addition to scenery and good roads, and never forget to make use of our slogan 'Los Angeles, where nature helps industry most.'" [Prolonged applause.]

GREETERS TO ENTERTAIN.

Expect Ball at the Alexandria will be Chapter's Best Effort.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the coming official ball of the Greeters of Southern California, to be held Saturday night at the Alexandria, under the auspices of Chapter No. 30.

The Alexandria management has promised the use of the ballroom for future Greeter festivities, in the event that the present occasion is a success. To this end practically every hotel employee in the city is out boosting for the ball, and advance information is to the effect that it will be the biggest affair the organization has held.

Funds realized from the ball will be used in defraying expenses of delegates from Southern California to the sixth annual convention of the Greeters of America, in Salt Lake City the latter part of June. Thomas MacNish, president of the local organization, says he expects to be able to send eight degelates, and possibly more.

Dancing will begin at 8:15 p.m. and continue until midnight.

FAIR EXCHANGE.

A Santa Fe train of ten cars loaded with silk has left the Pacific Coast for the East. America has a lot of cotton it would rather sell to China for silk than to send to Europe to be made into powder. Our people know they will get the silk if they send their fabric to the Orient, but the best they can do is to hope they will get their money if they sell it to nations at war.

SAVING THE REPUBLIC.

The Chinese of America have been asked to preach the doctrine of anti-monarchy. This does not mean anarchy nor revolution. The people over there have a right to try to preserve their republic, even if half of them should lose their heads in the endeavor. They will have to remember that they are dealing with a strong man who would not hesitate at a few heads in order to make a point.

WHY TOURISTS LEAVE HOME.

That was a mighty fine speech which John S. Mitchell made at the prosperity banquet at the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night. Mr. Mitchell has outlined a sound and comprehensive policy for his organization of boosters for 1916. We sympathize with Mr. Mitchell's views when he asserts that this city must not be too good to be true and that, if Los Angeles does not know why tourists leave home, the time has come for it to find out.

GREAT DAYS.

George Washington was a good farmer, a good soldier and a competent statesman. A great many stories have been told about his being unable to tell one, but he couldn't help that, seeing that they were mostly invented after he had passed on to meet Cornwallis on the other side. Mr. Washington did many good things for this country, one of them being to add the Fourth of July and the 22d day of February to its list of national holidays. A busy people like ours can't stop too often for a little rest and play.

THE GRAND DUCHY OF LUXEMBURG.

The little Grand Duchy of Luxemburg is still disturbed by the conflict arising out of the old controversy as to clerical control of elementary education between the crown and the majority of the electorate.

The recent general election left the new ministry with a minority of two in the chamber, and the Liberal and Socialist majority has recently held a big demonstration in support of parliamentary government. A monster petition was sent to the young Duchess praying her to observe the constitution, but she has intimated that the Ministry will have her support.

Developments are therefore awaited with interest. As matters now stand the Grand Duchess, who has so bravely held out against the invaders of her country, is now allied with the Clerical party, which is German in inspiration and sympathy, while the affinities of the opposition are with Belgium and France.

Should the conditions necessitate the Ministry seeking the support of the German army of occupation, which seems highly probable at this writing, there is small doubt that the Duchy of Luxemburg will become one of the German federated states.

FLIGHTS OF A BOSTON BIRD.

It was said of the Oklahoma bandit who was pardoned and then ran for Governor on his merits, "He has the courage of his convictions"—two convictions for stage robbery.

This is the case with Progressive Party Leader Charles Sumner Bird. He proposes to capture the Republican delegation from Massachusetts to Chicago for Roosevelt, not by skulduggery, but by audacity. He has associated with him in this enterprise Grafton D. Cushing and A. P. Gardner, who were Taft delegates to the Republican National Convention in 1912, and Robert M. Washburn, who has always been a straight Republican, and these four gentlemen have signed and issued the following pronunciamento:

"We are tired of vague statements and beating around the bush.

"We propose to go straight to the point and give everyone a chance to know for what he is voting in the primaries.

"We don't want to go unpledged.

"We want Roosevelt for President."

While this twittering of the Bird of Beacon street and the little cock sparrows he has beguiled may contribute to the gaiety of nations, it will not help the Bermuda-bound Bull Moose. Massachusetts in 1912 gave Taft 13,726 more votes than she gave Roosevelt, and the stalwarts there are not likely now to desert their colors. And, even should they do so, it would make no difference, for it is a part of the unwritten law that a candidate must have the support of the delegation from his own State. New York in 1912 gave Taft 65,407 more votes than were given to Roosevelt, and the Republicans of the Empire State are no more likely to drop Root and Hughes to pick the exile to Bermuda out of the discard than an intelligent sheep herder would be apt to train a coyote to take the place of a sheep dog in guarding the flock.

Another call for men has been published in England. That means that thousands will be compelled to leave their traditional diet of orange marmalade, bacon and eggs, brussels sprouts, roast beef and apple tarts.

THE CASE OF BRANDEIS.

In the Brandeis investigation before the Senate Judiciary Committee Seward W. Winslow, president of the United Shoe Machinery Company, testified that facts which in 1906 were placed in possession of Brandeis as counsel for the company were subsequently used against the company and Brandeis was paid for the information. Mr. Winslow said:

"Mr. Brandeis, since he left our company, has been guilty of unprofessional conduct, and of conduct not becoming an honorable man, in the following respects:

"First—Mr. Brandeis has, at the instance of new clients, attacked as illegal and criminal the very acts and system of business in which he participated, which he assisted to create, and which he advised were legal, and has persistently sought to injure our business. In so doing, his knowledge of our leases and business, acquired while acting as our director and counsel, has naturally been of value.

"Second—Owing to his long extended connection with our company, as director and counsel, and his acquaintance with our affairs, Mr. Brandeis's statements as to our methods and business have naturally carried an authority which would not otherwise have been accorded them. An honorable man, when acting for other clients, would, in these circumstances, have been scrupulously careful that any statements made by him were truthful. Mr. Brandeis, however, has made false and misleading statements as to our acts and business, both to committees of Congress and elsewhere."

Hugh Bailey of Boston entered into an explanation of the conduct of Brandeis in the Warren will case. He said that Brandeis received $2000 a year from the Warren estate and a like retainer from S. T. Warren, Jr., individually. Samuel D. Warren, at one time Brandeis's law partner, entered into a plan which put him in a position individually antagonistic to his position as trustee of the estate of his father, S. T. Warren, which resulted in a breach of trust. S. D. Warren (Brandeis's partner) and the other trustees made a lease to Brandeis of $2,000,000 worth of property, and Brandeis transferred the lease to Warren. In other words Warren, with the aid of Brandeis as trustee, leased to himself property out of which he received $100,000 per annum, instead of $10,000 previously received. Mr. Bailey testified:

"A transaction by which a lessee conveys property to himself and gets $100,000 a year as salary we do not think was proper. It was not a fair lease."

The "uplifter of humanity," a local journal calls Brandeis! And it looks as though the Senate will confirm the nomination, in spite of everything. He should be defeated on the ground of general unfitness, to say nothing of specific acts.

ILL-TREATMENT OF OIL OPERATORS.

The action of the United States government in pushing suits and availing itself of any technicality against the oil operators to oust them from their claims is based upon the assumption that the government will at some time or other need the oil for the use of the navy. That the navy may need the oil has nothing to do with the moral right of the government to take it. The navy may need a shipbuilding plant, but that is no reason for confiscating a privately-owned plant for that purpose.

It has often been remarked that men as government officers will be guilty of mean and dishonest acts that they would be ashamed to commit in their own business relations. This truth has found exemplification in the dealing of the Attorney-General's department with California oil operators. That official assumes that the people now in possession of the oil lands are trespassers and that it is the duty of his department to oust them from their holdings.

He overlooks the fact that these so-called trespassers went upon the oil lands at the invitation of the United States government extended in the act of Congress of 1897. Prospecting for oil requires a much larger expenditure and is attended with greater uncertainty than prospecting for gold. The oil land locators under the law of 1897 expended millions of dollars sinking wells. In many instances after oil was developed patents were issued, and in other instances expensive work was being diligently prosecuted when, on September 27, 1909, President Taft was misled by the Pinchot gang into issuing an order withdrawing the California oil lands from entry.

President Taft expressed doubts as to his authority to issue the order even as to unlocated lands, and as to located lands he expressed himself very clearly, for in the order of withdrawal he said:

"All locations and claims existing and valid on this date may proceed to entry in the usual manner after filing, investigation and examination."

The act of 1897 prescribes what shall constitute a valid location. The locator must follow the mining law with respect to the location and holding of placer claims. In the case of placer claims he must discover mineral, locate the claim, mark its boundaries, record his notice of location, and thereafter do $100 worth of work each year upon it. If he does these things he has a "valid" location.

In order to settle the question as to the power of the President to make withdrawal of oil lands Congress, on June 25, 1910, passed the Pickett bill authorizing the President to make withdrawals of lands. This law contained the following provision: "Providing that the rights of any person who, at the date of order of withdrawal heretofore or hereafter made, is a bona fide occupant or claimant of oil or gas-bearing lands, and who, at such date, is in diligent prosecution of work leading to the discovery of oil or gas, shall not be affected or impaired by such order so long as such occupant or claimant shall continue in diligent prosecution of said work."

Under the guise of saving the rights of those who had located claims on lands included within an order of withdrawal, the Pickett bill imposed an additional and a very drastic and costly condition upon them. Under the act of 1897 it was only required that the locator should do $100 worth of work each year on each claim. Under the Pickett bill the locator was required to be continuously diligent in prosecuting work. On a placer claim one man with a pick and shovel could do $100 worth of work in six weeks. In boring for oil two or three men would be required, as well as expensive machinery, and it would be impossible to be "continuously diligent" at a cost of less than $2000 or $3000 per annum. The locator who had entered upon the land under an implied contract that he might acquire a title to it at an expenditure of $100 per annum was required by the Pickett bill to expend twenty or thirty times that sum. This was certainly ex post facto legislation which impaired the obligation of his contract with the government.

But the oil operators of California whose claims were located prior to the passage of the Pickett law did not claim—as they might have done—exemption from its operations. Almost without exception they complied with it and expended millions of dollars in development work upon lands on which claims had been initiated long prior to the date of withdrawal.

Then came the Attorney-General's department, and in a spirit of pettifogging befitting a police court shyster and unbefitting the government of the United States, claimed that if there was any lack of diligence at the date of the withdrawal, in September, 1909, or nine months prior to the Pickett bill, which notified the oil operator for the first time that he must use such diligence; that this lack of diligence, nine months before any notice that such diligence was required, now works a forfeiture for his claim.

The oil operators claim that this is not the law, but that, if it is the law, it is so harsh, inequitable and unjust that no government should attempt to enforce it.

Another and still more technical claim of the law department of the government is that an oil operator who at the date of the Taft order of withdrawal had not yet struck oil, although he might have expended $100,000 in machinery and work, had not yet "discovered" oil, and therefore, under the law of 1897, had not made a "valid" location. As he had not a valid location before the Taft order of withdrawal was made, and could not make a valid location after it was made, he was therefore not a "bona fide occupant," and even the Pickett bill would not save him.

On these various technical and inequitable constructions of law the Attorney-General's department has filed suits against the Kern county oil operators, claiming:

1. The land.
2. All improvements thereon, which sometimes have cost over $500,000.
3. Full value for every barrel of oil extracted, without allowing anything for cost of production.

The pendency of these suits spells ruin to the small operators and great cost and delay to the large ones. It is for Congress to grant relief by the passage of an appropriate law, and to secure its passage all the Congressmen and both Senators from this State should give their diligent efforts.

RESULTS OF DEMOCRATIC FINANCE.

The customs receipts in 1899 were $206,128,482 on imports of $697,148,489. In 1915 the imports were $1,674,169,740 and the customs receipts were $200,786,612. On two and one-half times the amount of importations we collected less than 2 per cent, more duties.

In the first seven months of 1914 imports increased nearly $81,000,000 over the preceding year of 1913, but the production of income decreased in proportion.

Two sources of revenue, the emergency tax of October, 1914, and the corporation and individual income tax of the act of 1913, make about $132,000,000 of increased revenue, yet with this increase in the revenue the shrinkage in customs duties has been such as to create a deficit in the treasury. The emergency tax has been extended for another year and will probably produce for the full year $80,000,000. The income tax will produce $90,000,000, but even so, revenues will not be equal to the expenditures already planned.

There is but one way out of the financial entanglements in which Democratic legislation has enmeshed us, and that is by a return to the Republican tariff. The tariff law that the Democrats repealed not only provided a revenue, but worked for the interests of the nation's prosperity. The Underwood tariff is an utter failure. The Democrats promised that it would reduce the cost of merchandise and correspondingly reduce the cost of living. It has reduced revenues, but the cost of living is higher than before. The income tax was to meet the deficiency, but it failed to do so.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS IN KANSAS.

While in the other States of the Union, woman is granted greater or less freedom, in Kansas she has all the rights that other States give her, and more besides. The Omaha News calls attention to the recent enumeration of these by the Attorney-General of Kansas, quoting them as follows:

She can take back her maiden name after her husband is dead without any legal process or legislative act.

She can keep her own name when she is married.

She can persuade her husband to take her name and give up his family-name if she doesn't like it.

She can keep her maiden name for business purposes and use her husband's name for social affairs.

If she does not like either her own or husband's family-name, they can change to a name that does please them.

She can wear men's clothing without any restriction except that she must not try to pass herself off as a man.

She can vote at every election.

She can hold any office in the State and run for Congress.

She can hold property in her own right and dispose of her share of the family property by will.

She can take up a homestead or school lands as her own property.

OUR NAVAL STRENGTH AND THAT OF JAPAN.

[CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES]

BY K. K. KAWAKAMI,

Author of "American-Japanese Relations," "Asia at the Door," Etc.

SINCE the Wilson administration announced its stupendous defense programme advocates of preparedness have been harping upon the popular notion of the "Japanese Peril." They have been telling us that the Mikado has a navy powerful enough to attack the United States once he makes up his mind to pick a quarrel with Uncle Sam. Let us see how true such a statement is.

At present Japan's naval fleet consists of six dreadnaughts, four battle-cruisers, thirteen battleships of the pre-dreadnaught type, four cruisers, fifty destroyers and seventeen submarines. All told Japan's warships aggregate 560,434 tons.

As against this strength, America has a fleet totalling 1,271,117 tons, i.e., 710,683 tons more than the Japanese squadron. To enter into details, the American navy, as it stands today, consists of nineteen dreadnaughts (including the two now under construction and known simply as No. 43 and No. 44,) twenty-three battleships of the pre-dreadnaught type, ten cruisers, sixty-two destroyers, fifty-one submarines and twenty-two colliers.

The face of these figures shows that the Japanese navy has about one-half the strength of the American navy. But when we study the nature of the ships on both sides the inferiority of the Japanese fleet becomes all the more obvious. In the first place, the American dreadnaughts are much larger than the Japanese. Of the American fleet the seven largest dreadnaughts have each a displacement of 32,500 tons, while the four largest Japanese dreadnaughts are of a displacement of 30,600 tons each. Again, as against six American dreadnaughts of 27,500 tons each, Japan has only four battle-cruisers of the same size. The remaining two dreadnaughts of Japan are of a displacement of 20,800 tons each, whereas the United States has two dreadnaughts of 27,343 tons each, two of 21,825 tons each, two of 20,000 tons each, and two of 16,000 tons each.

In the second place, the American dreadnaughts are equipped with larger numbers of more powerful guns than are the Japanese. Of nineteen American dreadnaughts seven are equipped with twelve fourteen-inch guns, four with ten fourteen-inch guns, two with twelve twelve-inch guns, four with ten twelve-inch and two with eight twelve-inch guns. On the Japanese side there is not a single dreadnaught equipped with so many as twelve fourteen-inch guns. To be more accurate, of six Japanese dreadnaughts four have only ten fourteen-inch guns, while two are equipped with twelve twelve-inch guns. The Japanese battle-cruisers, four in all, have each only eight fourteen-inch guns.

In the third place, Japan has thirteen battleships of the pre-dreadnaught type totalling 193,666 tons, while the United States has twenty-three with a total displacement of 314,906 tons. Here it is important to note that only two of thirteen Japanese battleships are fit to stand on the first line of battle as against America's six.

In the fourth place, America has sixty-two destroyers as against Japan's fifty. On the face of the figures the difference does not seem very great, but we must remember that most American destroyers are over 800 tons and therefore seagoing, while the Japanese navy has only six destroyers above 800 tons. Most Japanese destroyers are not seagoing, but are for coast defense. Thus sixty-two American destroyers have a total tonnage of 73,097, while fifty Japanese destroyers aggregate only 36,118 tons.

In the fifth place, Japan has only seventeen submarines as against America's fifty-one. Here, too, most American submarines are of a large type and seagoing, while Japan's are not.

In the sixth place, the American navy has twenty-two colliers aggregating 236,401 tons, while Japan has none. In a naval expedition to distant waters the collier is as important as the fighting craft. The Japanese navy, being primarily intended to protect Chinese and Japanese waters within easy reach from its bases of operation, has made no such elaborate provision for supplying the warships with fuel as has been made by the American navy. In case of emergency Japan requisitions merchant ships for colliers, which is of course very unsatisfactory as compared with the American method.

This, in brief, is the relative naval strength of Japan and the United States at present. It is evident that the American navy in its existing condition is almost three times as powerful as the Japanese navy, provided, of course, that the Panama Canal will ensure the safe passage of the Atlantic fleet to the Pacific.

[This editorial takes into consideration only the present actual naval strength of the two powers. In a following article Mr. Kawakami will consider the relative strength as it will stand when present building programmes shall have been completed.—Ed.]

Let the Children Rule.

[Leslie:] An Ohio man refused to send his daughter to school because he believed the world was flat, not round.

Union musicians in Trenton, N. J., have entered a protest against permitting the school children's bands to accept engagements.

A thirteen-year-old boy in New York refused to live with his father and left home to seek his own living because the father had married five days after the death of his wife.

A fifteen-year-pupil in a New York public school, because his teacher punished him, went out, got a revolver, came back and threatened to shoot his teacher dead if he moved from his seat. He was arrested.

A medical journal recommends that school children be put through "nose drills" under a competent physician to show them how to blow their noses properly.

Let the children rule!

Her Tender Conscience.

[Philadelphia Public Ledger:] Molly and Minnie were two little girls who had been very carefully brought up. Particularly had they learned that they must never tell a lie—not even a "white" lie—nor deceive any one.

One day these small girls met a large cow in a field they were crossing. They were much frightened and stopped, not knowing what to do. Then said Minnie:

"I know, Molly. Let's go right on and pretend we're not afraid of it."

But Molly's conscience was wide awake.

"Wouldn't that be deceiving the cow?" she objected.

[Washington Star:] "Does your wife favor useful gifts?" "Too much," replied Mr. Meekton. "For Christmas she bought me a nice, new snow shovel."

The campaign in the vicinity of [illegible] appears to be all over but the fighting.

It is impossible to purify the water by whitewashing the pump. It has been tried.

There are two reasons for asking a question—to secure information and to start an argument.

We are still willing to bet that some of these days Italy will enter the war on the side of the allies.

Directions in Los Angeles are given as "north so many cafeterias, east so many cafeterias," etc., etc.

Former Secretary of War Garrison says he will not go on the stump. He probably intends to go to the tall timber.

There ought to be a lot of ghosts in the Tiger camp if Jack Warburg goes to the Coast. Do you follow?

Where will all of the great orators one hundred years hence when all but earth makes us all of one size?

They are now serving punch at the White House receptions, but it isn't the kind President Wilson handed the [illegible] Mexico.

Col. E. M. House says that President Wilson is a great man. As House has the President's confidence, Woodrow probably told him.

The tailors in convention say that a "gentleman" must have at least fourteen suits. That does not of course include the [illegible] of promise suit.

The government is asking for bids for the delivery of mail by aeroplanes. The successful bidder must pay his repair bills and funeral expenses.

That large head in the perisoope is William Jennings Bryan looking about to see if the Woodrow Wilson merchandise is approaching in the offing.

It is of no particular interest that the war has cut off the supply of German dyes. We can make it over here that smells as bad as anything Germany can produce.

What would some of the preachers along Broadway do without the silvered mirrors in the store fronts? It affords an elegant opportunity to do a bit of [illegible].

Senator Walter R. Edgerton announces candidacy for the Governorship of Nebraska. He evidently is of the opinion that the State has come to the jumping-off.

Jess Willard, it is reported, is suffering from neuralgia and will not meet Frank Moran on March 25. The trouble is in the face, but by declining to fight it is [illegible] in saving it.

There are a lot of voters in this country who favor preparedness, but who don't think very much of the Wilson plan of playing politics as a runner-up in a race that should be nonpartisan.

Secretary of State Lansing is [illegible] the administration choice for Governor of New York. Lansing ought to [illegible] music by this time; he has [illegible] Wilson notes often enough.

Remember what President Wilson said about hoping to see Germany [illegible] retire four years with his Cabinet. Two have stepped down and out, at least that many more ought to do so.

We know men who ought to [illegible] and morning that the people do not [illegible] what humbugs they are; and others should do the same thing that they may discover themselves what humbugs they are.

There is a large reward for the capture of the man who can be here and [illegible] at the same time. There was a man of that sort once and his wife took him while he delivered clothes.

Will Bryan do to Wilson what he did to Champ Clark? Why, yes, by all odds, for unless Bryan puts on his most picturesque stunt it will not be possible for the Democratic National Convention to get on the first page of the news.

There is but one government [illegible] school in this country, at West Point. There should be a half-dozen more in the event of a great emergency. We should have an army of experienced officers and men. They need not [illegible] army career.

Sounds Reasonable.

DEMANDS THAT CITY OBEY STATE'S LAW.

PASADENA ENJOYS ADVANTAGE OVER BUSINESS RIVAL.

Pacific Light and Power Asks that Regulations of the State Railroad Commission be Extended to Include Municipal Plant Selling to Outside Consumers.

Whether a municipally-owned business may enjoy privileges denied a private concern engaged in the same business, is a question put squarely to the State Railroad Commission by the Pacific Light and Power Corporation.

The case is that of the city of Pasadena, but the decision will effect every city of the State which engages in the distribution of any utility beyond its boundaries.

The Pasadena municipal electric plant distributes electricity to South Pasadena. The contention of the Pacific company is that when the city plant furnishes current to consumers beyond the city limits, the city should be required to obtain from the State Railroad Commission a "certificate of necessity and convenience," in the same manner as a private corporation is compelled to do, before it may extend its business into competing territory.

The commission does not permit privately owned utilities companies to enter fields already well and reasonably served, and the commission, through approval of securities of the companies, accepts to an extent responsibility for the value of their securities.

The South Pasadena case is looked on to create a precedent in the State, and the decision will have a basic effect on the operation of all municipal plants in California. For this reason, developments will be watched carefully by the local power bureau and the Public Service Commission. If the Pacific Light and Power Company wins its point before the Railroad Commission, it is expected that all municipal plants will be required to file annual statements with the commission, in the same manner required of privately-owned companies and, outside the limits of the home city, the Railroad Commission will have power to establish rates for all service.

Dissatisfied.

CONTEST STEWART WILL.

Children Oppose Probate on Grounds that Former Councilman and Chamber of Commerce Head Lacked Testimentary Ability.

A legal battle will be staged today in Judge Houser's court in an effort to revoke the probate of the will of the late George H. Stewart, a former City Councilman and at one time the president of the Chamber of Commerce. The will is being contested by the children of Mr. Stewart's first wife, who allege that undue influence was used and that Mr. Stewart was physically and mentally incompetent when the will was executed.

The estate, which at first was thought to be worth $100,000, is now said to have been appraised at $38,-147, with an indebtedness, exclusive of the expense of administration, of $8000. The will gave two daughters $3000 each, the son $2000, the son's wife $1000, an aged sister $2000. In the life time of the decedent he deeded to his second wife property valued at $7000 and a vacant lot valued at $1500. Both of these properties have increased slightly in value. After the above bequests had been made in the will, the remainder of the property was bequeathed to the widow.

In the original will, dated October 26, 1912, Mr. Stewart neglected to provide for his son, Alexander Barnes Stewart, but in a codicil, dated October 29, he bequeathed him $2000 and his wife $1000.

Mr. Stewart died in Shanghai, China, January 12, 1913.

The will contest today will be based on allegations that prior to the time the will and codicil were signed, Mr. Stewart showed signs of mental and physical decrepitude, while on the other hand, the widow will contend that he was in a proper condition to realize all acts and that he made the will without outside influence.

VETERAN PASSES AWAY.

Philip Reiber, aged 68 years, a veteran of the Civil War, passed away at the Crocker Street Hospital on the 15th inst., after a long illness. Funeral services will be conducted from the parlors of Pierce Bros., No. 810 South Flower street, this afternoon at 2 o'clock, under auspices of the Stanton Post, G.A.R. The body will be interred at Rosedale Cemetery. Mr. Reiber leaves two sons, both of whom reside in the East.

TAKES OWN LIFE.

Aged Veteran of War Had Suffered Illness Until Mind Was Deranged.

Theodore Todd, 77 years old, a retired and wealthy farmer, committed suicide early Monday morning by cutting his throat with a large knife, at his residence, No. 525 Stanford avenue. It is believed by his widow that Mr. Todd's mind was temporarily deranged as a result of illness.

Mrs. Todd told Deputy Coroner Williams, who handled the case, that she was lying in bed in her room at 8 o'clock yesterday morning when the tragedy occurred. She heard her husband fall to the floor and rushing to his aid found him in a dying condition from loss of blood. Mr. Todd died before physicians arrived.

Mr. Todd came to California from the East about forty-five years ago. He had lived in this city for more than twenty years.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the Peck & Chase chapel, under the auspices of the Stanton Post, G.A.R., of which Mr. Todd was a well known member. Interment will be in the Rosedale Cemetery.

TO SIFT DUEL REPORT.

Police Act After Special Officer Narrates Bandit Incident.

Three bandits, hovering over an unopened safe in "Suicide Glen" in Elysian Park, were disturbed Monday morning by Special Officer George Burns, and a revolver duel resulted, in which one of the bandits was injured, according to Mr. Burns's report to the police.

The men came in a small auto, which they left near by with the engine running. Then they carried the safe into the darkest recesses of the glen and attempted to open it with a hammer and crowbar.

Mr. Burns stepped on a twig as he was stalking them, attracting their attention. They opened fire without preliminary.

Mr. Burns said they ran away, leaving the safe. Later investigation by the police resulted in a report to headquarters that the safe had been at that spot for a year, and was well rusted. Officer Burns's report is to be investigated.

Wonderful Collection of Oriental Rugs

There has been placed on exhibit an exquisite and rare collection of Oriental Rugs by Mr. M. K. Bistany at his store, 611-615 W. Seventh St., opposite Robinson's, Home phone A2264. These are pieces that have never been shown in this country and were taken from the customhouse a short time ago. The entire collection will be placed on sale for a short time only, and those who are interested in Oriental Rugs, will have an opportunity to make a choice selection and save considerable money. The war has not affected the prices of this rare collection, as the entire lot were imported before the war, but were lost track of for nine months. Here you will find rugs of all sizes and shapes, from the smallest to the largest. One Keshan, a royal piece, measures 27 ft. 2 in. by 17 ft. 2 in.—a masterpiece; we urge all lovers of Oriental rugs to call and view this piece, a marvelous work. Mr. Bistany wishes to emphasize the fact that his stay in Los Angeles will be of short duration, as this famous rug collector must soon leave for the East. It is his intention to sell every rug possible here, as he does not care to ship them East. Dozens of the most unique rugs in various sizes have been priced so low that it will pay one handsomely to call before purchasing rugs elsewhere. Consider this a personal invitation to inspect this handsome lot of genuine Oriental rugs.

Society.

Powdered wigs and beauty patches, the dainty Dolly Varden and polonnaise of other days, laces and frills, waistcoats and knee breeches, the old-fashioned cotillion and stately minuet, all came into their own with much gusto at the various parties and balls held at the hotels and in private homes last night, in celebration of Washington's Birthday.

And the Red, White and Blue, our American flag, cherry trees and hatchets were at a premium.

One of the prettiest colonial balls was given in the imposing gold and white Louis XIV ballroom of the Virginia, when, under the direction of Mrs. Caroline Blair Downing, twenty couples in powdered head-dress and richly-brocaded satin costumes, the ladies in panniers and their escorts in knee breeches and velvet dress and colonial buckled pumps, danced the intricate cotillion with much grace. One of the prettiest features was the distribution of pink ruches and pink baskets, containing showers of violets, to the ladies, and boutonnieres for the gentlemen. They also instituted a clever Cinderella feature, when partners were chosen by matching dainty slippers to the feet of hidden owners, much to the merriment of all. Gaily-colored and shaped hats, both pretty and grotesque, were also introduced for one special dance, and favors were lavishly dispensed. The evening concluded with a gay supper dance.

The Hotel Green and the Maryland, at Pasadena, both gave colonial balls, though the Maryland dance was not a costume affair. The elaborate decorations and cotillion favors at the Maryland were distinctly patriotic.

Between 300 and 400 society folk gathered at the Beverly Hills Hotel last night for the colonial cotillion, many motoring out from town to join the merry throng of guests from all points of the compass now at the hotel. The ballroom was beautifully decorated for the occasion, as was the arbor room, where supper was served from 10 to 12. The dainty favors were sufficiently novel to bring with them many surprises, as well as much fun. For one figure the favors were whips, pink paper, harness and jockey caps, and the means of identifying one's partner a number cleverly woven into an armlet, on which was the time-honored hatchet. Other attractive favors were staffs crowned with huge bouquets, crowns, caned, lovely parasols and bonnets calculated to make coquettes out of the most sedate.

Mrs. Eleanor F. Woodbury of the Strathmore entertained over 150 guests at a colonial ball, colonial pictures and flags forming effective decorations. All were in costume, and the minuet brought back early history, with its graceful, stately steps.

Ball at Del Monte.

Up at Del Monte, always a favorite rendezvous with Angelenos, the annual midwinter golf tournament was brought to a brilliant close with a masque leap-year ball and the opening of the new grill. Mrs. Edgar de Wolfe gave her personal attention to the final touches on the grill, all in green and white, with a large dancing space in the center, sufficiently big to accommodate 150. All the traditional features of colonial elegance were worn.

Among the polo enthusiasts at Del Monte are George E. Sykes of Paicines and M. C. Mason of Watsonville. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Grant, Miss Edith Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Grant arrived Tuesday night. Mrs. Douglas Grant is being greatly admired for her beauty and manner. She is an English girl and quite naturally takes to the tennis, golf and horseback riding.

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. B. Morse of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Remington of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Palmer of Seattle, John F. Bush of New York, Samuel G. Blythe of Washington, Mrs. B. G. Simpson of Stockton, John P. Babcock of Victoria, Lady Beck of Canada, Sir F. and Lady Webster and their son Wallace are among the guests arriving last week.

Enjoying the Country.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dana Lombard of Beverly Hills are spending a few days delightfully at the Crags.

Mrs. Boushey Much Entertained.

In honor of Mrs. Homer Boushey of Chicago, who is wintering at the Beverly Hills Hotel, Mrs. Robert P. McReynolds will entertain with a party at the dinner-dance at the Midwick Country Club tonight. Mrs. William H. Workman, Jr., another of Mrs. Boushey's friends of her school days, entertained at tea yesterday in her honor.

Notables from the East.

On a tour of the entire United States, Mr. and Mrs. James McLean of New York arrived here Sunday in their private car. The McLeans, who are at the Beverly Hills Hotel, have with them Miss E. L. McLean, Mrs. A. Tinker and her two sons, Teddy and James McLean Tinker, all of New York City, and Mrs. S. W. Moore of Kansas City. Mr. McLean is one of this country's leading copper magnates, and his visit here, though solely one of pleasure, has an interest exceeding the purely social.

Mr. and Mrs. John Northway of Toronto have recently joined the colony of visitors from that Canadian city now at the Beverly Hills Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. W. Walsh, also of Toronto, are recent arrivals. Mr. Walsh is an official of the Dominion Express Company. In the party with him and Mrs. Walsh are Mr. and Mrs. J. Melady of New York with their two children.

The Allies' Carnival.

Some intensely interesting features are developing each day in preparation for the allies' carnival, by far the largest philanthropy attracting society just now. As the opening Friday evening draws nearer, at Shrine Auditorium, the various booths are fast taking on a finished appearance, each carrying out suggestively the country represented.

Ireland is to be a refreshing bit of green and white among the heavier booths of the other colonies. The booth itself will be decorated with real English ivy and other green and white foliage. The ladies assisting will be dressed some of them in the beautiful Irish costumes of green and white, others will wear lingerie frocks with green ribbon trimmings, and picture hats. As the carnival is shortly before St. Patrick's Day, Shamrock and other souvenirs of the day will be for sale, and it is hoped all friends will purchase their St. Patrick's Day favors at the Irish booth.

An interesting bit will be the Amateur Players Quartette, consisting of Henry Daly, Blake Smith, Arthur Dodsworth and Walter Story, who advertise the sheet music for sale there by singing the quaint Irish melodies in such a fashion that their hearers cannot resist purchasing the music.

As the money from this booth goes to the Aberdeen fund of America, to be used for the benefit of the poor children of Ireland, it is very appropriate that autograph photos of Lord and Lady Aberdeen will be for sale, and that Baron Scotford, who has made a silhouette of Lord Aberdeen, will cut silhouettes at the Irish booth during the evening. Candy will be for sale, also beautiful pieces of regular Irish linen made in table covers, doilies, bureau scarfs, etc. Mrs. Hancock Banning is in charge of the booth, and those assisting her are Mrs. W. H. Clark, Jr., Mrs. Avery McCarthy, Mrs. Ralph Williams, Mrs. Michael Connell, Mrs. J. F. Sartori, Mrs. William A. Brackenridge, Mrs. Harry Colebourn Turner, Mrs. Frank Vanderlip, Mrs. E. L. Doheny, Mrs. Rufus Spalding, Mrs. Howard Huntington, Mrs. Walter Leeds, Mrs. J. C. Nevin, Mrs. Earl Mueller, Mrs. Raymond Stevens, Mrs. Sydney I. Wales, Mrs. Hugh Stewart, Mrs. Guy Barham, Mrs. Richard Lacy, Mrs. Godfrey Holterhoff, Mrs. T. R. McCann, Mrs. Frederick Barrows, Mrs. Walter Storey, Mrs. Harry Lombard, Mrs. Arthur Letts, Mrs. Samuel Brown Thomas, Mrs. Walter Comstock; Messrs. Walter Comstock, Herman Janss, Carroll Allen, Robert Monroe, H. H. Warner; Misses Eleanor Banning, Gertrude King, Freda Maw, Catherine Mellus, Ruth Powell, Dorothy Williams, Anita Patten, Constance Collier, Iris Tree, Messrs. Thomas Bruen Brown, H. B. Warner, W. Gerard, Chester Shepard, Arthur Hoyt, J. Warren Carrigan, Aleck Macdonald, Leo Walsh, Owen Moore, Miss Jane Richardson, Eleanor Workman, Mary Scott, Cecil Call.

The Welsh booth is not entirely planned, but it will specialize in fancy work articles for babies and small children. All those assisting will be in the typical and most picturesque Welsh costumes. Miss Beatrice Fox is in charge, and assisting her are Miss Annie H. Allen, Mrs. Harold E. Allen, Mrs. William Bowring, Mrs. Andrew Chaffey, Mrs. Charles V. Craig, Mrs. Conway Evans, Mrs. Charles J. Fox, Jr., Miss Alice Greerson, Mrs. George A. Hawkins-Ambler, Miss Mildred Mathewson, Miss Camilla McConnell, Miss Charlotte Mytton, Miss Rita Morres, Miss Annie Mumford, Miss Anne Patton, Mrs. William Richards, Miss Clara Smith, Miss Alwynne Thomas, Miss Margaret Trew, Miss Sophie Vernon, Miss Elsie Wright and Miss Ina Young.

At the Shrine.

The Queen Alexandra Chapter of the Daughters of the British Empire are very proud of the attractions they have assembled for their South African booth at the great allies' benefit forthcoming at the Shrine Auditorium. No less a prize than a petticoat crocheted by the fingers of Queen Mary has been secured for exhibition, but perhaps the strongest drawing card will be the auction sale of two silk flags, conducted by Madame Melba, who is the largest personal contributor to date to the cause of war sufferers. A remarkable crystal-gazer, Mrs. Constantine Aperglies, will also present a popular appeal.

Various booths will offer for sale Easter cards and boutonnieres, fancy articles, gold nuggets, Kimberley diamonds, flags, fruit and home-made delicacies, lucky soldiers and dolls. A group of young ladies dressed as typical British South Africans will include the Misses Marjory Corsan, Winnifred Coen, Lucy Coen, Mildred Bullfinch, Muriel Kirckhoffer, Isobel Richards, Bessie Richards, Helen Mitchel, Margaret McNeill, Marion Macarthur, Marjory McCammond, Dorothy McCammond, Evelyn Lewis, Mildred Scott, Alice Scott and Mary Ward. A company of Boy Scouts will also be on hand.

The following ladies, under the direction of Mrs. James McGregor, are in charge: Mrs. C. M. Gordon, Mrs. C. C. Gardiner, Mrs. D. Clarke, Mrs. R. Kirckhoffer, Mrs. Roderick Scott, Mrs. A. Harcourt-Wilson, Mrs. Percy Allen, Mrs. M. E. Corsan, Mrs. James North, Mrs. W. A. McCammond, Mrs. W. A. McIntosh, Mrs. C. N. Coen, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. A. Macarthur, Mrs. R. H. C. Green, Mrs. M. Jackson and Mrs. J. C. Egerton-Henry.

To Soon Wed.

Mrs. M. J. McCarthy of No. 4600 South Figueroa street makes formal announcement of the engagement of her daughter, Kathleen A., to Edwin K. McComb. The wedding will take place in the near future.

Mrs. A. L. Winthrop and daughter, Miss Paula, of Oak Knoll, Pasadena, entertained last night at the Virginia Hotel to dinner, with covers for Miss Kathryn M. Ryan, who leaves for Chicago and New York the first of March, honoree, and Miss Adelaide Mott, Chicago; Miss Anna Payson, Miss Alice Ryan, Miss Anne Powell Ryan, Miss Lillian Mesner, Messrs. Kelly, Winthrop, Holmes, Winters, Fairchild, Stewart and Ingraham, with the hostesses.

The personnel attended the dance later.

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Wilson.

An Interesting Betrothal.

The engagement of Miss Monnie Hayes, a prominent young soprano of this city, and James Neil Hastings, associate counsel of the Title Insurance Company, has just been formally announced. The wedding will take place in the early summer. Miss Hayes for several years has been a protege of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lott, who recognized her marked musical ability.

To Tour the Orient.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wallis of Sixth street and Harvard boulevard, accompanied by their daughters, Misses Ethelwyn, Harvie and Byrd Wallis, will sail from San Francisco on the Chiyo Maru, March 2, on a three-months' tour of the Orient. The party will visit Honolulu, Japan, China, the Philippines, Korea and Manchuria.

For Former Resident.

Frederick Kimball Stearns of Beverly Hills has as his house guests Mr. and Mrs. Amatha Spring, formerly residents of Beverly Hills, who are now living in San Francisco. At the cotillion given at the Beverly Hills Hotel on Washington's birthday, Mr. Stearns entertained for Mr. and Mrs. Spring, the party including Mrs. Lawrence Kelsey, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Cadwallader and Eugene Dike.

Natal Day Luncheon.

In observance of the birthday of Mrs. M. W. Harker, her sister, Mrs H. C. Levey of Glendale recently gave a pretty luncheon, covers being laid at a board exquisite with violets and red rosebuds for the honoree, Mrs Chester Brown, Mrs. A. Milbach, Mrs. A. M. Gibbs, Mrs. C. LeRoy Lowman, Mrs. H. B. Ferris, Miss Mary Cunningham, Miss Bertha Bosbyshell, Mrs. F. Fabrick and the hostess.

ECHOES OF THE PAST.

"DAPHNE" AWAKENS MEMORY OF OLD-TIME FAVORITES.

By Henry Christeen Warnack.

Much water has swept under the bridge since 1725. Many events have transpired since that date.

For instance, "Manin Lescaut" and another French opera of similar characteristics have been written in the intervening years.

Apparently these old favorites have not been forgotten, for the flavor of them clings about "Daphne and the Pirate" at the Majestic this week, like the aroma of roses about a broken vase.

"You may do as you please about "Daphne and the Pirate." You are at liberty to like Daphne and hate the Pirate, or to like the Pirate and dislike Daphne, or to embrace or despise both.

Personally I found nothing violently in their favor or against them. They are the sort of people to whom you would be polite enough to say, "I am glad to have met you," but whom you would not remember if you saw them again in the next block. They are not delightful or disagreeable, but only so-so. They belong to the time that "To Have and to Hold" was written about, and there is a minute when you recall "The Lyons Mail."

The picture has lots of nice detail and plenty of good settings. It must have cost a great deal to make it, and I hope that to somebody it is worth the price. People who care about seeing a play where a petite and piquant maiden must fight through five acts in order to marry the man she originally hated, and who like some blood as a relish with their romance, will enjoy this costume play that scatters itself from France to Louisiana.

Superba.

FILM COMEDY KING.

BARRYMORE CAPTURES ELUSIVE HUMOR VALUES.

By Grace Kingsley.

Not so very moons ago it was believed on all sides that melodrama only was the true province of motion pictures. Then came slap-stick comedy. And next came John Barrymore and other distinguished comedians, and showed that a high grade of motion picture fun-making is quite possible, given a good story and good actors.

John Barrymore, perhaps more than any other comedian, has helped to place film comedy on a higher plane. In "Nearly a King," at the Superba this week, playing the double role of king and "cabby," he illustrates this fact better than in any other film vehicle in which he has appeared. Bright little flashes of real humor are conveyed through situations not at all of the slap-stick or blatantly obvious order, and through clever acting and facial expression.

There is nothing farcical about "Nearly a King," but it is excellent comedy.

MUSICAL NOTES.

Arrangements have just been completed for taking care of the Boston Opera Company and the Pavlowa Imperial Ballet Russe at the Mason during the week of March 6. The seating capacity of the theater is greater than in the case of the Burbank and the stage facilities more adequate for the aggregations of this kind.

The opening production will be "L'Amore dei tre Re," opera, while the "Nut Cracker" suite ballet, music by Tschaikowsky and "Snowflakes" will be presented the same evening by the Pavlowa troupe.

Other operas to be given include "Madame Butterfly," with the Japanese soprano, Tamaki Miura, in the title role; "La Boheme," with Maggie Teyte, Riccardo Martin and Jose Mardones, and "Pagliacci" with Zenatello and Felice Lyne. The opera company and the dancers will join in the presentation of an act from "Carmen" and the "Walpurgis Night" scene "Faust," with ballet, and in a minochoreographic production (in which the terpsichorean artists help interpret the moods of the work) of the Elysian fields scene from Gluck's "Orpheus."

The repertoire of the ballet also includes "Coppelia" by Delibes and a Spanish Ballet, with music by Massenet.

Shakespeare Programme.

A splendid audience was present at the "Music to Shakespeare" concert given by Dr. Bruce Gordon Kingsley and Miss Virginia Goodsell, Sunday afternoon at Trinity. After a few introductory remarks by Dr. Kingsley, tracing the growth of the drama from the time of the ancient Greeks and Romans up to Spanish tragedies and English productions, interesting information was given about the England of Shakespeare.

The first number, "The Midsummer Night's Dream" overture by Mendelssohn with its dainty sparkling fairy music and imitation of the braying of the ass, drew forth hearty applause. It was followed by a group of Shakespearean songs by Miss Goodsell, who later responded with a charming little encore music entitled "The Sweet Little Doll," by Dr. Kingsley, written to the words of Charles Kingsley.

Miss Goodsell was in excellent voice, her dramatic passages strong and vigorous and her light coloratura work rippling and piquant, well befitting the music of mediaeval England.

The most dramatic number on the programme was the Tschaikowsky fantasie-overture to "Romeo and Juliet." Concluding numbers were the Schubert songs, "Who is Sylvia?" and "Hark, Hark! the Lark," and the ever welcome overture to "The Merry Wives of Windsor."

TALK ON LUMBER.

The Los Angeles division of the International Sales Managers Association will meet in the Hotel Clark this evening, at 6:15 o'clock, when R. W. Brown, California representative of Sudden & Christensen, will speak on the subject, "The Manufacture, Shipment and Sale of Lumber." Mr. Brown's firm is one of the largest shippers of lumber in the world, dealing with many countries, and his talk will include features of the foreign trade. Visiting sales managers are invited.

Fingering Finery.

AMONG THE STORES AND ADMIDST THE SHOPS.

Along Our Dazzling Streets, where Dame Fashion's Shopping is Done.

BY OLIVE GRAY.

Now is the time to buy:

The new lighting fixture which you have long been wishing for. There is a sale of such for less.

Dormant rose bushes and other flowering shrubs for the favorite corner in the forthcoming garden. There are sales wherein you may purchase many for the price of one.

The odd dish or dishes for the completion of your table service. There is a sale of such articles to celebrate the removal of that china department to the fifth floor.

Practical suggestion: When the fruit-jar cover refuses to be removed place the jar in a pan half filled with cold water and allow it to come to a boil and to continue boiling for several minutes, after which treatment it will easily be uncovered.

Air Your Head!

If, when beaching or motoring, or spending time out of doors in any sport or amusement, you will wear one of those California sun hats, you will find your head health improved. These hats are built on the plan of a tent with a fly, so that there is ample space between "decks" for the air to circulate. They are formed from straw and bound and stringed with pretty colors. Incidentally—although some may think it mainly—they shade the face. They are "made in Los Angeles," which should be the catch phrase for patronage, always.

Motor Fits.

Not a new disease, as you might think, but a new outfit for motor picnicking. It is the nick of time to think about such outfits, too, just as the balmy air invites us forth to remain for hours in the open. If there is anything lacking in that new motor outfit, I cannot think what it may be and I defy you to do so. Oh, yes, special sale of them.

"Bub."

This is what I would call him. Such a sassy little dear is he! Red hair, freckles to match—freckles even on the rims of his ears, I'll wager! The merriest twinkle in his eye and altogether so lovable that you want to hug him and at once you give the order: "One of those for me! Yes, send him home!" For you feel that home will no longer be home without that adorable little boy and you adopt him with no other ceremony than payment of the fraction of a dollar which is asked. The red hair and the freckles are furnished by your imagination, but they must be there, even though they do not loom large in plaster. Yes, he's only plaster; but as lovable as plaster can make a boy. He's the very latest of his kind. One of those popular creations which everybody is sure to want. Barefooted and bare bodied, he is still beyond the criticism of the chemically poor.

New Panamas.

Spring panamas are an annual event. How will they be shaped, how trimmed this year? This is always one of the first questions of the budding season. The query is answered, early; for in that big clothing and furnishing store on Broadway, where the latest modes in women's outing hats are always shown, there are new panamas galore. They are more stunning than ever, for they are trimmed appropriately—something which cannot always be said of trimmed outing hats. It is real art to know when to stop trimming a panama and these are not over-trimmed. Many are banded in ribbon and there are just a few flowers of the same color sprouting from out the band. Others have odd twisted ornaments formed from the ribbon banding. The ribbons used are novel and fancy, some in several colors or tones of the same color. In one or two cases, the crown and brim are covered band-wise with silk and the flowers are of the same. In every instance the blossoms are formal and are carefully formed, usually with corded stems. All in all, it is one of the best exhibitions of panamas ever seen.

Men's Panamas.

Men's panamas have taken on some of the features of feminine outing hats. For example, see the bands of varnished leather! We wore such, several seasons since; and are still wearing them. They are completed by a modest buckle; but there's no telling what that buckle may lead to. It may the forerunner of others set with gems and of be-buckled shoes and other finery of the colonial days, for all we know! Such frivolities have been predicted for many seasons past.

Button Boxes.

A whole box of buttons for the price of the usual smallest card of common buttons! Could anyone resist such a gamble? Those boxes—about the size of spool cotton boxes—fairly glitter with every imaginable sort of button, from the plainest pearl to those beset with jewels. Why, one would have to buy, just out of curiosity, if one did not expect to need a button of any kind for many years to come.

157 Varieties and Yet—

"Never have I seen so many or such lovely patterns in tub silks!" I exclaimed as I conned over the silk counters in that old reliable store on upper Broadway, where the silks always grow. "There never were as many!" replied the man, as he fingered them lovingly. Truly there were tints and combinations of color which I never expected to behold in washable silks—row after row, counter after counter. "And yet," said the man reminiscently, "there was a woman in here yesterday who looked at every piece—we have over one hundred and fifty different patterns—and then she asked: 'Is this all the patterns you have?' I do wonder what she wanted? And also I wonder if she knew."

East Indian American.

Since our own country has been obliged to go to dyeing—to offset the dying in other countries—some wonderful things have been accomplished. I was struck anew with this in looking at the new "East Indian" cotton prints, in that place noted for its excellent variety of inexpensive cretonnes and other drapery stuffs. These new "East Indian" prints are every whit as pretty as any seen herstofore and in fact I think the designs in many cases are better. They are printed in squares fit for use as table covers or to cover pillows, and the prices are no greater than for ordinary prints or cretonnes. Much black is used in combination with popular colors such as yellow, rose and blue in dull effective tones, and the black always gives an air of distinction, as you know, to either clothes or furnishings. I predict a great run upon these fabrics.

Seen in Fashion's Hand Glass.

Handbags grow more various all the time; one of the best types is of black taffeta and velvet.

Sometimes the fur puff on a felt hat is manipulated in such a way it looks like a giant flower.

It is even suggested that muslin and batiste will be used for the later spring and summer millinery.

Some of the new golf outfits have both coats and skirts in plaid, but one is dark and the other light.

Sleeves of suits, dresses and coats are mostly full length. Three-quarter length sleeves have the bell flare.

We are to wear large flat collars of the sailor and Puritan order. There will be a vogue for collar and cuff sets.

Delicate colors like pale rose, pale blue, pale yellow are much used in blouses for silver gray and other stalk colored suits.

One-piece robes are made in princess effect, but are looped up to suggestion of the panier over under petticoat.

More women than usual are wearing white lingerie waists with tailored suits. Sometimes the waists are of batiste, tailored.

Skirts will be wider, the curves of the bust and waist more closely defined, and there will be a narrower appearance at the shoulder.

The old-fashioned balayeuse, a white-pleated flounce of lace below the skirt, is an attractive finish on several of the new spring models.

A LEAP-YEAR BOAST.

I love to come home late at night
From concert, church or ball,
And know that no one cares a mite
If I don't come at all.

I love to spend my hard-earned cash
On anything I want;
I love to run myself in debt,
With none to scold or taunt.

I love to go to bargain sales,
And get all frayed and torn,
With not a jeering man in sight
To ask why I'm so worn.

I love to win at games of skill,
And carry off first prize,
And feel the shafts of envy chill
From unsuccessful eyes.

I love to be in woman's clubs,
And look both dazed and wise,
Where never bold, intrusive man
Can mention "Mother's Pies."

I love to search the newspapers
For items of divorce,
And blandly smile and shake my head
And say, "Of course, of course."

I love to go to bed at nine,
And lock fast all my doors;
I love to feel that, if I choose,
I'll fill the air with snores.

I love to feel that very soon
My paltry charms will fade;
In fact, I love above all things
To be a plain old maid.

BUNDY AND McLOUGHLIN CAPTURE DOUBLES.

ATHLETES RUN THEMSELVES RAGGED IN IMMENSE MEET.

Los Angeles Athletic Club and Pomona Hog Most of the Honors—Manual Arts Plays in Hard Luck During the Whole Day—Marathon Race is Captured by a Sherman Indian—Pushball Contest is Feature.

BY HOWARD ANGUS.

THE Sports Carnival at Tournament Park, Pasadena, certainly gave the athletic fan an eyeful yesterday. From 1:30 o'clock until dark athletic event followed athletic event in such quick succession that the eyes had scarcely time to blink and the mind almost became a blank from trying to grasp it all.

The carnival itself was an athletic conglomeration. The central feature was the relay carnival with all the high school and college athletes chasing each other around the track. But intermixed with these races was a Marathon, a pushball game, a Spanish fiesta, a Wild West show, a horse show, and exhibitions of fancy driving.

TO BEGIN WITH.

The great athletic day began in front of the L.A.A.C. at 12 o'clock when the Marathon runners lined up for the start, facing a regular battery of moving-picture machines. The crowd that flocked around the runners almost crushed them to death. Capt. Franklin had to fight the crowd back to get them started. His pistol would not go off. When he got in trim Arthur S. Sanders jumped the gun. It is hard to see why anybody should jump the gun in a Marathon race, but the powerful negro, was just so excited that he could not keep in his marks.

The Marathon was just another triumph for the Indian. As in all past Marathons these little Braves from Sherman Institute jogged in almost miles ahead of all the white runners. Peter Begay won the race. He came laughing into Tournament Park almost a minute ahead of his nearest competitor. When he had finished, another Indian by the name of Josa Noranza slipped through the gate. A few yards behind him came Poleyetewa, still another Indian. The two began a race for second place. Poleyetwa kept putting on more speed with every stride. He passed Noranza. Poleyetewa at Highland Park was almost a mile behind Noranza. A few minutes after this sprint for second place another Indian by the name of Poncell blew in and ran around the track. After him came a long wait. It was ten minutes later before the first white man appeared. He was a stocky little fellow by the name of Fisher and wore the L.A.A.C. emblem. After him all the others began trooping in.

RELAY EVENTS.

In the relays Pomona High School, Redlands High School and the L.A.A.C. hogged the honors. The showing of the athletic club was especially surprising. The Clubmen entered two relays and won them. The quarter-milers walloped Pomona, Occidental and U.S.C. The sprinters showed their heels to the fast Manual team, and the college boys of Occidental, Whittier and U.S.C. Nor was that all. It was Bean, a clubman, who won the pole vault, and Watkins, another clubman, who won the high jump.

Manual Arts was the hard-luck school of the day. Pomona High School nosed it out in both the two-mile race by the half-milers, and the mile-run by the quarter-milers. To cap the climax the Toiler sprinters after leaving all the other high schools yards in the rear did not pass the baton properly and were disqualified.

SHINE HERE.

About the only place the Toilers really figured was in the high school 100-yard dash. Four Manual men out of five were in the finals. Paddock of Pasadena won the 100 by about a yard, but the judges gave the race to Harry Lamport. Doubtless they were either moved by the premonition that Fritsch's men were to play in hard luck or were for the time being not in full control of their faculties because of the disturbing presence of Billy Witmer.

Mr. Paddock, the father of the sprinter, was wildly excited over the finish, and interviewed each and every judge of the finish.

The open 100-yard dash was won by Mistah Paschal of Whittier State. The negro boy ran as if he thought he was Howard Drew and finished ahead. The next nearest man to him was Verle Murray and after him came Lupher. Ken Johnson, the new Trojan sprinter, was left squatting on his marks, and didn't qualify. Stone of Pomona failed to even appear. Webster of Occidental appeared to be away off form. Bradley of U.S.C. looked out of condition. So, with the exception of Paschal there was not much to the 100.

TOUGH LUCK.

Clint Evans's Pomona runners almost broke the heart of Doc Cook of Manual. In both the two-mile and mile relays Cook ran the last lap for Manual. Each time, when he started, the Pomona runner was half way around the track ahead of him. Doc in both instances put his head down, kicked up his legs behind and tore after the flying Cardinal. Each time he strove gamely on until the straightaway when he looked up to see that his chase had been futile.

In the two-mile relay, the Hun half-milers simply flew away from the other collegians. Ray Adkinson, the Pomona freshman, proved to be the man of the occasion. He glides around the track like a shadow. At the end of his half-mile he had given the Huns an immense lead. Those old-timers, Tipton and Beebe of U.S.C., started out to make up the distance, but being out of condition, finished their tasks half-heartedly.

Adkinson was out of luck, however, when he started to run the last 440 for

SINSABAUGH IS HARD TO BEAT.

But Church Manages to do It in Three Hard Sets.

McLoughlin and Bundy Show Decided Class.

Mixed Doubles Finals are Postponed.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Feb. 22.—While he did not meet Willie Johnston or Maurice McLoughlin, the two Californians of national and international repute, George Meyers Church of New York, former intercollegiate champion and national ranking player, has made a successful invasion from the East. He won the challenge cup in the last day's play of the annual mid-winter tennis tournament held on the Hotel Virginia courts here today.

After being forced to extend himself to the limit, Church won the finals in the men's singles by defeating Simpson Sinsabaugh in three sets of hard-fought tennis by the comparatively small scores of 6-3, 6-3, 6-1.

GOOD START.

Church took the lead in the games in his first set with Sinsabaugh and had the score 4 to 0 before the southerner could find himself. Sinsabaugh was apparently in fine form and the gallery, with him from the start, thought sure the veteran Southern Californian would save the day after he had braced and taken three games in succession from the easterner.

Before his match with Church, Sinsabaugh had defeated Roland Roberts, the Southern California singles champion and rising young star in the net world, 6-4, 1-6, 6-4. Roberts was nervous while under the fire and experience of the southern veteran and was unable to cope with Sinsabaugh's famous back-hand drive and net play. He rallied brilliantly at times, but was not sufficiently well versed in court generalship to withstand the pace set by his seasoned opponent.

After the games of the Church-Sinsabaugh match for the challenge

CHAMPION DOG ON EXHIBITION.

A specialty dog show under the auspices of the Cocker Spaniel Club of Southern California will be held at the Olympic Club on Hill street tonight, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Over fifty blooded cockers are expected, including Champion Mission, owned by Mayor Rolph of San Francisco. This dog cleaned up everything in his class at the P.P.I.E. E. F. Crandall of Montrose will act as judge.

SILVER LAKE MAY BE OPENED SOON.

Silver Lake, said to be one of the finest fishing spots in the country, may be opened to fishermen soon. The black bass season opens March 2 and numbers of local fly casters are beginning to wonder if the Silver Lake cannot be attacked.

Black bass are extremely plentiful in the lake as are trout and several other species of fish.

YOUNGSTER RUNS SPEEDY MILE THROUGH STREETS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN JOSE, Feb. 22.—If the course was correctly measured, Art Forward, a San Jose High School stripling, ran within one and two-fifths seconds of Norman S. Tabor's mile record, covering the distance in 4m. 14s. Bobby Vlught, Olympic Club, San Francisco, finished two yards behind Forward. The race was over a straightaway course on a paved street and there was a slight wind at the back of the runners. Tabor's mark was made on a four-lap track.

Oliver Millard of the Olympic Club took the eight-mile modified Marathon in 44m. 56s. and was closely pressed for seven and a half miles by Edward Geyon of Watsonville.

The mile and eight-mile races were feature events of the running carnival held here today under the auspices of the San Jose Y.M.C.A. and participated in by sixty well-known athletes of Central California. Strong teams were entered by the Olympic and Caledonian clubs of San Francisco. H. Ludwig of the Caledonian Club won the two-mile event in 9m. 24⅕s. Oliver Millard was second.

PETER VISSER IS NEW STAR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—The failure of Jess Westergaard of Des Moines to arrive in time to wrestle Ad Santel of Chicago brought to light a new star, Pete Visser, a light heavyweight from Ogden, Utah, who stayed 1h. 4m. 40s. with Santel.

When it was certain that Westergaard would not appear, Santel agreed to throw both Nick Daviscourt and Pete Visser within an hour and a half.

He disposed of Daviscourt in twenty-five minutes, but Visser remained unthrown the balance of the time and Santel was declared the loser.

Well, Well!

CHANCE PUTS IN AN APPEARANCE.

Takes First Workout in an Angel Uniform.

Sets Pace for the Bunch and Feels the Effects.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Frank Chance yesterday peeled off his ranch clothes, slipped into a Los Angeles uniform and sniffed the minor league air for a couple of hours.

It was his first workout as an Angel and his first bona-fide appearance as a minor leaguer. True, Chance played a number of games with the Los Angeles club several years ago, but on that occasion he was simply "borrowed" from Chicago at the end of the major league season. So it may be truthfully said that yesterday was his debut in the minors.

But all that is immaterial. A thoroughbred is a thoroughbred regardless of the track on which he runs. Technically, Chance is a minor leaguer. In reality what we saw was a major leaguer in a minor league uniform. Reference is not made to his playing, but to his general appearance. His deportment, his carriage and his every move was that of the thoroughbred—class in every line.

AN ACCIDENT.

Purely accidental, it was indeed fitting that this splendid athlete, typical of America's best manhood, should make his return to America's greatest game on February 22. And an old flag on the press box, tangled in the wire netting by the winds of winter, unfolded itself in response to a vagrant breeze and floated out and unfurled as if in greeting.

Now, all this about the Stars and Stripes and Washington's Birthday could not have been written had it not rained in Glendora on Monday. That was the day which Chance had selected for his initial sweat. In Glendora it was showery and threatening, and naturally supposing that the same condition prevailed in Los Angeles, Frank did not venture into town. However, conditions were ideal yesterday and he seized the great opportunity presented to get into action.

He motored to the ball park with both of his cars—not in both of them. He drove his White gasoline touring car, with his Benz roadster, piloted by his chauffeur, setting the pace. He is believed to be the first baseball manager in the history of the game to make his minor league debut with two high-priced cars. He is going to sell the Benz, or turn it in on a car of less power for the use of Mrs. Chance. That's why he brought it to town. It had nothing to do with his workout.

LIMBERING UP.

After changing his plow shoes for some with cleats on them, Frank spent an hour and a half limbering up the peerless joints and shed a quart or so of peerless perspiration. He set the pace for the entire bunch, and it is a cinch that he will feel the effects of that workout for a couple of weeks. He engaged in batting practice—hitting them out and bunting, and then put in half an hour playing first base in the plowed ground. When he finished he was steaming. The average guy, when he hits the ball in batting practice, simply steps back and waits for another turn. Chance would sprint to first base, and then some. Reaching first, he would keep right on running until he reached the right field fence. It is a good thing that the fence is there. Otherwise, he would now be in Redondo. In shooting the ball around the diamond, the P. L. showed an utter disregard for the welfare of his arm.

A CONFESSION.

"I know that I will be sore as a ball for a week," confessed Chance when he stretched out for a soothing rub from Doc Finley. "That's the way it always is. I always get sore the first day, because I can't hold back and get any pep in my work. At that, I would rather start strong and have it all over with. No use in prolonging the agony."

Chance does not appear to be carrying an ounce of surplus tissue, but claims that he is ten pounds overweight.

"When I am really in condition, I am so narrow around the waist and so thin in the face that I actually look sick," he explained.

If not in too much pain, he will work again today.

Arthur Griggs, who will play utility roles for Vernon, unless it is decided to use him regularly at first base, is an all-round, two-handed athlete. Not only can Griggs play any position on the field except the battery points, but baseball is not his only accomplishment. He formerly starred on the gridiron for the University of Pittsburgh, and also for the University of Kansas. He left Pittsburgh shortly before Frank Moran, who is to fight Jess Willard, joined the eleven. After leaving school, Griggs took up the gentle art of self-defense. Although having no intention of making boxing a profession, he enjoyed it and engaged in a number of battles. One of these was with Jack Johnson—not the original Jack Johnson, but an understudy, who was almost as black and almost as big as the original. It was a tough little scrap, Griggs finally getting his man in the ninth round. Our umpires will think twice before getting rough with Mr. Griggs.

President Powers and Jeff Orendorff, new Occidental coach, met yesterday for the first time. A few minutes' conversation developed the fact that they used to play ball around the same neighborhood in Chicago, although the particular kid teams on which they played never happened to clash.

Powers recalled how before a game each club would make up a purse of $10—the players donating one silver washer apiece, and the captain, by virtue of his high office, chipping in two. This money always was turned over to the umpire with instructions for him to present it to the winning team.

"The funny part about it was that the teams seldom got the money," said Powers. "It made no difference whether we won or lost, we hardly ever saw the color of the money. The umpire would excuse himself along about the seventh or eighth inning, explaining that he wanted to get a drink or something else. That would be the last we would see of him, or the money. Why didn't we change umpires? We did, but they were all alike."

"We used to meet up with the same kind of grief," interjected Orendorff. "I guess all those Chicago umpires were financiers.

"Speaking of Chicago reminds me of the time that I batted against Johnny Kane. Yes, Johnny was once a pitcher. Our club went over to play the Chicago Grays. They were a pretty tough club, and if they couldn't beat a visiting team one way would do it another. At least, that was their reputation.

"As soon as we took the field, several tough guys shouldered us, and told us it wouldn't be safe to win. We were rather pale under the gills, and expected to get licked to a frazzle. But they didn't have their regular pitcher, and we got a six-run lead in the first inning. We had increased this to ten by the fifth. Then the Grays all began throwing their caps in the air, and yelling, 'There he comes.' Looking across the lot we saw a player in a uniform riding toward the diamond at full speed on a bicycle. He was their regular heaver, and had just finished pitching a game for another club. This fellow never did finish the sixth inning. He simply couldn't get us out. Johnny Kane relieved him, and finished the game. We slammed him for about ten more runs. The final score was 17 to 7. The Grays were so badly beaten that they forgot all about licking us at the end of the game."

Flame Delhi has received a wire from the Pittsburgh club notifying him of his sale to Los Angeles. If this proves to be final, it will straighten out a snarl that has existed for the better part of a month. The Pirates tried to turn Delhi over to the Angels some time ago, but Kansas City interposed and laid claim to the player. Kansas City claimed that Pittsburgh had not exercised its option on Delhi, while Pittsburgh countered by charging that K. C. had not come through with the purchase price for the player.

Evidently, Delhi's announcement that he would quit baseball rather than play with Kansas City caused Tobeau and Shay to settle the matter with the Pirates in a way to permit him to join the Angels. Delhi's work with Kansas City last season won him a $400 bonus. However, he says that it hasn't been paid, and he doubts very much that it ever will now that he has refused to return there. He doesn't seem to be worrying, probably figuring that the privilege of not playing ball in Kansas City is worth that much. Last year, Delhi worked in forty-seven games, winning twenty-one and losing fifteen. On the basis of this record, Chance considers him a mighty valuable man.

The Houston club has wired its willingness to turn Pitcher Ware over to the Angels if Outfielder Garner will sign a Houston contract. This makes the deal practically certain, as Garner has expressed himself as willing to play in Texas, he being a native of that great commonwealth. On paper, Ware doesn't look to be much. Last season he won eight and lost nine. Chance, who saw Ware work two years ago, thinks differently, however. He says poor catching was mainly due to his indifferent showing in 1915.

Tub Spencer's volunteers were again on the job yesterday. Among those out for the drill were Honus Mitze, Roy Brashear, Johnny Kane, Johnny Butler, Don Rader, Goldie Rapp, Art Griggs, Harl Maggert, Bert Whaling, Johnny Bassler and Tub himself. Doc White viewed the proceedings from the grand stand.

Frank Chance,

Who startled the natives yesterday by appearing in a complete Angel uniform. The new manager led the boys in a stiff workout and expects to be stiff today.

RENE THOMAS COMING OVER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 22.—Announcement was made here today that Rene Thomas, winner of the 500-mile race here in 1914, has been given freedom from military service in France and will drive in the sixth annual international sweepstakes race at the Indianapolis motor speedway May 30, this year. He is scheduled to leave his native country March 25, so that he can arrive here about April 1.

A contract with Thomas, which was signed by cable, according to T. E. Myers, general manager of the speedway, gives him the opportunity to take from De Palma the position that De Palma took from Thomas when De Palma won the 1915 race, and inasmuch as De Palma will be in this year's event it is only reasonable to expect a speed duel between these two intrepid pilots that will go down into history.

Thomas will drive a Peugeot car, the property of the Indianapolis Speedway Team Company. This car is one of several that the Indianapolis owners have purchased or are having built. As team mate Thomas in all probability will have the Indianapolis pilot, Johnny Aitken, who probably will drive another Peugeot.

Golf.

CROWDS TURN OUT FOR MID-SEASON TOURNAMENT.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

THEY had ninety entries for the qualifying round of the mid-season golf tournament at Annandale yesterday and H. B. Ingalls had the best gross score with 76. E. N. Wright came second with 79 and Arthur Braly third with 80.

Sixty-four qualified for one big flight, and first-round matches are to be completed by the end of the week. Here are the pairings:

H. B. Ingalls and C. Nemeyer, W. W. Leithead and R. H. Gibson, J. B. Bryan and E. S. Wilkinson, George V. Baer and Paul F. Deiss, J. Nemeyer and A. J. Barrett, W. S. Hankins and J. H. Harrison, W. W. Yenawine a bye, E. J. Bowes, Jr., a bye, O. B. Carter a bye, W. G. Kesley a bye, S. S. Hines and J. Dawson, H. A. Doty and West Hughes, C. S. Fleming and S. C. Fertig, H. B. King and C. S. Byington, F. E. Day and S. Beekman, J. H. Warner and Arthur Braly, E. N. Wright and H. Jevne, J. C. Linneman and L. W. Brock, R. J. Fish and E. H. Lockwood, R. B. Weekes and L. W. Blankenhorn, F. H. Gilcrest and A. E. Edwards, Julius A. Brown and G. H. Curtis, Dr. W. V. Brem a bye, E. R. Campbell a bye, S. S. Wold a bye, W. C. Smith a bye, J. S. Mather and W. Carlton Wilson, J. W. Monoham and A. C. Volk, Myers van Platen and I. L. Merrill, W. A. Gary and Henry Newby, Rev. L. E. Learned and Frank D. Tatum, Rev. Ellis Brisby and Rev. W. H. Cornett.

The Annandale Club championship will be played on March 4.

The ladies of the Annandale Country Club has arranged an invitation golf tournament for February 28 to March 3, but they are postponing the date, probably to March 6. Definite announcement later.

One hundred and seventy-seven golfers crowded the Los Angeles course yesterday for the two Washington's birthday events. Handicap match play against par in the morning resulted in a win for Rev. Lloyd Darsie in class A, with 3 down, 5-3 up. And in class B to John P. Wootton with 12-12 even. Mr. Wootton has only recently taken up the game again. He is a nabob of Amalgamated Oil.

Best ball handicap foursomes in the afternoon resulted in a win for L. L. Elliott and S. S. Parsons of the best gross prize with 5 up on par. With their handicap of 4 up they also were the best net couple with 9 up, but they could not take both prizes. The next best scores were a tie between E. T. Sherer and J. H. Miles, 4 down, 7-3 up; and A. L. Schwarz and A. W. Bumiller with 1 down, 4-3 up.

Dr. W. H. Spinks is the final ultimate winner of that lengthy midwinter handicap. He beat Frank H. Edwards in the finals yesterday 3 up and 1. Dr. Spinks has had to weather seven matches for the honor, and when even Dashing Frank failed to rattle his composure, he may be said to have earned that stylish trophy.

Good Night!

FACULTY TENNIS SHARKS PLAN TO MINGLE SOON.

TENNIS is taking such a hold upon the south that even the staid high school profs will be seen in action on the court this year. The Southern California Athletic Council has decided to conduct an inter-faculty tennis tournament among the high schools and great excitement reigns in the ranks of the fans.

These learned exhibitions will be given in connection with the dual meets of the high schools. The first will be part of the programme of the L. A. vs. Manual affair at L. A. Saturday.

The Hilltop profs have turned out in enthusiastic shape for the elimination matches being held. That is, they have all signed up but none of them actually appeared on the courts. Featherstone, Goddard and Lyon are proudly patting each other on the back. They each have a victory intercollegiate star ran out the set by taking the next two games.

In the next set Sinsabaugh made things interesting by keeping even with Church. Each man took turns at winning a game until the score stood three all. It was plain to be seen by this time that the southerner was playing in streaks. His back hand was no longer dependable, and his smashes lost their accuracy. It was then Church's turn to win three games in succession and the set, 6-3.

THE FINISH.

The final set saw Sinsabaugh tiring. He took only one game. Church finished in the tournament like he started, conquering his opponent by one-sided scores and in remarkably quick time. He won the final set from Sinsabaugh by the score of 6-1, and was presented the handsome silver challenge cup formerly held by Willie Johnston, national champion.

Maurice McLoughlin and Tom Bundy, former national doubles champions, worked together in a convincing manner, and after three sets of tennis of the slam-bang variety, defeated Willie Johnston and Roland Roberts, 7-5, 8-6, 6-2.

Briefly, it was a case of brilliance and youth succumbing to steadiness and experience.

SOME MATCH.

With their essentially different styles of play, McLoughlin and Bundy showed the gallery the reason why they won the national doubles title. Although Johnston and Roberts put up a great fight and had the former champions on the run, it was McLoughlin's wonderful serve and accurate drives to the side lines and back court, coupled with the puzzling reverse twist strokes of Bundy that furnished the thrills of the match and placed victory within reach.

Miss Jessie Grieve of U.S.C. won the championship of the tournament in the ladies' singles, defeating Miss Jean McCall of Santa Monica in the finals, 6-4, 5-7, 6-3. Both girls were steady and played high-class tennis, but Miss Grieve hit the ball harder and possessed a more bewildering serve. Before meeting Miss Grieve, Miss McCall eliminated Miss Hasselo from the finals after a good three-set match, 6-4, 5-7, 6-2.

Roy Hornidge won the consolation singles by defeating Dr. Thomason, 6-1, 6-1, in the finals.

The finals in the mixed doubles, scheduled between Miss Mary Browne and Sinsabaugh and Winnie Mace and Florence Sutton, was called on account of darkness, and will be played at a later date, which has not been determined.

Other matches today were as follows: Miss Florence Sutton and Mace beat Miss Hasselo and F. Winne, 6-3, 6-3. The same combination defeated Miss Kincaid and Johnston, 6-4, 7-5. Miss Browne and Sinsabaugh defeated Miss Burton and Nathan, 6-0, 6-0.

Roy Hornidge beat Dietrick, 6-3, 6-3, and W. H. Goodwin, 6-3, 6-4.

There Ain't that Much!

NEW BASEBALL OWNERS WORTH OVER $150,000,000.

Latest Fad for Millionaires is to Buy a Ball Club—Rockefeller is Only Man Who has Failed to Take up Pastime. Some Owners are Poverty Stricken, Being Able to Write Checks for Only $1,000,000.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

MR. MATSUMA, J. Bullion and Col. Gotrox are certainly getting sporty in their old age.

Formerly, they had no time for the great national game, and the only base card that they ever perused was a ledger.

Seldom of late how this trio—the Hon. Matsuma, Bullion and Gotrox have been horning into baseball? It is a full day when you do not read where some gentleman all loaded down with good guards with money has got a baseball franchise.

Now a guy makes a billion or so and is no longer merely satisfied to play golf. Golf has become entirely too common. It doesn't seem to care who plays it. Therefore, the man who really wants to distinguish himself from the common herd goes out before breakfast and buys a major league ball team.

THE LATEST FAD.

Rich men always have fads. Buying ball teams is simply a new one. The late J. Pierpont Morgan was an art connoisseur. He always collected something rare. He would fork over almost any amount for an oil painting that happened to strike his fancy. He also bought an obelisk or two while fooling around Egypt, and planned to have them moved to the United States. Then he would have been the only man in the country with an obelisk in his front yard. Some of his well to do neighbors had an obelisk—at least none of the other article bearing the original mark.

Russell Sage also was an art connoisseur, and craved something different. Because of this trait he early in life began collecting various kinds of bric-a-brac. As a boy he showed a real talent for souvenirs such as dimes and nickels. Later, he learned to admire the handsome five-dollar gold piece. Then he turned to higher art, and began the study of steel engraving, familiarizing himself with the one-hundred-dollar bill. He considered a one-hundred dollar bill one of the finest pieces of art, and stood ready to pay $100 for one of them any old time. After he had been asked what it would be genuine. He became so expert that he could tell a masterpiece from a mere counterfeit at first glance. There was a chosen, tawdry thousand-dollar bill in his collection. And that is saying a good deal, for at the time of his death he had one of the largest collections of coin and currency in the country, with the possible exception of John D. Rockefeller.

HIS DIFFERENT.

Mr. Rockefeller, however, is not an art connoisseur. Money is only an incident in his life. Oil is his hobby. Where Morgan would stand in an art gallery and admire a Rembrandt for the hour, John D. will stand and look upon a puddle of crude oil, and figure on its probable gravity. Some of our rich men love the trackless wastes, especially our lumber barons. Not so with Mr. Rockefeller. He loves to get out and roam around among the oil derricks, and from their lofty grandeur receive inspiration and the fumes of petroleum. He does not for the mountain lake, but sees all the beauties of nature reflected in a reservoir of crude oil. He has made a deep study of oil, and in a way may be said to have elevated it. Where a lot of guys were afraid of getting their hands dirty, he waded in and made a success. As a result, he has collection of crude oil, coal oil, gasoline, distillate and axle grease probably is exceeded by none in the country. He made oil his hobby, and has found the riding pretty smooth.

THE POPULAR SPORT.

He has not yet taken up baseball, but later may extricate himself from the oil business and buy a franchise.

Owning ball teams has become a popular ailment among our rich men.

Two years ago the late Robert B. Ward, one of Brooklyn's best known bakers, purchased the Federal League franchise in that city, equipping said franchise with a park, players, bat boys and other items. He had grown wealthy through his string of bake shops. Although this venture "capped" his roll, he had a few million left at the finish, and his heirs are trying to buy a major league club.

On Ward's death, Harry Sinclair, a gent with more money than he could possibly use, set out to finance the Feds. Recently, he made a strong bid for the New York Giants. Although unable to come to terms with the present owners, it is believed that he may yet land the franchise. Sinclair, like John D., made his money in oil. He doesn't know exactly how much he is worth. One small item is a one-third interest in a gob of oil now stored in tanks on which he expects to net a cool $10,000,000. In addition, he has several flowing wells which are working for him every day in the week, including Sunday.

FAIR ENOUGH.

Col. Jacob Ruppert and Capt. T. L. Huston, owners of the New York Americans, while not as wealthy as some of their neighbors, are fairly well fixed. Between them they could write their check for $20,000,000.

The St. Louis Browns have been sold to Phil Ball and Otto Stifel. As baseball magnates are rated today, these gentlemen are poverty stricken. Together, they probably are not worth more than $5,000,000. However, if they get pinched for money the league will arrange to see them through the season.

Percy Haughton, in his purchase of the Boston Braves, was backed by Arthur Wise. We know nothing concerning Mr. Wise except that he owns a string of banks reaching across New England. Haughton's financial backing is said to total $30,000,0000, so he ought to be able to pull through unless there is a falling off in the attendance.

A MYSTERY.

Less is known concerning the financial sinews of James E. Dunn, reported purchaser of the Cleveland franchise. As we understand it, however, he is a banker and owns three acres of business blocks.

Among the purchasers of the Philadelphia Nationals are Fred T. Chandler and S. P. and W. H. T. Huhn, not to mention J. W. Clothier. Chandler holds down a job as president of the Philadelphia Stock Exchange, while the Huhn boys control a few banks.

Charley Weeghman, William Wrigley and J. Ogden Armour, new owners of the Chicago Cubs, could shove into the center of the table a stack estimated conservatively at $75,000,000. Weeghman is a restaurateur, and has a system of grub garages extending through many of the large cities of the circuit. His income from ham sandwiches and such like is enormous. Wrigley is a chewing gum baron.

FOR EXCITEMENT.

Armour, before going into baseball, made a specialty of slaughter houses, with a fine line of stockyards on the side. He probably has as large and select assortment of slaughter houses as any man in the business. But there came a time when slaughter houses ceased to give him complete satisfaction, and he turned to baseball for recreation and excitement.

The list of clubowners is gradually assuming an appearance like a directory of Wall Street.

Incidentally, there is little danger of another baseball war. With nearly all the money in the world invested in the two major leagues it will be hard to scare up enough to finance an "outlaw" league. Organized baseball is now one of the most powerful institutions in the country, financially speaking. The new purchasers of franchises alone we would say at an offhand guess represent resources of not less than $150,000,000.

John D., with no ball team, must feel lonesome and out of style. Still, we will not urge him to buy one. He might raise the price of bleacher seats from 25 to 40 cents.

FOREIGN BOYS WIN BIG MEET.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—Filipino boys led all the youthful athletes of the Far East and South America in the cable and mail track meet of the Amateur Athletic Federation, it was announced at headquarters today. Scores of the marks made in the Philippines come close to records made by American boys of the same age, it was said.

In the high jump, boys of 18, the oldest competing, were credited with five feet three inches in the Philippines; five feet one inch in South America, five feet one-half inch in India and four feet ten inches in Africa.

South Americans took second honors but Filipinos were first in every event in each of the age classes, except the dash for boys 14 to 18 years old, in which South Americans were first.

BASEBALL HEROES MAY BE DEPOSED.

Now comes a tremendous yell from Santa Barbara. It seems that the Fullerton baseball club is claiming the championship of this part of the country. And it also seems that the Santa Barbara club has a first-class record slated up to its credit.

So when the Fullerton boys began to pick themselves as the real sure-enough heroes, Santa Barbara naturally failed to concur.

A wire from M. R. Barcom, manager of the Santa Barbara baseball club, reads as follows: "To claim the real baseball championship the Fullerton baseball club must first defeat the Santa Barbara club in a series of games, as the local club has the best record of any club in Southern California."

Well, what's the answer?

LYN MURRAY WINS BY SHEER SPEED.

FORMER YALE CAPTAIN IS EASY FOR CALIFORNIAN.

Smashing Tactics and Great Overhead Work Carry Away the Honors in Indoor Tourney—Final Set is Well Contested—Doubles Finals Go to Five Sets.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—R. Lindley Murray, the young Californian, the star of the National Indoor Tennis Tournament, captured the national singles championship today, winning from Alrick H. Man, Jr., former Yale captain, in three straight sets. The score was 6-2, 6-2, 9-7. Murray gave a remarkable exhibition, working with spectacular smashes, volleys and drives, against which his adversary, although displaying skill and speed, was unable successfully to compete. Murray is the first player from the Pacific Coast to win the national indoor championship. Carleton B. Gardner made the attempt in 1910, but failed.

In the championship doubles match Arthur M. Lovibond and William Rosenbaum defeated King Smith and Arthur S. Cragin. The score was 3-6, 1-6, 6-4, 8-6, 10-8.

Man was the first to score in the singles match, taking the first game, only to have Murray take five in a row, chiefly by coming up to the net and smashing. The second set was similar to the first. Murray's deep shots with the puzzling bounds caused Man to hit the ball upward and Murray smashed his overhead shots into the corners of Man's court. So heavy was Murray's volleying in this set that he smashed his racquet.

Man succeeded in bringing his drop shot into play in the third set, and breaking through Murray's service, took the lead on games. In the tenth game Man was within a stroke of winning the set, but the Californian, volleying with marvelous speed, checked the onrush of his opponent, bearing him back by the sheer audacity of his assault, and winning 9-7.

The order of the service in the doubles was Lovibond, Smith, Dr. Rosenbaum and Cragin. Cragin, fresh and vigorous, fairly surpassed himself by the brilliancy of his volleys and his amazing passes, and practically walked away with the first and second sets.

Dr. Rosenbaum came strongly to the fore in the third set, as his adversaries wavered, and annihilated the returns of Smith and Cragin for a well-earned victory.

EUGENE PACKARD TO GO ON THE BLOCK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—Eugene Packard will be auctioned off to the highest bidder here next Saturday when the Federal Leaguers gather for the final session of their short but stormy career. President Weeghman received a message today from Harry Sinclair asking him for his highest bid for the star twirler. Weeghman had already sent in his offer for the man yesterday and did not feel like raising it today. The chances are that Packard will go to some other club than the Cubs, for the Cub boss does not feel inclined to enter into a bidding contest against any other club just now.

GOLFERS DO NOT PLAY UP TO FORM.

LENGTHY PROGRAMME CONTINUES INTO THE EVENING.

Qualifying Rounds are Played in Two Annual and Important Events. Hicks Trophy and Powers Cup. Semi-finals in Many Affairs are not Concluded.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

REDLANDS, Feb. 22.—There was a holiday programme for the golfers at the Country Club here today with events for the morning, afternoon and some continued into the evening. The qualifying rounds were played in two annual and important events, the Hicks trophy and the Powers cup, but all of the scores made have not been turned in, as those qualifying and the ties for the handicap two-ball foursome events will not be announced by the Greens Committee until later. In the competition for the cup offered by the president the final match will be between R. Hornby and C. F. Smith. Mr. Smith won his semi-final match with M. S. Severance today by 1 up.

The semi-finals in the foursome for the Stauffen cups have been reached. Dwight Ledferts and M. S. Phillips won from W. M. Kerr and W. P. Burke by 3 up and 7; G. Palmer and John Gill won from Chris Tripp and F. C. Hornby by 2 up and 1. In the Phillips cup competition the following have "legs" which they won by victory in sweepstakes: C. F. Smith, 2; R. Hornby, 3; B. Aymar, 2, and 1 to E. Stauffen, Jr., G. Palmer, J. O. Riddell, Russell Burrage, L. R. Gay and S. R. Hotchkiss. This afternoon came the Ball sweepstakes and T. W. Nason, a newcomer, was the winner. The scoring in both the morning and afternoon "sweeps" was poor. The following are the net scores for the afternoon, the numbers in parentheses being the handicaps:

T. W. Nason (24)	75
M. S. Phillips (plus 2)	80
S. R. Hotchkiss (14)	81
E. A. McDonald (10)	83
M. S. Severance (10)	83
J. W. Gill (24)	83
G. W. Clyde (22)	84
C. F. Smith (10)	86
C. J. Tripp (8)	87
E. S. Graham (18)	89
H. M. Paine (10)	90
B. Aymar (12)	90
J. O. Riddel (14)	90
L. L. Moore (10)	91
S. Williams (12)	93
E. M. Cope (16)	93
W. P. Burke (12)	94

B. Aymar won the morning "sweeps" with the net score of 79. Russell Burrage came next with 81 and R. Hornby was third with 84. The scoring after was: G. Palmer, 84; E. Stauffen, Jr., 83; L. R. Boyd, 83; H. M. Paine, 85; R. Herold, 85; M. S. Phillips, 86; E. S. Graham, 86, and L. R. Gay, 92.

JACK BRADY WINS BIG TOURNAMENT.

Jack Brady won Voorhies's weekly three-cushion tournament last night, when he beat Bob Harbor 15 to 7 in a very fast game.

There were twelve starters in the contest and the high run for the games was made in the last one, when Brady ran six.

J. D. Mitchell was referee and the prize was a fine jointed cue.

PLAY CONTINUES IN HILLTOPPERS TOURNEY.

The L. A. High racquet wielders are speeding along through an elimination tournament to select the team that will go up against Manual in a dual tennis meet Saturday. O. W. Montgomery, faculty tennis advisor, is busying himself with various charts and complicated sets of figures. He believes that he has the result of the encounter about doped out.

The results of yesterday's play were as follows: Tirami beat Ralston, 6-2, 3-6, 6-2; Kirkpatrick beat Hillman, 6-3, 6-3; Philips beat Roberts, 6-4, 7-5; Jenseon beat Myers by default; Berry beat Snavely, 6-1, 10-8; Cox beat Samuelson, 2-6, 7-5, 6-0; Kirkpatrick beat Ralston, 5-7, 6-4, 6-4.

The girls are also busily at work trying to decide who shall appear to represent the feminine element of the

LANGER AND KAHANAMOKU SHATTER WORLD'S MARKS.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE AND A.P.]

HONOLULU (T. H.) Feb. 22.—Lody Langer, captain of the University of California swimming team, who broke three American and two world's records at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, won the 440-yard race here today at the annual mid-Pacific swimming carnival and broke the American record, which he made himself, by nearly five seconds.

Duke Kahanamoku finished second and Marion Perry of Honolulu third. The time was 12m. 1⅛s. The American record before was 12m. 6s.

Langer was defeated in the 440-yard swim by Kahanamoku, who made the distance in 5m. 51⅘s., beating the previous record of 5m. 52⅛s. held by Langer.

Bernicia Lane of Honolulu defeated Frances Cowells of San Francisco in the 50-yard swim, time 34⅘s. Miss Cowells held the American girl championship for this distance. Lucile Legros of Honolulu was third.

The 50-yard dash was won by Clarence Lane of Honolulu in 25⅘s.

BASKETBALL FOR THE JUNIOR COLLEGE TEAM.

Los Angeles Junior College and Fullerton Junior College will mix in a basketball game on the court of the Hilltop Highbrows this afternoon. The Fullerton five is totally unknown to the local boys. All that they have heard of their opponents is the rumor of a couple of beefy guards who play with marvelous speed.

Mohler, Kittle, Kutzmann, Loud, Kaiser will probably represent the Los Angeles institution.

FINAL MEETING OF FEDERAL MAGNATES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—What is expected to be the final meeting of the Federal League owners, scheduled to take place here next Saturday, probably will deal with winding up the financial affairs of the league, President Weeghman said today. A small assessment upon the stockholders is expected.

LOUIE ALBERT IS SEVERELY BEATEN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

GALVESTON (Tex.) Feb. 22.—Battling Torrence of the Twenty-third Infantry easily outpointed Louie Albert of Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, in a ten-round bout here today, which was the feature of the Washington Day celebration at Fort Crockett. Albert took a severe beating. The men are welterweights.

invader's favor, Steinbaugh got his celebrated back-hand working and Church was helpless. After enticing the former Princeton player to the net he would place his cross-cut smashes just out of reach of the rangy collegian, scoring one after one in this manner. Steinbaugh also discovered the fact that his opponent was not on good terms with high lobs and gained several points via that route. Church was a little wild in his handling of the high ones and would often send them several feet outside the lines.

Keeping this up, Steinbaugh won three games in succession and things began to look favorable for the south. Church was plainly out of sorts with himself. He was discouraged to think he had piled the score up four games high in his favor, only to turn around and lose the next three.

NEVER TIRES.

Church is a man who never appears to tire, however, and he kept on plugging in the hope that his opponent would weaken. And he did not have to hope long. Steinbaugh, after his flash of form that nearly tied up the set, began to wane and the former marked up against that mysterious person, "Bye."

Great disappointment and gobs of gloom filled the atmosphere when Prof. Morris defaulted to Mr. Schaffee. Fast play was expected in this bout since the defaulter is a philosopher and logician and figures out his serves in scientific manner. Humd and Ribben dictate the angle of his returns while the wisdom of Jevons lends stability to his play.

Messrs. Van Cleve and Van Patten ascended the Hill at the unearthly hour of 7 o'clock yesterday morning to play off their tournament match. Prof. Van Cleve was hopelessly outclassed by Van Patten, who is a thin, muscular chap. The score is said to have been 6-0, 6-0. "This is no game for a fat man," Van Cleve was heard to puff out as he limped off the court.

From what can be learned out at Manual it seems that Messrs. Fritsch and Ligda are preparing to swing their racquets Saturday.

Hollywood High has extended an invitation to all those appearing in the faculty tournaments to participate in a round robin to be held on the foothill courts, April 29.

JIMMY SMITH DOING WELL WITH JAVELIN.

Joe Isenberg, curly-haired football idol of L. A. High, who has been heralded as a wonder in the javelin throw, is being pressed for his honors. Jimmy Smith has taken up the casting event and has been reported to excel Joe's best mark by several feet. Coach Goddard prefers to keep the exact distances under his hat.

Camel Cigarettes

are wide-open for comparison with any cigarette at any price! Most sensitive smokers appreciate the pleasure Camel quality offers. They prefer it to premiums or coupons! Freedom from tongue-bite and throat-parch is as welcome as is the absence of any unpleasant cigaretty after-taste!

Camels are blended choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos; you'll prefer their new flavor and mild-smoothness to either kind of tobacco smoked straight! That desirable, satisfying "body" is all there—without any come-back! No matter how many you smoke!

Camels are sold everywhere in scientifically sealed packages, 20 for 10c; or ten packages (200 cigarettes) in a glassine-paper-covered carton for $1.00. We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office supply or when you travel.

COWBOY FARCE TO BE THE NEXT MOROSCO ATTRACTION.

By Grace Kingsley.

The farce comedy, "Believe Me, Xantippe," went into rehearsal at the Morosco yesterday. Miss McComas plays the role of the little western mining-town girl, Dolly Kamman, and will wear all the becoming scenery thereunto appertaining, including khaki dress, cowboy hat and four-in-hand tie. In New York Miss McComas says the part was dressed in fringed leather skirt and high boots, with revolver-and-bowie-knife trimmings, but that she will not try to get that over out here.

Back to Crime Class.

Edmund Lowe, in the new piece, plays the role of the man who commits the crime of forgery on a bet, to prove that the police department is inefficient.

Some Stunt.

Miss McComas has a strong western dialect wished on with the part.

"And dialects are so awful," said the young woman yesterday. "The first dialect part I ever had was in 'The Scrap of Paper,' when I was leading woman with a stock company in Richmond. It was an Irish dialect, and while my ancestors were Irish, they hadn't handed me down any dialect. So I did the best I could with it, and the manager was much pleased at dress rehearsal: 'I see,' he commented, 'you are using north of Ireland dialect. I'm glad, it's so refined.' 'Yes, oh, yes,' I answered. I was glad that's what it was. I hadn't known it myself before."

Motion-picture Ward.

It looked like a hospital picnic (if there be such a thing) at Levy's last night, following the Orpheum performance. Gathered around the same table were Tom Meighan, who burned his hand in "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine;" Fred Mace, who was badly singed in a recent Keystone, Douglas Fairbanks, who was "dogbit" last week, Jack Clifford who has had a thumb shot off and Carter de Haven, wearing his throat in a sling due to having caught cold working in the snow up in Bear Valley last week. The cabaret did an extra number and called it "The Ambulance Amble."

Hero Worship Stuff.

Yesterday, when Lillian Elliott was lunching at the Pig'n Whistle, a pretty girl glided by her table, dropped a card, said never a word, and hastened by. On the card was written: "From one of your many deeply sincere admirers." Miss Elliott is putting the card in the japanned cabinet along with her "lucky dog," her four-leaf clover and the rabbit's foot her son, Jack, got from the cross-eyed negro in the dark of the moon.

Would Still Sculp.

Evelyn Nesbit still has ambitions to do sculpture.

"I like that work better than anything in the world," said Miss Nesbit, "and you know when I can no longer sing and dance, I can still 'sculp.'

"I always liked to sketch and whittle. One day an old artist friend of mine in New York caught me idly whittling what I meant to look like the figure of an Indian girl. 'Why don't you make a cast of that,' he asked, 'it's actually well done.' I took fire at that, secured a studio, and worked like mad as long as I had time. But the habit of eating goes right on, so I had to return to the stage. But I mean to keep up my sculpture work in New York this summer."

Russell's Back-fire.

Russell Thaw, Evelyn Nesbit's son, though in the main a cherub and all that, of course, has a habit of "copping" out lines from acts he hears at the theater and springing them on his fond mamma at unexpected moments. The other evening when she was scolding him for something, he looked up, shook his finger, and said: "I know what you're going to say; you're going to tell me that you knew Dill when he had only one pickle!"

He doesn't stop at the comedians, either. Once when she was chiding him, he suddenly straightened up, and said: "Hamlet, you have my father much offended!"

Prize Prance.

Evelyn Nesbit and Jack Clifford are planning to put on their famous whirlwind acrobatic dance Saturday. Mr. Clifford's hand is still in bad condition, but as the dance is the piece de resistance of their act, they want to do it for the Los Angeles public.

Evelyn as "Film."

Miss Nesbit has received several offers to appear in pictures, since she has been in the West, and may return next fall to work at one of the studios.

Sincere Scenery, B'gosh.

Charlie (Chic) Sale at the Orpheum, owns a farm near Madison, Wis., and every summer he forsakes the rialto to go out there and farm, eat dandelion greens and watch the chickens "walking 'round all raw." It is here he studies his rube types.

Out Among 'Em.

Needed Aid.

Sale tells a good one on himself. On his present trip out he took in Kansas City en route. Here dwells a small niece, who was promised she might go to the theater Saturday and see Uncle Charlie. Uncle Charlie says he admonished her she must be sure to laugh. She assured him she'd try. He assured her with mock seriousness that unless she thought she could laugh, she'd better not come. When she said her prayers Friday night, her Uncle Charlie overheard her beseeching the Deity to "make it a nice day tomorrow, and oh, God, please make me laugh at Uncle Charlie's act!"

Audrey Shifts.

Audrey Munson, the famous model, who appears at the Garrick in "Inspiration," this week, has joined the American Film Company, at Santa Barbara, and is being featured in a spectacular seven-reel allegorical story.

Sets Fast Pace.

The American would appear to be a very busy organization. Four companies are now at work. Edward Sloman, formerly with Universal and Lubin, has been engaged and will begin his first picture in a few weeks.

Sincere Minnie Ha-Ha.

Alice Morton Otten, who plays the part of Starlight, Ramona's Indian maid, in the first act of the great cinemadrama at the Auditorium, is a real Indian. She is also a young woman of education and charming personality. This is Miss Otten's first appearance in pictures.

The actress has served as subject in one of the most ambitious paintings of the day by Jean Mannheim, entitled "Good-by, Land of My Fathers."

War Note.

Bertha Gardner, the young Seattle girl appearing this week at Pantages, was a student in Paris when the war began. She enlisted in the American Red Cross, and after a year's service in the French hospitals and trenches, she is at home on furlough for three months. In her act she sings the songs with which she soothed the wounded soldiers.

Leads Double Life.

Charlie Murray of the Keystone is going into the vaudeville producing business. A musical act under his direction was given a tryout at Pantages last week, and will leave for a tour of the circuit as soon as it has had a little more polishing.

Domestic Note.

Mustn't Miss Him.

Just what a fine actor John Barrymore is, you will find out by visiting Quinn's Superba, where he is playing a double role, that of a king and a cabman, in the same picture.

Brow Stuff.

Pictographs are the latest cry in motion pictures. They aren't any different from any other sort of motion pictures except that they are more highbrow. The Paramount Pictograph, which is called a "screen magazine," is being shown at Quinn's Superba for the first time anywhere, this week. Any man with a message may become a contributor to the pictograph, and no thinker's ideas are too lofty or too far-reaching to be visualized in this "magazine."

Precious Man.

The Mutual Film Company, who have secured Charlie Chaplin, have insured his life for $275,000. He is also insured in section—right leg and left eye, so much; left leg and right arm, so much, etc. It is said that in Charlie's spare moments he is figuring out what combination of accident would net him the best financial results.

Expansive.

Exclusive photoplay rights to Rex Beach's novels have been acquired by the Lubin company. The Lubin is preparing to put into elaborate film form at once, "The Silver Horde," "The Iron Trail" and "The Barrier."

Satan Coming Back.

Satan, who used to be regularly on the pay roll, seems to be taking a vacation from the pictures of late. However, he will be seen in the Lubin production of "Sold to Satan," directed by Edward Sloman.

Bloated Bondholder.

J. Farrall Macdonald, feature director of the Biograph, is fast getting into the capitalistic class. Some time ago he secured a lease to the motion-picture photographic rights of the San Rafael ranch, which comprises 6000 acres of wonderfully beautiful land just west of Pasadena. Mr. Macdonald has just subleased these picture rights to the Biograph company at an increase that is making him seriously considering entering the real estate business.

Ready for the gallop.

Juliette Day, who is starring in "Twin Beds," now in its second week at the Mason. There are two things of which Miss Day is very fond—one being horseback riding and the other pets.

Some Game.

BIG POLO FIGHT EXCITES CROWD.

Finest Game Seen for Years at Coronado.

Extra Chukkur Necessary to Settle Score.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 22.—A tie game that will be talked of in polo circles for years to come was played this afternoon on the Coronado field by two picked teams, the Whites and the Greens.

Throughout nine chukkurs (the extra chukkur was necessary to determine the tied score,) the great crowd was tense with excitement for play of international caliber took place on the field. In the extra chukkur, Velie made a goal which gave the victory to the Greens. The teams were the same that met Sunday in a splendid contest, with the exception of a slight change in the line-up of the Greens by which Max C. Fleischmann was substituted for Harry Weiss at No. 2. Sunday the Whites won by a score of 6¼ to 5.

FAVORITES.

Betting was heavy among the players and the spectators as a brilliant contest was anticipated. The majority of money was bet on the Greens as it was thought they would play stronger today and the change of Max Fleischmann to No. 2 from back, where he has beenp laying this year, was of interest to poloists.

On Sunday, Drury appeared to play the whole game by himself. He guarded, goaled and passed the ball to his team-mates. To day, however, he was supported excellently by the other men of the team and his playing did not stand out so spectacularly as in the Sunday game.

FAST PLAY.

The play was furious from the start and in the first chukkur, Reggie Weiss made the first goal, a difficult one, hitting the ball at a sharp angle after Bobby Neustadt had hit the goal post with the ball. Weiss rode almost throughout the period without one of his stirrups. Drury made two beautiful goals, one in the second from the near side, and one in the third when after carrying his ball clear down the field, he drove it between the posts from the side at a very sharp angle.

At the end of the second period the score was 1⅝ to ½ in favor of the Whites and the Greens seemed to be playing in poor luck, as they made no more until the fifth, while the Whites score went up to 4¾.

WHITES HAVE LUCK.

Several times just as the Greens seemed certain of a goal, it was missed and the Whites appeared to have the luck as well as skill. And then in the second half of the game things changed. In spite of some beautiful blocking by Drury and Reggie Weiss, Velie goaled in the fifth and soon after followed it with another pretty goal. In the nevt chukkur Max Fleischmann goaled with one of his powerful strokes, though every play was fought desperately by the Whites. But the Greens fought just as cleverly and desperately on their side with the swift moving Stevenson, the powerful hitting Fleischman, the cool-headed playing of Carleton Burke and the fast mounts of Velie, which none can pass.

SCORE TIED.

At the beginning of the eighth the score stood 4½ to 4¾ in favor of the Greens and the excitement was intense. Neither side scored, but in the desperate playing Malcolm Stevenson made a safety thirty seconds before the closing signal, which made the score a tie. Velie carried the ball almost to goal but missed and the bugle blew a second later for the end of the game.

The extra chukkur kept everyone in the crowd on their toes, but Stevenson sent the ball to Velie, who goaled, giving the Greens the score by 5¼ to 4¾. The uproar of yells and honking auto horns was deafening as the decisive goal was made.

Some of the best mounts of the stables were in the big game. Carleton Burke rode his favorite Tipperary Boy, also Scotty, Midwick and Cricket. Hugh Drury rode Beck and Rachel, fast horses of Burke's and his own Polo Boy and Sheep. Doc Macius, one of the famous registered horses of the Weiss stables, was ridden by Reggie Weiss, as well as Nuggett, Lady Cromwell and Little Sis.

THE LINE-UP.

The score—Whites: Goals, Neustadt, 1; R. Weiss, 2; Drury, 2.

JOCKEY MAY REFUSE A $12,000 CONTRACT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OTTUMWA (Iowa) Feb. 22.—William Wiley, a local jockey, who has been riding for the Prime Minister of Rumania for four years, has received a cablegram from Prince Carl I, now in Bucharest, offering him $12,000 to ride his mounts this season. The unsettled condition of affairs in Europe with the attendant difficulty of travel may cause Wiley to refuse the offer.

CLEVELAND'S FUTURE DEPENDS ON MEETING.

CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—The future of the Cleveland club of the American Association may be settled at the schedule meeting of the association at Columbus Thursday, President Chivington said today.

ANOTHER POLO GAME ANNEXED BY REDS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 22.—The Reds won from the Whites in a scrappy little six-period practice game this afternoon on the Chemawa Park polo field, the score being 4½ to 3½. Hugh Drury, polo captain, is in Coronado and is expected home tomorrow for practice on Thursday and a cup match Saturday afternoon. The teams today played as follows:

Whites.		Reds.
A. Holden	No. 1	L. V. W. Brown
A. C. Burrage	No. 2	A. Untermyer
R. G. Patten	No. 3	H. Lott

Pomona. Tuffy Conn, the idol of Pasadena, was about twenty yards ahead of him. The man doesn't grow who can catch Conn with that lead. All Pasadena went wild. Conn is to Pasadena what Warren Kerrigan Lamport is to Manual. Only Conn wins races.

The eight-man relay for sprinters was conceded to be the classic of the day. Everybody was anxious to see if Manual could win. Bob Weaver ran out the greatest array of sprinters imaginable in club suits, and Manual was beaten before the race started.

When the race came down to the Lamport brothers, Kirkpatrick of the club had about a ten-yard lead. It was fifteen yards when Kirk touched Conn. Warren Kerrigan dropped another couple yards to Tuffy. In fact, it looked for a while as if Occidental might also beat Manual.

NIGHT OF FEAR IN WET CANYON.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Feb. 23.—Hemmed in on every side by a fog that was thicker than the darkness itself, and then drenched to the skin with a terrific downpour of cold rain, three men and two young women of Pasadena spent a shivering night in the canyon bed below Alpine Tavern, where they were last night before last.

Through fear they would be dragged in a veritable whirlpool of mud which threatened to fill the canyon, members of the party, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Pace of No. 1 Pine street, Ray Bowers, her brother, and her guest, Miss Mabel Sims of Elgin, Ill., and E. R. Frost, all of Pasadena, fought their way painfully in the darkness through the heavy brush that tore their flesh and over great boulders that threatened to tumble to the bottom of the canyon at any moment. At last, thoroughly exhausted, they found the trail that reached the tavern shortly before daybreak.

The five became confused and lost their way after trying out a new government trail which ended abruptly in the sagebrush. Instead of turning back they continued through the brush, thinking they could reach the town in this way. In many places the mountainside was so steep that the climbers had to lie flat on their backs and slide down.

Without food for twenty-four hours and dressed in thin attire, the party suffered untold misery before reaching the tavern in the early morning. Yesterday they returned to their homes.

RIGHT OF WAY.

Pasadena has secured a right of way for an electric power line to the city limits of Los Angeles and will pay a rent of $5 a month to Russell Dobbins, owner of a railroad right of way to that city.

Many persons here believe the action of the Pacific Light and Power company before the State Railroad Commission yesterday was taken at least in part because the corporation had lost the new pole-line right of way.

The city officials of Pasadena yesterday refused to discuss just what is intended to do with this, but since Pasadena has had under consideration for some time the question of using Los Angeles aqueduct power, the action is regarded as significant.

NEWSPAPERS MERGE.

Announcement was made yesterday that after their issue of next Tuesday the Pasadena Star and the Pasadena Post, both evening dailies, will be merged into the Pasadena Star-News. The first number will appear March 1. Negotiations for this transaction were closed night before last and resulted in the formation of a corporation, the Pasadena Star-News Publishing company, with C. H. Prisk, J. Frost, Lon F. Chapin, W. F. Prisk and J. Hosking as stockholders and directors. The capital stock of the company will be $250,000.

CITY BRIEFS.

Plans for a new public library in Pasadena, which are being urged by members of the Pasadena City Improvement Association, are carried out, as it seems they will, the Crown City will soon have a new and beautiful library building. If it is built the old building will be moved to the rear of the lot and used for a museum.

Gen. W. R. Jackson, champion golfer of the California National Guard, was last night elected second lieutenant of Co. I, Seventh Regiment. He will take his examination for the position in two weeks.

Frank S. Tiedler of No. 279 Maine street, who will be 24 years old the last day, but will only celebrate his birthday, is looking for someone born on the extra day of February with whom he can make merry all his life. Mr. Tiedler says, however, never met anyone else born February 29. However, Dr. T. N. Morrison, former Mayor of Chicago, who soon will build the magnificent Vista apartments, will celebrate February 29, also, on the surplus day.

LONG BEACH WOMAN HEIRESS TO ESTATE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

HOUSTON (Tex.) Feb. 22.—Mrs. Ida A. Forrest of Long Beach, Cal., is named as sole beneficiary of the estate of T. E. Byrnes, her husband, who died in this city Saturday, last whose will was filed for probate today. The estate consisting of personal real property is estimated to be valued at $50,000. In the event of her death the children of Mrs. Forrest are to share equally in the estate. Mr. Byrnes was a Texan, who ran away from home in Ireland when a young lad and came to Houston sixty-two years ago. For many years he was the proprietor of a marble yard and monument establishment in this city.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BARSTOW, Feb. 22.—County Engineer Cook reports tonight that the flood across the Mojave River at this point is open for traffic. Several streams crossed this afternoon and tomorrow the Rock ford will be used and regular crossings resumed. This bridge has been out for a week and seriously interfered with traffic to Salt Lake, San Francisco and Bakersfield.

The residents of Superior Valley will have to the north depend on the ford to reach Barstow and the Mojave Highway to San Bernardino and Los Angeles.

HINDUS DEMAND GRISLY RELICS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

POMONA, Feb. 22.—The Hindus in this locality are up in arms because an undertaker refused to let them have the nails from the little fingers and the second toes, four teeth from the mouth and a small disc of skull from the remains of Ramah Singh, the Hindu who was murdered at Claremont ten days ago.

The Hindus ordered the remains cremated, but wanted the trophies enumerated, to treasure in accordance with some mystic custom of the East Indians. When the undertaker refused to grant the request they went to the crematory in Los Angeles and created a scene. Their protests went unheeded, however.

MORE FUMIGATION AT SMALLER COST.

UNUSUAL RESULTS SECURED IN THE CITRUS ORCHARDS.

Use of Hydrocyanic Gas Machines Reduces Damage to Tents and also the Bulk of Cyanide Needed. Amateurs Cause Some Damage in the Groves.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, Feb. 22.—In a campaign which lasted from September 7 to January 4, the Growers' Fumigation Company of the Pomona Valley, which served the citrus producers of the San Antonio Fruit Exchange, worked eleven fumigation gangs seven days a week and used eleven cars of cyanide, worth more than $60,000.

The company fumigated 4250 acres of oranges and lemons, which included the renovating of 283,500 trees. The season opened rather late, and it was a rush job because the growers were anxious to sow their veich. In commenting upon the work, Manager Fred Whyman says:

"We used hydrocyanic gas machines most of the time. They are an improvement over the old pot system. They don't burn the tents so much. We saved at least $500 in the matter of sewing and repairing tents this season by using the new machines. The amount of acid saved by using the new process would have cost us $2240. Last year we used sixteen cars to fumigate $45,000 trees and this year we used eleven cars to fumigate 283,500 trees. We would have used eighteen cars of cyanide this season if we had worked with pots. By the new process we cut down the force one man to the gang.

"Some injury to trees and fruit resulted where Bordeaux was used, and growers should be warned against using Bordeaux in any form within ten months of the time they fumigate. It should be used either as a spray or paste within that time."

From various parts of the valley come reports that trees have been burned by independent fumigating gangs composed of men who have not had sufficient experience to guide them in regard to the proper quantity of gas to use. The local exchange provides the co-operative growers with experienced fumigators who do the work on a co-operative basis and the total amount of injury done to fruit this year from the Growers' Fumigation Company would probably not total 100 field boxes.

TAX COLLECTORS ELECT.

Los Angeles Official Head of the State Association.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FRESNO, Feb. 22.—The following officers were chosen for the ensuing year at the annual convention here of the California Tax Collectors' Association: President, W. O. Welch, Los Angeles; vice-president, W. C. Neumiller, Stockton; secretary-treasurer, Ray W. Baker, Fresno. At today's meeting it was proposed that changes be made in the present laws governing the collection of taxes and that the incoming president of the association be empowered to name a committee whose duty it would be to draft the changes in the law deemed necessary.

Oroville was named as the meeting place of the 1917 convention.

PULLED FROM SURF.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

OCEAN PARK, Feb. 22.—Battling against a heavy ground swell, five guards of the bath-house here saved the life this afternoon of Joseph Pagileno, a clerk in the Bank of Italy, Los Angeles. Mr. Pagileno, who is a strong swimmer, went out farther than he had expected, in view of the heavy swells and the undertow. He was seized by a cramp in the shoulder and stomach and was practically helpless.

On account of the heavy undertow it was necessary for the guards to take relays in bringing him 150 feet to the shore.

When the guards reached shore with him Mr. Pagileno was unconscious and was resuscitated only after two hours of work with a pulmotor.

ROADS RESTORED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BEAUMONT, Feb. 22.—Several gangs of workmen on roads and streets have brought order to local transportation conditions rendered chaotic by the recent storm. The San Timoteo Canyon highway to Colton has been made passable by the construction of trails around washed-out bridges and the solidifying of soft ground with trusses of straw. The road through the mountains to San Jacinto has been reconstructed so that travel to that point is safe. The work of restoring the road connecting Beaumont with Oak Glen and the Highland Home district is nearing completion.

MILLIONS TO SEE ORANGE DAY "ADS."

EXCHANGE MANAGER TELLS OF WIDE PUBLICITY.

Declares Eighteen Hundred Retailers Have Engaged Space to Tell of the California Fruit—Advocates Five-cents-a-box Fund for More Effective Exploitation.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 22.—Already 1800 retailers have engaged space for advertising California citrus fruits on National Orange Day, March 18, and their advertisements will be read by 10,000,000 people. This is one of the interesting things G. Harold Powell, manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, told today at a meeting of the Present Day Club. He added that 3 cents a box creates an advertising fund and he believed 5 or 6 cents a box for advertising would return 100 per cent. on the investment.

Ethan Allen Chase presided at the meeting.

In discussing the relation of output to consumption of citrus fruit Mr. Powell called attention to the increase in production, which had grown from 3000 cars in 1885 to 7500 cars in 1895, 27,000 cars in 1905 and to 50,000 cars in 1915—a gain of 250 per cent. in the first-named decade, 300 per cent. in the second, and 100 per cent. in the third.

There has always been the plea, he said, that the growers would not be able to market the product. This problem will be none the less acute in the future, he contended, for the crop will double within the next five or ten years. The lemon output alone will double in the next five years. There are 40,000 acres of navels in California to be marketed early in the season.

"Considering our 100,000,000 population," continued Mr. Powell, presenting the other side of the picture, "the demand is almost limitless and the difficulty is not so much one of salesmanship as of creating consumers' demand. Our population is growing at the rate of 2 per cent. a year. It is not increasing fast enough to take care of the increasing fruit production.

"It is a difficult task to educate our jobbers and retailers, who help to create a desire on the part of the consumer. It costs less to deliver oranges to the consumer than any other farm crop—10 to 15 per cent., against 20 per cent. for the ordinary farm product."

The speaker referred to the expenditure of $250,000 by the exchange last year for the purpose of creating a consumers' demand, and exhibited samples of some of the most telling bits of advertising done by the organization.

BIG PLEASURE PIER.

Plans for Structure Announced and Building Materials Rushed Upon the Ground—Details to be Fully Announced by the End of May.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 22.—Charles I. D. Looff, owner of Luna Park, Seattle, and various other amusement places in the United States, will begin at once the construction of a pier 700 feet long and 200 feet wide, near the municipal pier, according to an announcement today of H. P. Benjamin, president of the Los Angeles-Santa Monica Beach Company and owner of considerable ocean frontage.

Mr. Benjamin also said he had sold property to Mr. Looff for $50,000 at $250 a front foot.

The first piling for the pier was hauled onto the ground today.

According to Mr. Benjamin, Mr. Looff will have 250 feet of the pier completed by May 31 and will then announce a list of amusements. Mr. Looff's sons, who are his managers, will have charge of the new enterprise. Mr. Looff at present lives at Long Beach.

HURTS NOT SERIOUS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

FULLERTON, Feb. 22.—Physicians today pronounced the injuries of E. W. Spear, a bookkeeper, and G. W. Brooks, both employees of the Brea gasoline plant, not serious. The two were hurt Sunday evening in an explosion and fire which wrecked the Brea gasoline plant and destroyed the engine and storage room. The fire is believed to have originated in the engine room and spread to the tank.

TOWN LAUNDRY ALL IN RIVER.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BEAUMONT, Feb. 22.—This is the town without a "b'iled" shirt for Sunday. Scattered along the sand bars of the Santa Ana River is the community's weekly wash, carried away by the turbulent waters when the delivery automobile of H. D. Hutson, manager of the Beaumont Steam Laundry, capsized in midstream. All of which is why the Beaumont beaus will perhaps go to Sunday meeting minus the regulation stiff shirt and starched collar.

ALL MUST CENSOR.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Feb. 22.—The Santa Ana City Trustees will not leave the fate of any suspected film to the judgment of any one or any two members of the Censor Commission. It will take the vote of all three censors to prevent the showing of a film. That was decided today when an amendment to the censor ordinance was passed. Upon demand, movie managers must give an advance performance to the censors, if the censors say they have legitimate cause to believe the film should not be shown.

STOLEN JOY-RIDE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SOUTH PASADENA, Feb. 22.—Nervy joy-riders with a skeleton key opened the garage of the Rev. W. H. Wotton, at Fremont avenue and Monterey road, on Sunday evening, took out his car, traveled in it over 120 miles, brought it back to the garage and locked it up again sometime before morning, without being either apprehended or suspected. The secret joy-ride was revealed because the speedometer showed 120⅝ miles had been covered since the minister last used the car.

GETS HER CHILD.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Feb. 22.—When Mrs. Lee Chastain of No. 1130 West Sixth street told Judge Thomas that her husband had come from Los Angeles and had taken their 3-year-old son, Franklin, from her, the judge concluded he would take the case into the Juvenile Court. He issued a warrant ordering that the child be brought into court. Mrs. Chastain went to Los Angeles with Deputy Sheriff Murray and aided him in locating the child, which will remain in her possession until the court decides the case.

MILLS TO BE MOVED?

Yes, Says Manager Whose Plant has Been Closed Because of Flood Water; City Officials Try to Change Plan—News of the Seaside.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Feb. 22.—City officials and Chamber of Commerce directors are engaged in an effort to dissuade the owners of the woolen mill north of town from their purpose of moving the plant to a slt at Wilmington, already purchased. Although Manager V. R. G. Wilbur of the plant states his decision is final, the city commissioners will offer to build a bridge over the flooded roadway, and to make other improvements.

During the period of high water a month ago, the mills were surrounded by water, and operations were totally suspended. Water still prevents the full operation of the plant and blocks the road.

SENT FROM STATE.

Roy Dolley, who was confined at the George Junior Republic following his arrest in this city because of an assault on a local newspaper man, has been removed from that institution and sent out of the State for a period of one year, following the recommendation of county probation officers. Irwin Crouch, expelled from the High School for participation in the hazing of Foster Strong, has also left the State. The other three students barred from the High School for the remainder of the year are attending institutions outside the city.

TO ENTERTAIN SCRIBES.

A special reception committee of local newspaper men will meet visiting knights of the quill tomorrow, which will be newspaper men's day under the auspices of the local Ad Club. Invitations have been extended to most of the editors and managers of papers throughout the southern part of the State to attend the weekly luncheon of the club at Hotel Virginia. The principal address will be delivered by Frank G. Tyrrell of Pasadena. Short talks will be made by prominent Los Angeles newspaper folk. An aeroplane race will be given by Aviators Christofferson and Daugherty.

SEWER ACCEPTED.

Works Commissioner Hargis has decided to accept the sewer job completed by Bent brothers, and will ask the commission as a whole to pay for the huge job. There was some talk of the sewer being faulty, but a prominent firm of engineers has pronounced the work all right.

FRUIT AT ORANGE SHOW PASSES HIGH STANDARD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 22.—Fruit displayed at the Sixth National Orange Show shows a high ratio of soluble solids to acids, according to the chemical tests made today in the annual contest to establish just how much above eight-to-one, the government requirement, the California orange crop comes each year.

Colton and Lindsay fruit stood the highest, each with a per cent. of 12.6 to 1. A toss of the coin gave the first honor to Colton, the fruit being the exhibit of the California-Portland Cement Company, from groves surrounding the cement plant, purchased by the company to end the litigation of the growers who sought damages because of alleged injury to the fruit and trees from cement dust.

Tests were conducted today by Prof. C. E. Griffin of the Polytechnic High School laboratories.

The Orange Show today was thronged with the biggest crowd of the week, Riverside, Long Beach, Corona and Los Angeles contributing the greatest numbers. Mayor Sebastian and wife of Los Angeles headed a delegation from that city and were cordially welcomed by show officials. Long Beach sent an excursion of about 400 people, while Riverside brought its Cantadores Club, military band and about 500 people in a big automobile procession. Corona sent a special train here late this afternoon.

Washington's Birthday is always an occasion for a big crowd, special significance being given to the celebration of the anniversary of the planting of the first navel orange at Riverside in 1873.

Pacific Electric officials from all over the system were guests today. Redlands, Highland, Del Rosa and near-by sections will be guests tomorrow, while Thursday another excursion will come from Long Beach and it will be home day, as well.

The closing celebration Thursday night will be well attended. Tomorrow a special feature will be the real Indian dinner served in the Riverside exhibit by the Sherman Institute to the members of the Executive Committee.

The social season is now at its height at "Hotel del Coronado."—[Advertisement.

Nimble Feet to Twinkle for Red Cross.

Miss Mae Murray and Stafford Pemberton,

Two film stars who will have leading parts in the vaudeville programme to be given in connection with the allies carnival at Shrine Auditorium Friday and Saturday of this week.

Vaudeville.

FOR WORTHY CAUSE.

Allies' Carnival for Benefit of British Red Cross Society to be Featured by Offering of Stage and Music Headliners.

With artists of national and international note on the programme, a vaudeville show of a kind that will make $2 look small will be given in Shrine Auditorium at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, in connection with the allies' grand carnival for the benefit of the British Red Cross Society. Admission will be 50 cents.

Among the dozen or more headliners will be the following: Mae Murray and Stafford Pemberton, pantomime of the dance; Herbert Rawlinson and associates, ukulele trio; Charles Murray, humorist; Curtyne Engiar, ballet dancer; Miss Constance Balfour, soprano; Miss Constance Collier, recitation; Miss Marion O'Brien, Robin Hood dance; William Clifford, recitation; Miss Eunice Landrum, solo pianist; Leo White, character songs from "Mlle. Modiste" and "The Soul Kiss;" Jean Grame, ballet dancer; Madame Eleanor (Mrs. Arthur Shirley,) Australian lyric soprano; Mrs. Gordon Stanley, contralto; Hasanulli, Indian conjuror, and Miss Edith Duncan Emmett, Scottish dancer.

All these persons have either donated their services or had them donated for them by those for whom they are working under contract. A special feature will be the first appearance in this country of Mrs. Arthur Shisley of Sydney, Australia, who is known on the operatic stage of the southernmost continent as Madame Eleanor.

LAYMAN CONVENTION WILL OPEN SUNDAY.

DELEGATES NOW NUMBER OVER THREE THOUSAND.

Many Denominations Join in Missionary Movement—Survey Shows Great Growth and Increase in Number of Churches in this City and Southern California.

Word has been received at the headquarters of the Laymen's Missionary Convention, room No. 1101 Wright & Callender Building, that several of the speakers for the Los Angeles convention of the laymen's missionary movement will arrive Saturday morning, and it has been arranged for them to speak at a final preconvention luncheon of workers at Trinity Cafe, Saturday noon.

The luncheon will be for the purpose of arousing enthusiasm in the final work of registering delegates to the Los Angeles convention, which opens Sunday afternoon at the Bible Institute Auditorium. There will be short addresses from the various speakers who will participate in the convention.

The registrations of delegates now total 3194. The standing of the various denominations is as follows: Methodist Episcopal, 1163; Presbyterian, 521; Baptist, 392; Congregational, 359; Christian, 241; United Presbyterian, 119; Friends, 76; Lutheran, 59; South Methodist, 57; Episcopal, 56; Nazarene, 55; Reformed Presbyterian, 21; German Methodist, 21; Evangelical Association, 14; United Brethren, 9; Brethren, 3; Reformed, 2; Seventh Day Adventist, 1; Volunteers, 1; Christian Science, 1; denomination not stated, 24.

The standing of the various local churches is constantly changing, several working hard for first place. The church with the highest number of local registrations is the First Methodist Episcopal of Hollywood, with more than 150 delegates.

The Committee on Statistics and Survey, of which Judge Curtis D. Wilbur is the chairman, has about completed the work of tabulating statistics of the denominations. They report the total number of churches in Southern California as 862, for 1915. The membership of the Protestant churches in Southern California is over 154,522, and 53,515 church members in Los Angeles. This is a gain in the past ten years of 75,000 for Southern California, and 25,847 for Los Angeles. Last year the churches of Southern California spent $1,964,940, for local church expenses, and $758,039 for missions and benevolences, an average of $12.71 per member for local expenses, and $4.91 per member for missions and benevolences.

Two definite objectives have been set for the convention by the general committee having the convention in charge.

First, concerning the extraordinary missionary needs abroad, due to the war in Europe and changing conditions in the Orient, that the churches of Southern California raise this full quota to meet these needs.

Second, concerning the foreign-speaking people in Los Angeles, and Southern California, that the local churches and the denominational home mission boards adequately meet this need.

PASTOR TRIUMPHANT.

Domestic Difficulties Involving the Pastor of Colored Church and Brother-in-Law Culminate in Fisticuffs on Street. Police Step in.

Rev. L. W. Henry, pastor of the African M. E. Church of Monrovia, met his brother-in-law on East First street yesterday and, in the excitement that followed, the police found the minister astride the body of his brother-in-law, belaboring him both vocally and physically. Both were arrested for disturbing the peace.

The brother-in-law is George W. Crawford, a street sweeper. Because of domestic unhappiness in the Crawford family the brothers-in-law have not been on speaking terms. Both married sisters and Crawford accused the minister of having used his influence in assisting Mrs. Crawford to get a divorce. Recently Mrs. Crawford triumphed in the court and was given liberal alimony.

Mr. Henry said he was assigned by his wife to perform some minor errands here yesterday. In order to save car fare, he said, he determined to walk from one place to the other, and his course led past the district where Crawford labored as a white wing.

When Crawford recognized the preacher he trundled his scoop aside, threw down his broom and prepared for action. Mr. Henry said he accepted much abuse, but when Crawford attempted to get into action with a knife, as he alleges, he determined it was no time for religious injunctions.

The minister proved to be stronger than the street sweeper, as the police witnessed when they arrived. Both were held under $25 bail for appearance in Police Court today.

DISTRICT MEETING.

Methodist Women to Observe National Day of Prayer.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Los Angeles District, Methodist Episcopal Church, will observe the national day of prayer next Thursday with an all-day meeting in the Vincent Methodist Episcopal Church on East Twenty-ninth street.

The meeting will open with a communion service at 10 o'clock, conducted by Dr. H. W. Peck, Dr. A. W. Lamport, Rev. J. A. Wood and Rev. George Skafte. "Membership" will be presented by Mrs. M. M. Nortkrup and "Protective Work for Girls" by Miss Julia T. Lee of the Y.W.C.A. Mrs. W. H. Buser will give a solo and Dr. Lamport will give an address.

After luncheon, which will be served by the ladies of Vincent Church, there will be a devotional session at 1:15 o'clock, followed by an address by Mrs. H. F. Coates on "Why Missionary Work in America?" This will be followed by a season prayer for the workers. Deaconess Chaffee will speak on "Mission Work;" Rev. J. B. Fox will discuss "Foreign Work in Los Angeles," and there will follow a session of prayer, with the meeting closing with a consecration service led by Rev. Byron H. Wilson.

The Los Angeles district officers are: Mrs. J. Q. Williams, president; Mrs. J. W. Humphry, conference secretary; Mrs. C. F. Huse, recording secretary, and Mrs. E. R. Smith, treasurer.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The United States government has made considerable progress in the establishment of standards on various food products. By the pure food law, which was enacted on June 30, 1906, the Federal government is given the right to conduct hearings, and to establish legal standards of quality for the manufacturer, which thereby becomes part of the law and can be enforced as such. After such a standard has been set, although the article may be harmless if used, it cannot be sold under a given name unless the grade as established by the government, is up to the standard requirements. Today the Joint Committee on Definitions and Standards will conduct a hearing in Buffalo, N. Y., on the status of evaporated apples, with special reference to the amount of moisture which will be permitted in this product. It is stated that manufacturers can evaporate apples down to any degree of dryness they desire, thus causing a great many different grades in the market with a consequent confusion to the trade. One evaporator will take a certain grade of apples and evaporate the same until there is not even one per cent. of moisture left in the product when it is placed on the market. Other manufacturers will have some regard for the public, as they say, and leave 10 or more per cent. moisture in the evaporated stocks they offer to the trade. Much interest has been aroused in the government investigation and the trade expect that the evaporated apple situation will be benefited by whatever action is taken as the result of the hearing.

Beginning next season all nuts produced in the State of California that are shipped to Los Angeles must be sold on a net weight basis, declare the local weight authorities, and this will also hold true for shipments from points outside the State, as the United States Department of Agriculture has issued a ruling to that effect covering interstate shipments.

All the wholesale produce houses closed at noon yesterday and the only business transacted in the morning was the delivery of goods ordered the day before. As a consequence no price changes were made in the various listed commodities, and the Produce Exchange was also closed.

LOVE BRINGS WOE TO THE WINNER.

Drinks Iodine in Pacific Electric Station Following Quarrel with Moving-picture Actor at a Dance. Says Dilute Poison and Her Life Is Dead.

Eleanor Richards, the successful rival of Anna Erickson in an alleged love affair with Dick Ormond, a film actor, attempted to kill herself yesterday by swallowing iodine in the Pacific Electric station on Main street because she had quarreled with Mr. Ormond at a Main-street dance Monday night. Her attempt did not result in serious burns, and when taken to the Receiving Hospital she was pronounced out of danger.

So much interested the police believe it is a sequel to the troubles of Anna Erickson, an attractive young woman who forged checks in order to purchase a trousseau. She said she was going to wed Mr. Ormond, the police report.

That Mr. Ormond met Eleanor Richards, There resulted a duel of love letters between Anna Erickson and Eleanor Richards, in which Miss Richards proved more eloquent with the pen. She is said to have vanquished Miss Erickson in the contest, and as a result of the disappointment the latter indulged in indiscretions that resulted in her being sent to jail.

The affair between Mr. Ormond and Miss Richards progressed so rapidly they were engaged to be married four months ago, Miss Richards told the police yesterday.

Last Monday night they went to a dance and there Miss Richards saw a handsome Italian with whom she was charmed by chance of the informality of introductions permitted. Mr. Ormond objected and left the dance hall. While he was gone Miss Richards danced again with the handsome stranger. Mr. Ormond returned, she fled, before she finished the dance. A quarrel resulted in which Miss Richards was given back a watch she had given Ormond. Also, she was informed she could go home alone.

Heartbroken she went to work yesterday morning, then gave up her job, called into the Pacific Electric station and swallowed the poison. She died but little, and cried much, and those in the station told the police.

Cheers!

PATRIOTISM THE THEME.

Public Speakers Banquetting with the Women's Press Club Proudly Sing of the Glorious Past and Foretell Bright Future of Country.

Patriotic feeling ran high among the 180 diners last night at a meeting of the Southern California Women's Press Club, held at Christopher's, No. 541 South Broadway. Stirring speeches in which patriotism was the dominant note were made by the assembled guests; patriotic buntings draped the walls; the orchestra played patriotic music, and even the waiters displayed patriotic extravagance, and were small United States flags.

The password for the evening was "United States; Its Past, Present, and Future." All speeches dwelt with particular period of national development. Frank Welton, one of the principal speakers, who also officiated as toastmaster, gave a brief review of the life of George Washington, and of the national crisis which was successfully met under the great patriot.

Mrs. George A. Dobinson, who with Mrs. Huested Harper of New York, also paid high tribute to the Flag of His Country, read interesting extracts from speeches of many of the great men of America, which had to do with the life of Washington.

Speaking of the present crisis facing the nation, Col. R. M. Thompson, chairman of the Navy League of the United States, told of the work of that organization, and outlined the necessity for a sensible programme of preparedness.

Mrs. Lovinia Griffin Graham, who made an interesting address dealing with the present, spoke highly of President Wilson and his stand on international problems. She closed her address by proposing a toast to the President.

Miss Nana Gale, the widely known actress, chose for the title of an interesting address "The New Patriotism," insisting that the United States must enter a bigger, broader, truer life, she outlined the ideals that should govern the nation, and while discussing the duty one must render the flag of their own country, she recalled that the bonds of brotherhood must exist between men of all nations, if the future is to be better than the past.

Another feature of the evening which occasioned much favorable comment was the rendering of ::The Star Spangled Banner," by Grace Widney Caukin, the noted Los Angeles vocalist.

REPUBLICAN CLUB.

Third Assembly District Organized for the Campaign.

The organization of the Sixty-first Assembly District Republican Club was completed at a meeting last night in the Red Cross School. By-laws were adopted and officers elected, as follows: George H. McNeil, president; Miss Adams, first vice-president; T. Holland, second vice-president; C. Tanner, fourth vice-president; H. Gerwe, fifth vice-president; Miss Spencer, secretary, and N. W. Smith, treasurer. An Executive Committee elected comprises A. O. Stanley, chairman; David Armstrong, H. Hoffman, P. C. McNaughton and Walter VanDeever.

The regular meeting place of the club will be the International White Building, No. 128 West Avenue 31. Delegates will be sent by the club to the Los Angeles County Republican meeting tonight.

BOLD BURGLARS.

Mrs. Chinese Woman's Weapon of Successful Defense.

While attempting two burglars, surprised in the act of robbing the cash register of her grocery store, at No. 456 Main street, early last night, with a bottle, Mrs. George Shuck, a Chinese woman, put the men to flight and saved $10, which she had taken through the day.

The two negroes, entered the store, and running to the cash register, attempted to open it. Mrs. Shuck seized a number of bottles from the counter and at them. After several of the bottles had struck on the negroes'

USEFUL LIFE CLOSES.

Capt. David E. Durand Passes—Veteran of Civil War, Leader in Church and Sunday-school Work, in Charity and Social Betterment.

Capt. David E. Durand, aged 74 years, a veteran of the Civil War, retired manufacturer and well known in church circles in this city, passed away at his residence, No. 535 South Manhattan place, yesterday. Funeral services will be heard Friday at 2 o'clock in the First Methodist Episcopal Church. Dr. Locke, assisted by Dr. Ryland of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Pasadena, will officiate. The body will be interred in the Inglewood Cemetery.

Capt. Durand was born in Connecticut in 1842. He served in the Civil War with the Second Connecticut Volunteers, and was promoted to the rank of captain. He was severely wounded in the battle of Drury Bluffs and was retired.

Capt. Durand returned to his native State and built up the Birmingham Brass Mills at Shelton. In 1899 the American Brass Company effected a combine with the Birmingham Brass Mills, and upon the conclusion of the deal, Capt. Durand retired from business and came to California. He had been a resident of Los Angeles fifteen years.

Capt. Durand was well known in charity work in the city and was a member of the Board of Directors of the Union Rescue Mission. His personal Sunday-school class in the First Methodist Episcopal Church numbered some 700 members. He was a member of the City Club and the Army and Navy Club, and a Thirty-third degree Mason.

Capt. Durand leaves a widow, Mrs. Mary Cheesman Durand, to whom he had been married over thirty-two years; one daughter, Mrs. John R. Brandon, wife of the cashier of the Long Beach Savings Bank and Trust Company, and a brother, Prof. L. E. Durand of Stanford University.

CREATES A VACANCY.

Mayor Finds a Way to Appoint Art Board Member.

Dr. Ross Moore was appointed a member of the Municipal Art Commission, yesterday, by Mayor Sebastian, and the appointment will go to the Council for confirmation today. Dr. Moore succeeds John W. Mitchell, former president of the commission, recently adjudged insane after a nervous breakdown. The illness of Mr. Mitchell was such he was unable to resign, and the place had been unoccupied for nearly two months. It was found last week, however, that the Mayor had a copy of the resignation which Mr. Mitchell handed in as a matter of form when Mayor Sebastian took office, last July, and, after consulting with Mr. Mitchell's friends, the old resignation was accepted and placed on file, thus allowing the Mayor to fill the vacancy.

BY JOHNS HOPKINS ALUMNI.

Ten of the thirty members of the local Johns Hopkins Alumni Association of Southern California were present last evening at the annual banquet held at the University Club in celebration of commemoration day. Following the dinner and informal talks on Johns Hopkins ideals and traditions, a new Constitution was adopted and the following officers to serve during the ensuing year: Dr. Rockwell D. Hunt, president; Dr. Rolland F. Hastreiter, vice-president, and Prof. Lawrence M. Riddle, secretary.

GOES TO BIG CREEK.

Pacific Electric Man to Manage Huntington Lake Lodge.

Traffic Mahager Munger of the San Joaquin and Eastern Railroad and Huntington companies announced the appointment here yesterday of H. B. Brown as manager of the Huntington Lake Lodge in Fresno county. Mr. Brown has been manager of Alpine Tavern for the Pacific Electric for the past eight years. He will also have charge of the development of summer entertainment, as well as winter sports, along the line of the San Joaquin and Eastern Railroad.

Mr. Brown's successor as manager of Alpine Tavern is N. B. Vickrey, who has been resort agent for the Pacific Electric. Huntington Lake Lodge is on the artifical lake which supplies water to the Big Creek hydro-electric plants of the Pacific Light and Power Corporation.

OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY.

Many Friends at Washington's Birthday Luncheon of the Society, Sons of the Revolution—Theme of Several Speakers is Preparedness Need.

The Society, Sons of the Revolution in the State of California, with headquarters in Los Angeles, commemorated Washington's birthday by a luncheon Monday noon at the Alexandria. Many members and friends were present.

Arthur Jay Waters, president, presided. Among the speakers was George Eltweed Pomeroy, registrar-general of the society, who as representative of the general officers, extended best wishes. A letter was read from the President-General, James Mortimer Montgomery of New York City, who congratulated the California society on its activities in the past.

Sayre McNeil spoke on the unpreparedness of the people of this country for emergencies, to say nothing of the government and its lack of business-like management of the army and navy. He typified the condition of the nation as "Too soft! Too soft! Too soft!"

Walter Kemple Tuller spoke more directly on "preparedness" and the need of it by the country.

The society ordered that the following telegram be sent to the President-General, who is to preside at the joint commemorative services of all the patriotic societies in Washington today:

The Society, Sons of the Revolution, in the State of California, now assembled for the commemoration of Washington's Birthday, desires to extend to you, and through you to all patriotic societies now gathered at this time and working in our common cause, our hearty best wishes. And to the pulpit and press our congratulations for their hearty support at this time.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENTURA, Feb. 22.—Mr. and Mrs. James Crothers, pioneers of this city, celebrated their golden wedding at their Ventura-avenue home today. The house was handsomely decorated throughout, the color scheme being appropriately in yellow. Goldenrod, yellow acacia and jonquils twined in ferns were the decorations. The reception continued from 2 to 5 p.m. Between those hours hundreds of friends of the hale and happy couple dropped in on them, and in the evening the Avenue Women's Club took possession of the house. Refreshments, including orange punch, were served.

delectation of the multitude. The ballads of individual songsters as well as the choruses were frequently lost in the shrieks of excitement over some race, these events continuing through all other parts of the performance.

The best riding event of the day was "Mexican polo"" or a potato race on horseback. Tomas Ybarra, champion bull fighter or old Madrid and many other places, staged this event in style. The game was played by riders in all the decorations of Mexican army generals with horses of all sizes, mostly large.

Each rider had a pointed stick and with this dashed to a box in the center of the field, jabbed a potato with his spear and tried to deposit it in the box of an opponent at the far end of the lot. There were guards for the boxes, just as there would be guards for a goal in polo. Spear whanged spear and several horsemen were unseated in the rushes. When the end came the team captained by Jose Flores had piled up a score of sixteen potatoes against two put in proper place by Bud Osborne's team.

Excellent riding was shown by the cavalcade of horsemen who occupied the field for half an hour. Bucking broncheos, championship lassoing, short racing and daring stunts on the backs of horses were all heartily applauded.

The horse show, in its numerous divisions, was interspersed with an exciting pushball game played between the University of Southern California and the Throop College of Technology football players. The immense sphere was pounded, hammered and lifted from one end of the field to the other by well-matched teams.

THE HORSE SHOW.

The ladies' saddle horse event was the first scheduled in the horse show. There were some beautiful entries, all well ridden, but none quite so well as the mount of Miss Ella Morgrage. Striding "San Jacinto," the wonderful gelding of Miss K. M. Banning, she came in for the blue ribbon beyond a questionable doubt.

Fox-hunt loving England could not have produced more capable hurdle jumpers than some of the horses in the following equine event. Revel Lindsay English of Chino had a perfect pair of jumpers. Other entrants worthy of mention were those of Thomas Morgan of Anaheim, George R. Duncan of Los Angeles and J. Lombardi of Pasadena. Riders in this event were all dressed in hunt costume, white riding pants, red coats and dicers.

The appearance of the thoroughbreds from Mrs. Anita M. Baldwin's stables was the occasion for a genuine outburst of enthusiasm from all lovers of horseflesh. The immense Percherons, with their high, arched necks, their massive withers and heavy fetlocks, were in a class by themselves. The sleek, glossy Arabians, considered among the finest horses in the world, winners of the majority of prizes given at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, were also a treat.

A burst of speed developed in the polo pony bending race. Some of the horses in the race were G. T. Hopkins's Buster, John B. Miller's Senator, Grey Dick, belonging to J. G. Carwile; Paloma, owned by Dr. E. T. Malaby, and Plain Sam, the property of R. L. English.

President Turner of the Tournament of Roses Association said afterward that the day had been a big success and that, in all probability, enough had been realized to make up the deficit of several thousand dollars incurred on New Year's Day.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE.

WHEREAS, the BROADWAY INVESTMENT CO., a corporation, by a deed of trust dated April 1st, 1910, and recorded June 18th, 1910, in Book 4183, page 208 of TRUST DEEDS, and Book 3478, page 12 of MORTGAGES, records of Los Angeles County, California, did grant and convey the premises specified therein and hereinafter described, to the TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY, a corporation, of Los Angeles, California, as trustee, to secure, among other things, the payment of a bonded indebtedness of $550,000.00, evidenced by 1100 First Mortgage Bonds of the denomination of $500.00 each, all dated April 1st, 1910, and payable on or before the first day of April, 1930, with interest at the rate of six (6%) per cent. per annum from date, payable semi-annually on the first days of April and October of each year respectively; and

WHEREAS, default has been made under said bonds and deed of trust in this, that no part of the semi-annual interest upon said bonds which fell due on the first day of April, 1915, has been paid, and no part of the semi-annual interest upon said bonds which fell due on the first day of October, 1915, or of the principal sum of said bonds, or any of them, except $10,000 thereof, has been paid; and

WHEREAS, said deed of trust provides that if default be made in the payment of any of the sums of principal or interest when due, and said default shall continue for the period of six months thereafter, the said trustee shall if requested by the holder or holders of a majority in amount of the principal of the said bonds then outstanding, declare the principal of all the said bonds to be immediately due and payable; and

WHEREAS, said deed of trust provides that in case of default in the payment of any instalment of interest on any of said bonds evidenced by interest coupons for a period of six months after the presentation of any such coupon at the office of the CITIZENS NATIONAL BANK, in the City of Los Angeles, California, for payment, then and thereupon the whole amount of principal of said bonds, together with all interest accrued and unpaid and accruing until paid thereon, and all other sums secured by said trust deed, together with any interest thereon agreed to be paid, shall become immediately due and payable at the election and option of the holder or holders of a majority in amount of the principal of said bonds then outstanding, which election shall be stated in writing by such bond holders, to the said trustee, and accompanied by an affidavit showing that such default has occurred; and

WHEREAS, there was filed with said trustee on the 16th day of October, 1915, an affidavit by the owner and holder of one of said bonds, secured by said trust deed, to wit: Bond No. 313; that the instalment of interest due upon said bond and evidenced by Coupon No. 10, dated April 1st, 1915, has not been paid; that the same was presented for payment at the office of the CITIZENS NATIONAL BANK, in the City of and County of Los Angeles, State of California, as provided in said trust deed, for payment on, to wit: the first day of April, 1915, and that more than six months have elapsed since the presentation of said coupon for payment at said CITIZENS NATIONAL BANK, as aforesaid, and that said instalment of interest is still due and unpaid; and

WHEREAS, there was filed with said trustee, on the 28th day of October, 1915, a declaration by the owners and holders of a majority in amount of the principal of said bonds then outstanding to the effect that default has been made in the payment of interest due on said bonds April 1st, 1915, as evidenced by coupon No. 10 attached to said bonds, and further declaring that such default has continued for a period of more than six months last past, and electing to exercise the option given to the bond holders by said trust deed so to declare, and declaring the full amount of the principal and interest of all of said bonds immediately due and payable, in accordance with the terms of said trust deed and directing the said trustee to give notice to said BROADWAY INVESTMENT CO. of such default, and of said declaration, for a period of 60 days, all as provided in said trust deed and directing that should said default continue for a period of sixty days after giving said notice, as required by the said trust deed, that the trustee proceed to foreclose said trust deed securing said bonds, by sale at public auction, as provided in said trust deed; and

WHEREAS, the said trustee did, on the 29th day of October, 1915, give written notice to said BROADWAY INVESTMENT COMPANY of such default and did give written notice to the said BROADWAY INVESTMENT CO. of the election and direction of the holder or holders of the majority in amount of the principal of such bonds then outstanding, as aforesaid, and did give written notice to said BROADWAY INVESTMENT CO. that if such default should continue for a period of sixty days from and after the date of the service of said notice, that said trustee would, in accordance with the terms of said deed of trust and in compliance with the provisions thereof, proceed to advertise for sale the property covered by said deed of trust and unless all sums secured by said deed of trust, including the indebtedness evidenced by said bonds, with interest thereon, and the fees, expenses and advances of the trustee, be paid, the property covered by said deed of trust would be sold according to the provisions of said deed of trust; and

WHEREAS, it appears from affidavits on file with said trustee that said written notice was duly served on said BROADWAY INVESTMENT CO. on the 29th day of October, 1915; and

WHEREAS, more than sixty days have elapsed since the date of the service of said written notice, as aforesaid; and

WHEREAS, none of the indebtedness secured by said trust deed now due and payable, and none of the fees, expenses and advances of the trustee have been paid except that bonds amounting to $10,000.00 have been paid; and

WHEREAS, the said deed of trust further provides that if default be made in the payment of any of the sums of principal or interest when due, and such default should continue for a period of six months after notice as aforesaid it shall be lawful for the trustee to sell and dispose of all and singular the premises and property by said trust deed conveyed, or any part thereof, by public auction in the City of Los Angeles, County of Los Angeles, State of California, on such terms as to credits, partial credits and security for payments as the trustee may think proper, having first given public notice of the time and place of such sale or sales by advertisements printed once a day for at least four consecutive weeks in some newspaper published in the said City of Los Angeles, California; and

WHEREAS, the holder or holders of a majority in amount of the principal of said bonds now outstanding has in writing directed the trustee to proceed to make sale of the properties conveyed by said trust deed, as in said trust deed provided, to accomplish the objects of said trust deed.

NOW THEREFORE, notice is hereby given that the undersigned, by reason of the premises recited and by virtue of the authority in it vested as trustee, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, in United States gold coin, on Tuesday, the 7th day of March, 1916, at the hour of eleven o'clock A.M. of said date, at the Fifth Street entrance of the Title Insurance Building, corner of Fifth and Spring streets, in the City of Los Angeles, California, the interest conveyed to it by the aforesaid deed of trust in and to the real property therein described, situated in the City of Los Angeles, County of Los Angeles, State of California, described as follows:

CITY TO OFFER A NAVAL BASE?

Land Won from Bannings may be Put to Important Use.

Also Figures in Plans for Big Free Zone at Port.

Planning to take immediate advantage of the city's court victory in the tidelands case decided Monday by the Supreme Court, the Harbor Commission yesterday discussed the probability of the creation of a new industrial district and a naval base at the harbor. President Woodman said that the commission will consider today a resolution formally offering the Federal government a site for the proposed naval base, and he dispatched a letter to Congressman Stephens outlining the proposals that will later be made to the Navy Department.

The tract of 450 acres, title to which was won by the city in the Banning suit, has already been tentatively selected as an admirable site for a government naval base, according to President Woodman of the Harbor Commission. Two years ago, when members of the joint Army and Navy Board of Strategy visited Los Angeles harbor with members of the Harbor Commission, they pointed out the Banning tract on the west basin, as an ideal spot for a naval base. At that time the ground was in litigation and no serious consideration could be given until the Supreme Court rendered its decision sustaining the grant made by the State to the city in 1911.

This tract of 450 acres is valued at $30,000 an acre, according to Commissioner Gordon, and with the industrial development of the harbor its value will increase rapidly.

Commissioner Gordon is working for the establishment of an open port at the harbor by creation of a free zone where foreign goods may be landed for manufacture and export, or for transshipment without the payment of duty.

In presenting the question of offering the government a free site for a naval base, President Woodman said in his letter of yesterday to Congressman Stephens:

"Tidelands location No. 57 has been adjudicated to the city of Los Angeles by the Supreme Court of the United States, placing the city in undisputed possession of the west basin. This is a section of the harbor ideally located for a naval base. It has been considered previously by the Naval Strategy Board and individual members of that board.

"There should be established somewhere between San Francisco and the Mexican border a naval station, and there is an opportunity here to accomplish this object in the vicinity of the largest city on the Pacific Coast. Los Angeles is well over 600,000 population, and the business of the harbor is growing at a tremendous rate, regardless of the Panama Canal or the European war. Things have progressed too far to permit any question of rivalry between ports, for it is an established fact that the greatest port of Southern California will be Los Angeles."

PARTNERS SAY THAT THEY'LL PROSECUTE.

GILBRETH RETURNING TO FACE EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE.

Wires from St. Louis to Friends Here Alleging He Did not Wrongfully Take Funds Paid to His Firm on School Jobs—Others Deny that He Owns Bulk of the Stock.

Notwithstanding the fact that G. W. Gilbreth, contractor and alleged fugitive, deluged his friends and relatives with telegrams yesterday, declaring his innocence and announcing his speedy return to this city to face the charges of embezzlement brought by his business associates, detectives today will wire the St. Louis police to arrest Mr. Gilbreth.

"We will prosecute Mr. Gilbreth on the charge of embezzlement, no matter what terms of settlement he proposes," said M. H. Bowman, president, and A. B. Haight, treasurer, of the Gilbreth Contracting Company, last evening, after an attorney had suggested a settlement on the terms that the money be returned to the company and proceedings dropped.

"This statement that he holds 500 shares of the company stock is not true. He owns one share only," Mr. Bowman declared. "Five hundred and four shares of stock were issued, one to each partner, and the remaining 500 to the backer of the concern. Gilbreth had no moral or legal right to take 1 cent from the company. He was to receive $36 a week, and was overdrawn $200. Then he took the $2200 and disappeared. We are prepared to go ahead with the prosecution."

Yesterday telegrams were received by Mrs. Gilbreth, by an attorney and members of the Gilbreth firm, announcing the return from St. Louis of Mr. Gilbreth. According to Mr. Bowman and Mr. Haight, G. W. Gilbreth & Co., contractors, secured the contracts to build the Annandale and the Amelia-street schools, involving $60,000. Several weeks ago Mr. Gilbreth drew $1700 from one of the contracts and $400 from the other and left. This money should have been paid into the firm's account, the other members said. They took the matter up with Deputy District Attorney Becker who, after an examination, issued a warrant, charging Mr. Gilbreth with embezzlement.

UNDELIVERED TELEGRAMS.

The following is a list of undelivered telegrams at the Western Union: A. C. Carden, S. Y. Castelon, Mrs. Evelyn O. Day, Mrs. Sadie Elain, John Fuller, George D. Garrett, J. L. THE VISION.

[Written after hearing lecture on "The Coming Civilization," in Christ Episcopal Church, Sunday evening.]

France, thou hast seen a vision,
Where the tumult of war ran wild,
From the pain of a world in travail
To mother a newborn child;

Hast dreamed of a fair tomorrow,
The dawning of brighter days,
The growth of a fresh, sweet flower
From the ruck where the old decays.

Who can the dream construe?
What if no sign be given?
How can we prove it true?

A grander civilization,
Fashioned for all mankind;
Yea, but the fount—the well spring—
Where shall the pilgrim find?

Not in the thought republic
That Plato found so fair,
Bubble of fine ideals
To burst in the denser air;

Not in a reign of reason
On Robespierre's godless plan;
Not through the will to power,
Nor the Nietzschean superman;

Not in Utopian ventures
To baffle life's pain and toil
By planting a magic lotus
On some isle's enchanted soil;

Not in a mystic labyrinth
With riddles and rites involved;
Not from the power of science
O'er problems still unsolved.

Where, then, the inspiration,
The well spring, the source, the fount?
Brother, go read and ponder
Christ's Sermon on the Mount.

Read it, and learn, and LIVE it,
Till from the stars above
You call down the higher justice
Revealed in the Savior's love.

National boundaries vanish,
Bigotries, hatreds cease,
Will power, force and reason
Merge in the reign of peace;

Love that so long lay dormant
Flames into flower anew;
Earth's lips have touched the Master's,
And France, thy dream comes true!

HARRY BOWLING.

For Women.

HERE IS WHAT SHE WILL WEAR.

HATS HIGHER; SKIRTS WIDER, SAYS AUTHORITY.

Plans for Coming Fashion Show Assure First Showing of Things Decreed for Easter and Early Spring Wear—Los Angeles Event Attracts Wide Attention.

"Characteristics of the incoming modes for the spring are the nipped-in waist, the wider silhouette, and the higher hat," said Alfred E. Adams, secretary of the Retail Dry Goods Merchants' Association, yesterday, speaking about the Fashion Show which will open March 2.

"The smartly-dressed women are adding height and breadth to their statue," he said. "The height is generally obtained through a huge rosette of tulle or a bunch of flowers standing upright on the top of the hat, and the greater breadth through ruffles, puffs or panniers added to the skirt."

Every incoming train now bears the precious freight which is to be used to deck out Madame Fashion's most stunning women for the Easter parade, and to deck the brilliant windows for the Fashion Show.

"It is remarkable," said Mr. Adams, "how rapidly the idea of a semiannual fashion show spread over the entire country. In fact, the demands upon our office here for directions on planning and running a fashion show grew so heavy that we had full directions, with details as to form of organization and so forth, printed, and these we issue from the office now in response to the many requests which we receive."

Mr. Adams stated that he thoroughly believes in the efficacy of the fashion show as Los Angeles merchants arrange it. "It gives a definite time," he said, "for the formal display of seasonable apparel and merchandise. It also affords the shopping public and the merchant alike a certain sense of fitness in the quantity and quality of goods shown, and it adds a considerable zest to the business."

With Easter remarkably late this year Mr. Adams stated that he believes that fashionable and well-dressed women will not wait until Easter Sunday to don their spring-like apparel. "Zephyr breezes of almost summer heat have been felt already here," he said, "and it is time now to cast off the winter garment, as Omar Khayyam declared, and prepare for the light and fluttery wearing apparel with which milady will be arrayed for the spring and summer."

Cat Thieves.

WHERE'S BONNIE REX?

Epidemic of Stealing Valuable Angora Felines Rouses Ire of Crown Hill Folk, Who Make Systematic Search of Back Yards in District.

Who is the unlawful possessor of Bonnie Rex, a thoroughbred Angora cat with an intrinsic value of $25? Bonnie has been feloniously purloined from Mrs. A. W. Gregory of No. 1224 West Fourth street.

This is but one of a series of cat-stealing incidents that have roused the ire of Crown Hill folk. Within the past three weeks numerous valuable cats, some of them thoroughbreds, and all of them household pets, have been taken from their homes along about dark. In each case the circumstances have been almost identical—but not a trace of the cat thief or thieves can be found.

The stealing of Bonnie Rex was the final infliction that caused concerted action. The women who have suffered these losses have banded together to make a close search of the entire district. They have detoured through alleys and gazed over back fences in the hope of seeing their beloved tabbies sunning themselves in some alien yard. They have questioned the peddlers and offered rewards to the small boys if they find the missing cats, but so far not a clew of those missing has been uncovered.

Crown Hill cats are now kept carefully at night, but the search for the abs[illegible] still continues.

ADVERTISING IS PROGRESS.

Manager of Great Citrus Body Speaks on Results.

Creates Demand and Assures Sales, He Declares.

Lauds Washington as Pioneer in the Business.

Advertising principles as the solvent of some of the marketing problems of California farmers were discussed before the Advertising Club at the Clark yesterday by General Manager Powell of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange.

The programme also included recognition of the day's significance through an address by former Chief Deputy District Attorney Ford on "Washington Delivering the Goods." G. Herb Palin also told of his trip East to deliver the club's $1000 convention-city cup to the Poor Richard Club of Philadelphia. E. W. Miller pleased the clubmen with two songs.

Mr. Powell outlined briefly the growth of the citrus industry of California, stating that in the last decade the production has increased 100 per cent., while the increase for the previous decade was 300 per cent., and three decades back the increase was 250 per cent. These figures were given by way of illustrating his point that here in California is a $200,000,000 industry that has no means for controlling its output, while production is increasing every year. The present acreage of lemons, Mr. Powell stated, is sufficient, when all trees reach bearing age, to supply the entire present demand of the United States and Canada, and leave a large surplus for export and practically the same might be said of oranges.

NATIONAL SALES.

After describing the manner in which the farmers of California have placed many of their marketing problems before the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, Mr. Powell stated that this great organization—the largest of its kind in the world—thoroughly believes that the business of creating a demand for California products must have good advertising as a basis for any success it may achieve.

"We cannot depend upon the retailer to create a demand for citrus fruits," said Mr. Powell. "The retailer is largely in the position of an order taker, and the real demand that must take care of our uncontrolled and growing output must come from national advertising, which co-ordinates the wholesaler and the retailer. With this idea, we have been advertising nationally for years, and this year we are spending about $350,000 in our advertising budget."

In commenting on the success of the "Sunkist" advertising campaign to increase the demand for California oranges and lemons, Mr. Powell suggested that there is now an opportunity to make known to the world the delicious and nourishing qualities of the California ripe olive and the increased production of figs and dates in the next few years will call for similar campaigns. The advertising of any farm product cannot be undertaken successfully by individuals or in any matter other than by associations, he stated, and in the matter of organizing its farmers for marketing products, California has made more progress than any other State in the Union.

BIG BUSINESS.

The California Fruit Growers' Exchange, Mr. Powell stated, is doing a business of $20,000,000 to $25,000,000 a year, on a co-operative basis, and with no capital other than good will. During the last ten years, he stated, the association has done business aggregating $165,000,000, and its losses in that time have been less than $8000.

A series of charts were presented showing where the money goes. One chart indicates that in $1 spent for oranges the fruit on the tree is worth 40.3 cents, harvesting costs 1.9 cents, packing, 6 cents; freight and refrigeration, 17.6 cents; selling costs 1.3 cents, while the jobber gets 8.1 cents, and the retailer gets 24.9 cents.

G. Herb Palin urged the members of the club to use their influence towards a policy of building Southern California for permanence. Bungalows, he stated, are artistic, cheap and often appropriate, and certainly typical of the Southland. "Here, nature did her very best, it's up to us to do the rest," was his advice.

Mr. Ford referred to W[illegible] as a pioneer in advertising, when his advertising work, [illegible] of correspondence to ascertain wants and needs of the various onies. This spirit, he stated, have made the Father of [illegible] try a valuable member of [illegible] tising club of today.

EVENING STANDARD

They say that during a lull in a recent long artillery duel in Flanders some British officers put the following notice on a blackboard which they held above their trench: "A sporting offer! We'll stop straffing you for the rest of the day if you chuck us over ten tins of Sanatogen."

An Incident in the Trenches

A stray bit of war news—in no way affecting the issues at stake, yet of appealing human interest.

Ten tins of Sanatogen and no fighting for the rest of the day! It sounds grotesque until we remember that there do exist certain commodities which knew no boundaries in time of peace and which even now—amid the fury and bitterness of war—serenely hold their own, still appreciated by friend and foe alike. Sanatogen is one of these.

As a food-tonic for bodies and nerves worn down through the stress and strain of work and care, Sanatogen has been popular these seventeen years in every European country and far beyond. So it was but natural that at this time it should play its part in helping restore the strength and energy of those wounded on the field of combat, and that it should be welcomed even at the very front of battle—where the need for a real tonic is great even with the strongest.

And this same confidence in Sanatogen's help, as expressed by the soldier at the front and the physician in the hospital, will be yours, too, after you have learned for yourself what Sanatogen can do.
